To make a class of boring facts unusually enjoyable and interesting can be a tough job for a history teacher. But Charlie Douglas, master of facial expressions, manages to arouse the students' interest purely by his presence and a few choice words. He has a unique ability to relate to the kids on their own level. His flair for quick and witty phrases includes "Go suck hot lead" and other delights. United Fund Week counts on him every year for chop-a-thons and his clever use of sarcasm. Even his fellow teachers gather for the show. He and his confidence influence those around him, especially his students. He shows us he cares. We dedicate the 1976 Galleon to Mr. Charles Douglas.

ACTIVITIES

Activities is a hodge-podge melting pot of thundering drumbeats, kooky contests and get down boogies. Nothing appeals more to tired students than the 45 minute break provided by the pep rally's fantasy world of bizarre skits, swiveling hips and overpowering sounds. Lunch-time students clamor about the stars of the hot air antics of the bubble-gum blowing contest while everyone cheers when the last human sardine pops out to safety in the VW-stuff 'em in competition. This year's students have added a new act to lunch-time entertainment as some of them joined fellow twinkle-toes, Dr. Godshall, and Mrs. Breeding, in a little dancing to lunch bands. But of course this was only warm-up for the big-time boogieing of the formal and semi-formal dances.

Girls in white satin and guys in white suits hustled out onto the South Coast Plaza dancefloor to begin the beat of the Bicentennial Boogie. Bends and twists and sways and snaps exploded to the mesmerizing thunder of Mizzouri Foxx while multi-colored light-sparkles strobed above the boogiers. Then the band swayed into a more mellow mood as Homecoming Queen, Brynn Dubrow, with her escort waltzed across the dancefloor in flowing formal. The grand stomping finale surrounded the dance partners in eerie dry ice fog and hypnotic drumbeats as Harbor High closed it's 1975-76 Homecoming Dance in a frenzy of flushed cheeks and racing heartbeats.

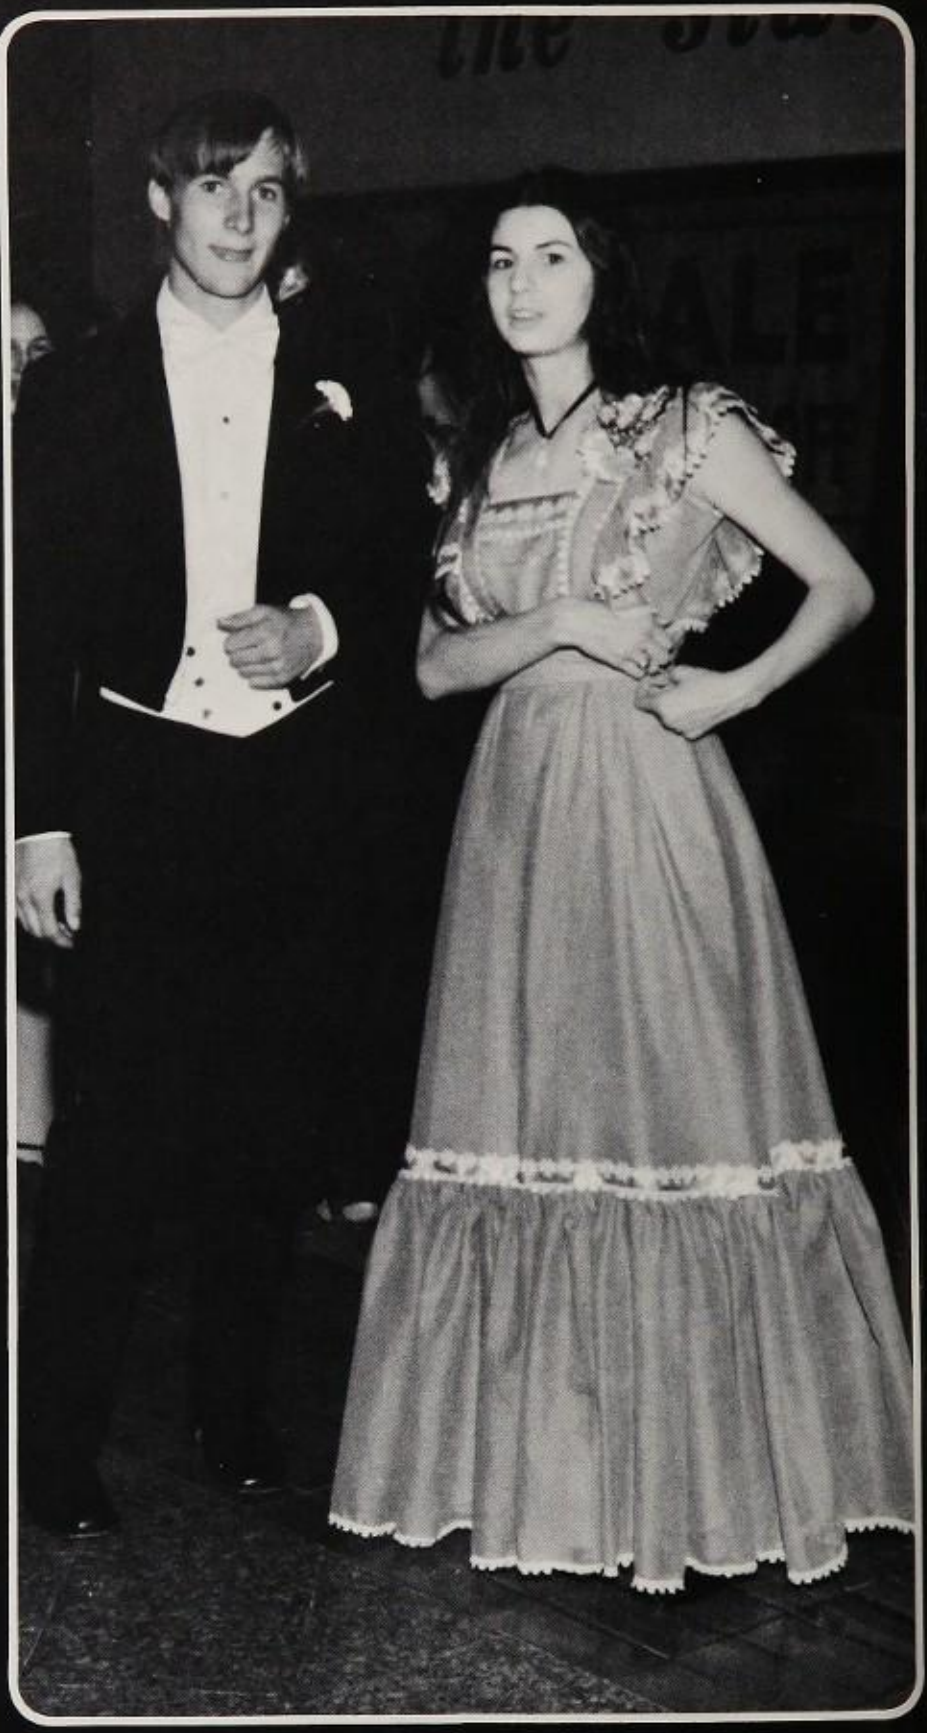
CHRISTMAS DANCE

Winter is a season of whiteness, Santa Claus, jingle bells and the Christmas Dance. Girls had bought long dresses and guys had made reservations at Newport's best restaurants. But tickets were scarce and only a ticket would allow admittance.

The theme "White Fantasy" draped the Anaheim Hyatt House. Ivy covered stairways garnished with babys breath adorned the room of Christmas trees and ornaments. The band, Black Fox, played all night for the dancers.

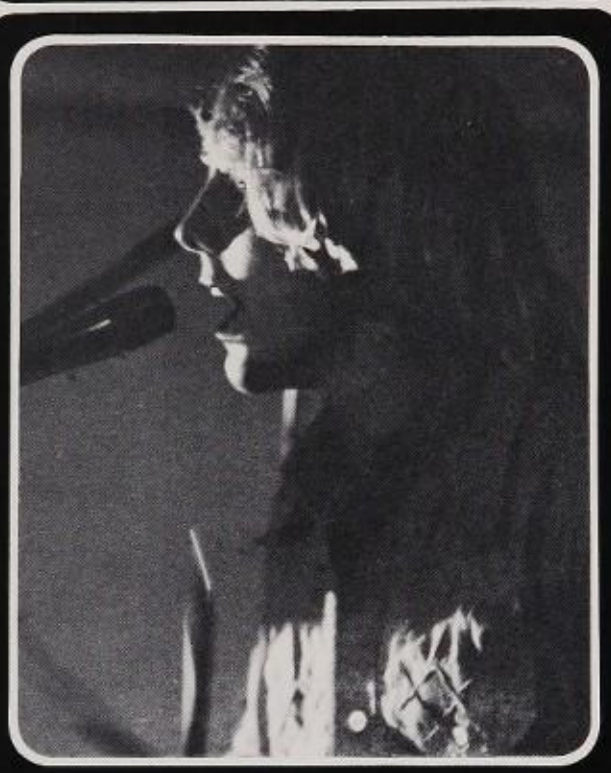
The dance was a success and Girls' League was responsible. A new idea was tried out, a Christmas King and princes were crowned. Elected by Girls' League, Kevin Wilks ruled over the dance floor for the evening. His court included Senior princes Bill Wilkenson and Chuck Bullington, Junior prince Dave Roum, Sophomore prince Jeff Piaskowski, and Freshman Jeff Fults.



NEWPORT JAM

Newport Jam: March 13 at the O.C. Fairgrounds at 8 pm
Featured group: Kings Road
Attendance: 1100

Kings Road, a hot and popular local band, played for 3 ½ hours to hundreds of people in a dance sponsored by the Chinese Club. Tickets were two dollars per person with five percent going towards their annual journey to Chinatown in San Francisco. The band is made up of Chip Bitteti, Jimi Helfrich, Doug Weber and Bob Williams.



aqua show

The 25th annual Harbor Aqua Show was presented November 1, 1975 by the Girls' P.E. Department for the public. The theme was Walt Disney's Water World and was shown through 15 different skits. The show was presented in the Olympic Pool on campus.

Difficult stunts performed by Liz Pattison and Michele Howlett highlighted the show.

Donna Celiberti did most of the choreography for the show. Donna is a member of an advanced synchronized swim club and has much experience in water ballet. Her help aided in making this another outstanding show.

dance production

Over 150 girls participated in the annual Girl's P.E. Dance Production Show. The show was in the Newport Harbor Auditorium on January 12,1976. As in the past, Mr. Frank Wright's advanced dance class presented many fine dances in addition to the girls in regular P.E. dance classes.

Some of the dances included: Funeral, Kitten on the Keys, Get it On, Babies, Computer, Typewriter, Jet Set, Spanish Flea, The Duet Firebird, Greensleeves, Saloon-Kansas City, When to Leave, Time Cube, Fire, Dogpatch, Fins, Temptation, and Coastin'. As usual the show was a big success.

tars and stars

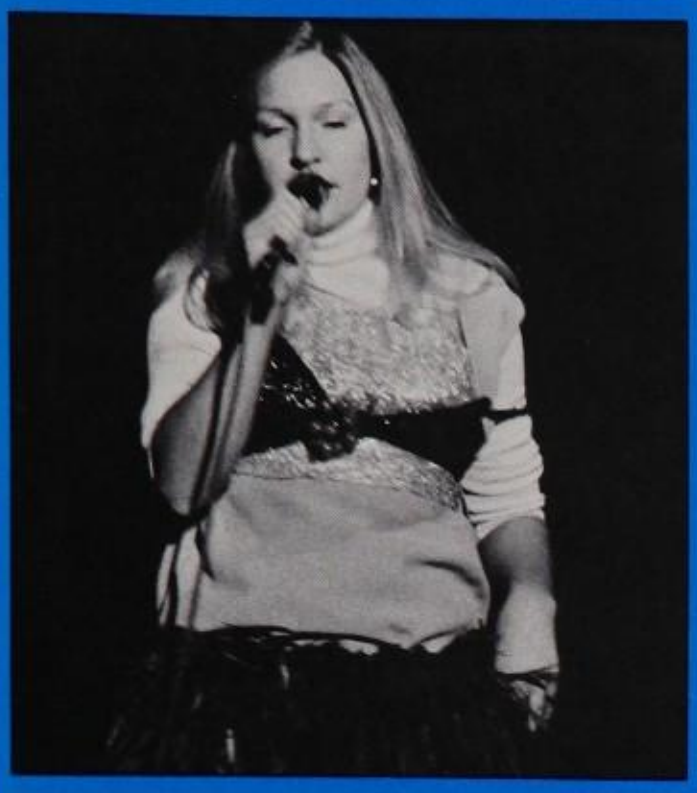
Many talents previously hidden under wraps, came out of the woodwork and presented themselves to the community in the talent show, Tars and Stars. Tars and Stars is presented annually by the Junior Class to raise Prom funds.

This years performance ran two successive nights, March 19 and 20. The curtain time was set at 8 pm, and the auditorium was full of admiring parents and school friends.

The two hour show presented about 20 acts with 60 participants. There was a variety of acts which ranged from comedy routines to singing, dancing and instrumental performances which were featured in the show.

Mr. Robert Wentz, the show coordinator felt the show had "things the likes of which we never had before."

the mad show



The Senior Class Play did not become a thing of the past but possibly the start of a new tradition. After last years mishap, the Class of 1976 decided not to follow their predecessors and revive the Senior Class' annual performance.

With legs dangling in midair and Mad faces plastered on back-drops, the stage was set for this years performance "The Mad Show." There was never a dull moment as Senior Drew Lawler madly rode his motorcycle onto the stage, and the cast of twenty Seniors performed skits written by the writers of Mad Magazine.

Responsible for the direction of the Senior Class Play was the Drama Supervisor Mr. Joe Swift. Mr. Swift and cast felt that there should be no dominating characters so that everyone would have equal participation in this years performance.

SPIRIT OF '76

In 1976 Harbor shook off the apathy of the late 60's and early 70's as it's students began to once again glow with school spirit and clap to the beat of pep rally cheers and spoofs. However, the awakened audience hushed while flag twirlers, cheerleaders, songleaders and ID squadders took to center stage in the gym and glided through their synchronized routines. JOUR THRO THE Spirit of 76. Liberty. Freedom to Succeed. Freedom to Fail. Individualism. Initiative. During the past months this Bicentennial barrage has clogged our gutters with star-spangled flotsam, choked our airwaves with inane animations of 1776 scenarios and funneled our thinking into tinsel trappings. Rather than compete with these high sounding trumpets of Madison Ave., rather than reduce our forefathers' bravery to recitations of dead parchment, rather than exalt pioneer initiative from the Temple of the Abstract, we of the Galleon staff wish to give this rhetoric immediate and concrete meaning to you by showing how the pioneer initiative of colonial cobblestone is the same pioneer initiative which built your home from the sandbar muck of old Newport. These old pictures capture the dreams of early Newport, and the familiar details of the new pictures breathe the reality of those dreams. Human dreams and efforts in concrete form; that is the story of 1776-1976.

NEY UGH PAST

1&2-The narrow peninsula ocean beach at 19th street in 1930. Today, the beach is considerably wider and Fashion Island towers over the city in the background. 3&4-This photograph/drawing postcard of 1910, portrays the Balboa Peninsula as seen from the Pavillion toward Bay Island. Today the view is that of a commercialized bayfront and private residents on Bay Island. 5&6-The Main Street scene of Balboa in 1911. The Pavilion was a main sight for the first passengers of the Red Car on July 4, 1906. Today mature trees hide the Pavilion from Main Street, but it is still a landmark which enhances the charm of old Balboa. 7&8-The back ferry, built in 1921 was a passenger ferry that pushed an occasional automobile or the local school coach across the bay. The Balboa ferry still operates today with a new capacity of three automobiles and fifty people. 9&10-The entrance to Newport Bay as it appeared in 1914. The view today seen from Little Corona shows the Harbor entrance with 2 jetties and a complete residential community on Balboa. 11&12-The oceanfront scene, west of McFadden's Warf as it appeared in 1895. Today's oceanfront scene is much different with old Hotels being replaced by duplexes. 13&14-McFadden's Warf in the 1890's. The Newport Pier as it appears today after reconstruction due to the '39 hurricane. 15&16-Aerial shots of Newport in the early 30's and 70's show the development of one of Southern California's favorite sun sports.

PERFORMING ARTS

The Galleon of '76 solemnly dedicates this section to all of the actresses, the actors, the drumbeaters, the flag twirlers, the second tubas, and the other assorted hams who comprise the Performing Arts Department. Newport Harbor would not be the same place without the glassy-eyed thespians stumbling through the halls mumbling something like "... To be or not to be. That's the ... oops! ... the McCoy." And how can one have a half-time show, or a parade, or a pep rally without that bright group of budding Bachs and Beethovens, otherwise known as Newport Harbor's Marching Band; not to mention the ID Squad and the Flag Twirlers who dance, prance, and wiggle through their routines at pep rallies and competitions. They may not be perfect hams, but they're still working on it.

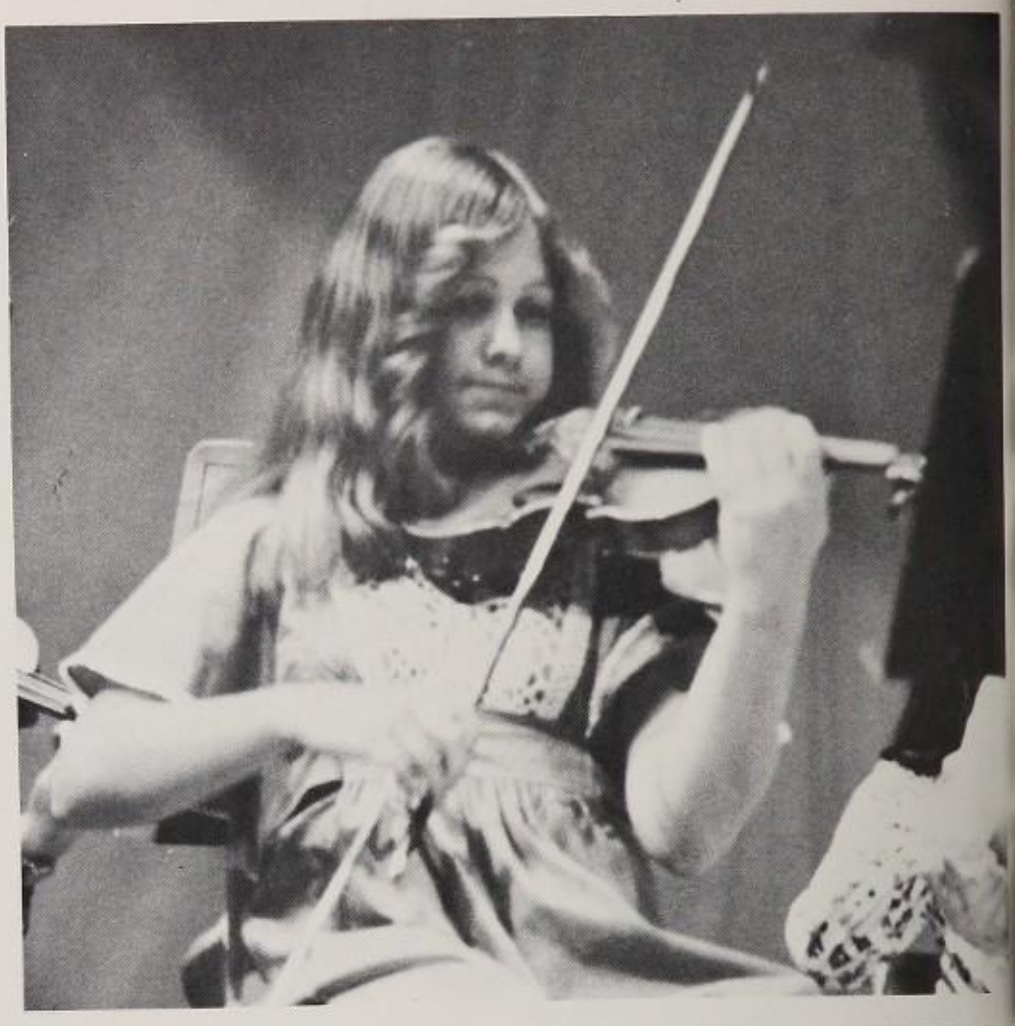
RHAPSODY IN BLUE AND GRAY...

BAND

Keeping up the superior Sailor tradition of fine musical quality, the Instrumental students under the direction of Mr. Richard England, did it again. Mr. England feels that these students have presented some of the best concert material in the recent years. Mr. England reasons that because "they're marching less and concentrating more on concert tours," that this year has made it possible for them to have the success.

Exquisitive performances were also presented by the vocal department of Newport Harbor. Under the leadership of Mrs. Suzanne Haig, the vocal groups combined their unique talents in producing harmonious tones which were enjoyable and entertainable to our community.

Yearly performances by both groups included the All-School Christmas Scholarship, Instrumental Spring Concert and the Midshipmen Concert. These performances raised money for financial allowances for the many tours in which the groups performed.



WHEN THE TARS GO

Left, right, left! Chino and Colton band reviews were keen enough to perceive a talented band when they saw one and awarded Newport Harbor for their excellent performances. This outstanding group of musicians was advised by Mr. Richard England. The Drum Major was Steve Lane.

Headed by Mrs. Cindy Collins and led by Admiral Stacey Bodenhoefer, the Sailorette Drill Team participated in many competitions doing very well. In addition to the Drill Team, Auxiliary also participated in parades and home football games. After football season, they continued to practice for further competitions, such as the State Championships in which the Flag Twirlers were awarded the honor of State Champions.

The Band, Drill Team and Auxiliary have all been working very hard this year. The Band practiced two hours a day during first and second period. Drill Team and Auxiliary have contributed as much time in their preparation towards their successful performances.

MARCHING ON . . . . .

THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER

November was the month, the auditorium was the place and the first drama production was "The Man Who Came to Dinner." This play has been presented each decade since 1950 by the Drama Department. The show ran for three successful nights, November 5,6 and 8. Over 30 actors are involved in the cast with Bob Keller playing the lead. Other major roles were played by Sue Deverich, Phil Phillips, Mark Rucker, Blake Schroeder, Tracy Schutt, Mike Whitehead, and Scott Golub. More than 20 people were involved in the stage crew.

THE PHYSICIAN INSPITE OF HIMSELF

The 1600's was the setting for the second drama production of the year, "The Physician in Spite of Himself." This play was a good old fashion slap-stick comedy. The cast consisted of only nine members. They were Greg Dawson, Terri Felde, Blair Gust, Phil Phillips, Richard Rodriquez, Leslie Rucker, Dana Van Diver and Mark Whitehead. In an attempt to get more student involvement in the production the play was student directed. The directors were Nova Ball and Mark Rucker. The show ran for only two nights, December 5 and 6. There were two showings each night at 7 and 9 p.m.

.... GUYS AND DOLLS ....

"When you see a guy reach for stars in the sky, you can bet that he's doing it for some doll", coined the theme for the 1976 Spring musical, "Guys and Dolls". The three act production was presented May 5,6 and 7 by the drama department in the auditorium.

Overall, lead characters were Mark Rucker, Nova Ball, Chris Sippl, and Richard Rodriquez, with drama teacher Joe Swift directing the production.

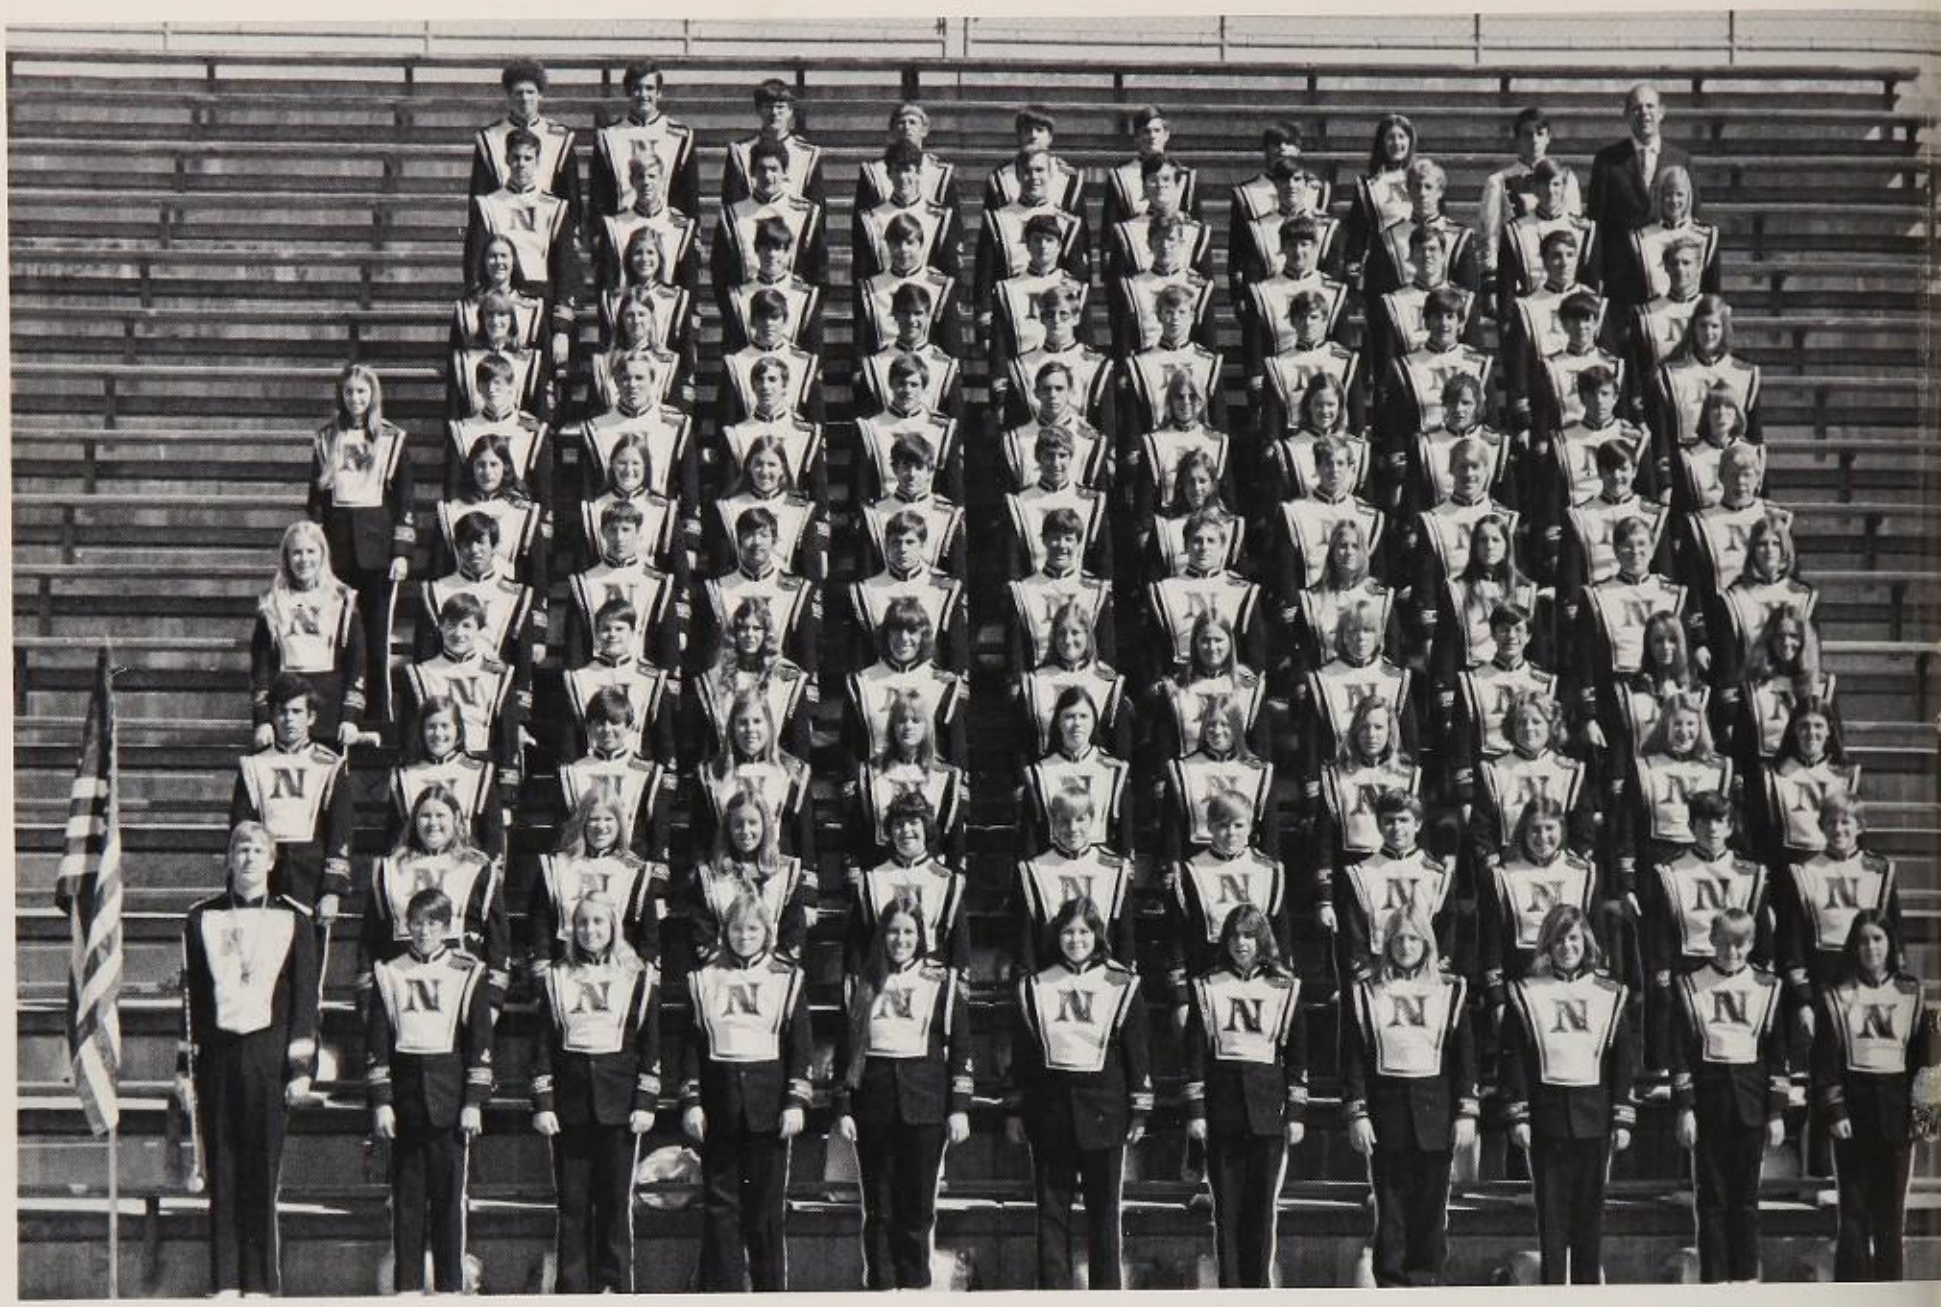
Written by Frank Loesser, the musical told a fable of Broadway. Famous tunes from the score included: "Luck Be a Lady," "I've Never Been in Love Before," and "Sit Down, You're Rockin the Boat."

FESTIVALS

In addition to preparing the plays, the Drama Department has been very busy competing with other schools. Making the finals in a recent drama competition were the entries from Harbor in the group pantomime event and the special events category. The special events entries placed second.

The drama competition took place November 15 at Fairfax High School in Los Angeles. The performers from Newport were the students in drama instructor Joe Swift's second period advanced drama class.

Due to the fine direction along with the excellent performances of the cast, Harbor was able to place second out of 71 schools.



SAILOR MARCHING BAND

Besides playing at football games, concerts, and festivals, the Newport Harbor Marching Band entered numerous competitions and did well in all of them. The Band also hosted the annual Lobster Bake Parade. Over 100 members proudly displayed their talents, representing Newport Harbor High School.

Another performing group are the Midshipmen. Specializing in jazz music, the Midshipmen played at Yacht Club openings, concerts and are available for dances.

Naturally we can never forget the Pep Band. This enthusiastic group of musicians performed exquisitely at the basketball games and also provided music and drumbeat at the Pep rallies.

Displaying unforgettable talent is the Orchestra. These musical performers participate in concerts such as the Mid-Winter and Scholarship concerts. They also performed in a festival at the end of the year and traveled to Elementary Schools for dazzling performances. All musicians are under the direction of Mr. Richard England.

SAILORETTE DRILL TEAM

Grabbing the eyes of spectators during the halftime shows with regimental precision, under the watchful eye of Commodore Stacy Bodenhoefer is Harbor's Drill Team. They have performed in various parades throughout Southern California. Due to such dedication, Drill Team won second place in the Colton Parade and also competed in the Chino Parade and the Pacific State Band Review. During first quarter, the girls practiced first period and when football season ended, they practiced Thursday nights for two hours and during summer once a week.

Of course we also have performing along with the Drill Team, the Auxiliary. This devoted marching team made finalist at the Saddleback competition and also competed in the state championship at Arroyo in March. The girls also made a trip to San Diego in May. Both of the marching precision groups are under the leadership of advisor Mrs. Cindy Collins.

THE SINGERS

CHANTELLES

Harmonious music is displayed by the performing group, the Chantelles, which consists of twelve members. CHORALLE

Unique talent describes the performers of Newport Harbor's Choralle. Consisting of over thirty members, Choralle has displayed their many talents by participating in various concerts such as the Spring and Christmas Concerts. They also attended their annual Idlewild retreat and were responsible for the production of "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

THE ACTORS

DRAMA

Adding spice to the Drama Department of Harbor are the talented performers of Drama Club. Under the direction of Joe Swift, this gifted company of actors and actresses are responsible for the delightful and captivating plays put on during the year.

Covering the nation is a drama oriented organization known as the Thespian Society. Harbor's Thespians are under the presidency of Sue Deverich. Senior Pam Franklin has been honored with the position of President of the entire California Thespian Society, while junior Mark Rucker is the Treasurer. The Thespians have traveled to London at Easter and New York at Christmas and this year are attending a nationwide convention at Muncie, Indiana.

THESPIANS

Totally displaying their creative talents behind the scenes is the hardworking stage crew. They meet everyday at fifth period and provide the scenery, sets, and lighting seen in the performances.

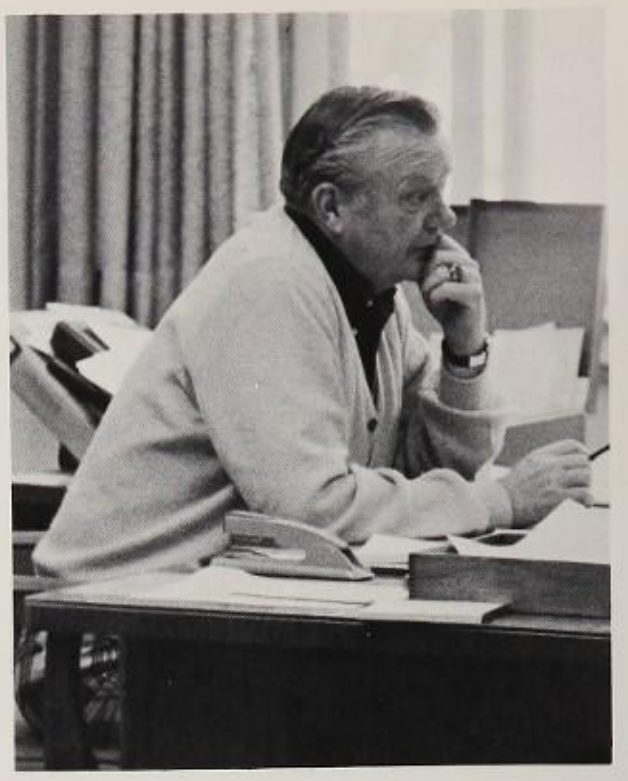
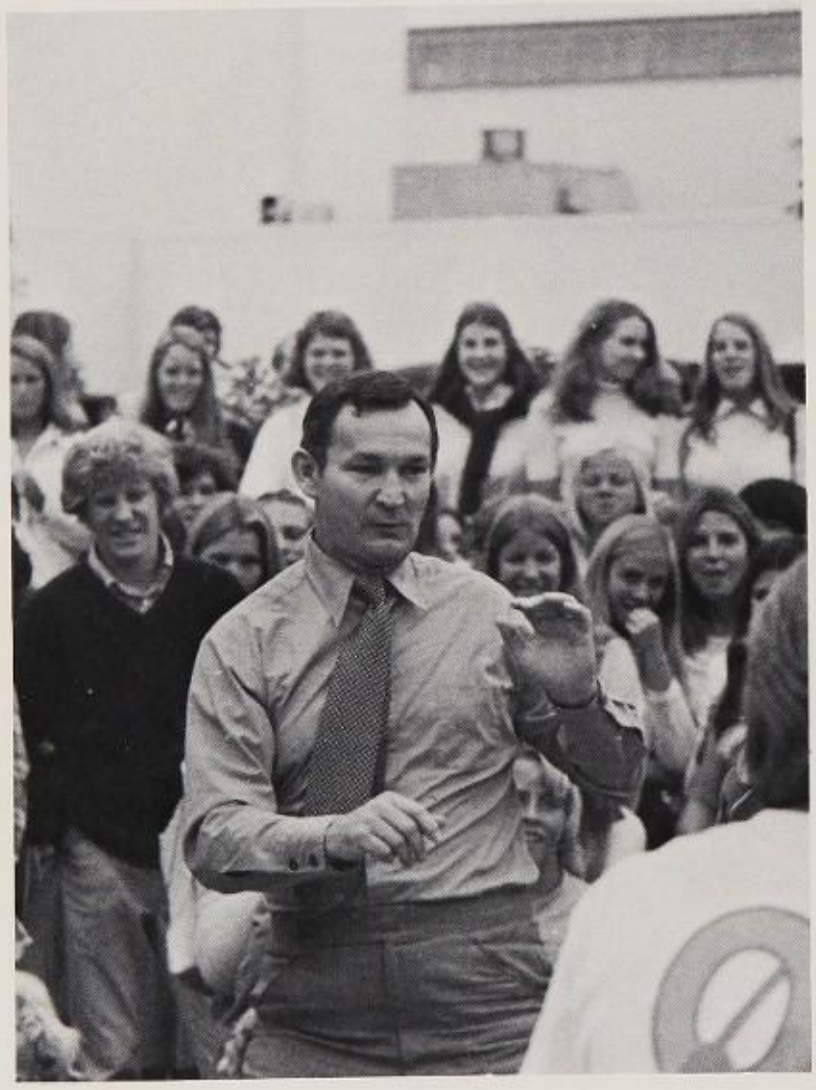
FACULTY

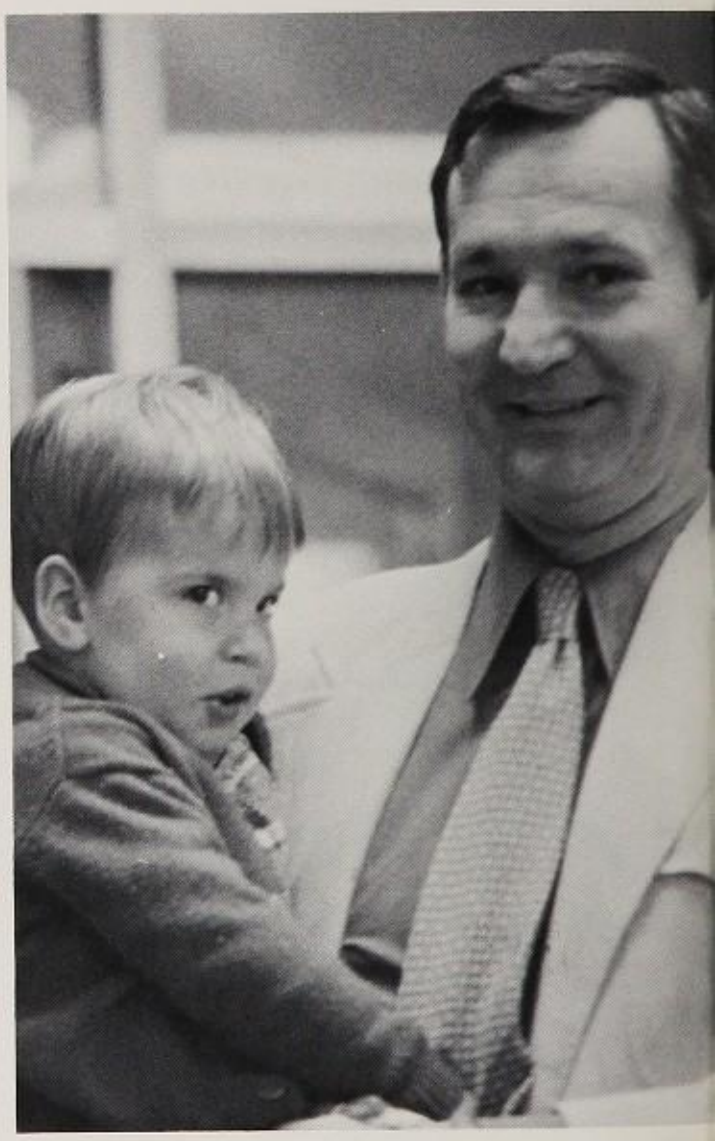
This year's Galleon hopes to present the teacher's feelings about the students they teach. In an effort to express the faculty's opinion, teachers were asked: What, in your opinion, is a teacher? And, what does teaching mean to you?

Each faculty member was also asked the following questions: What subject or class are you presently teaching? What career would you have chosen outside of teaching? Who do you admire most? And, what is your favorite pastime?

ADMINISTRATION



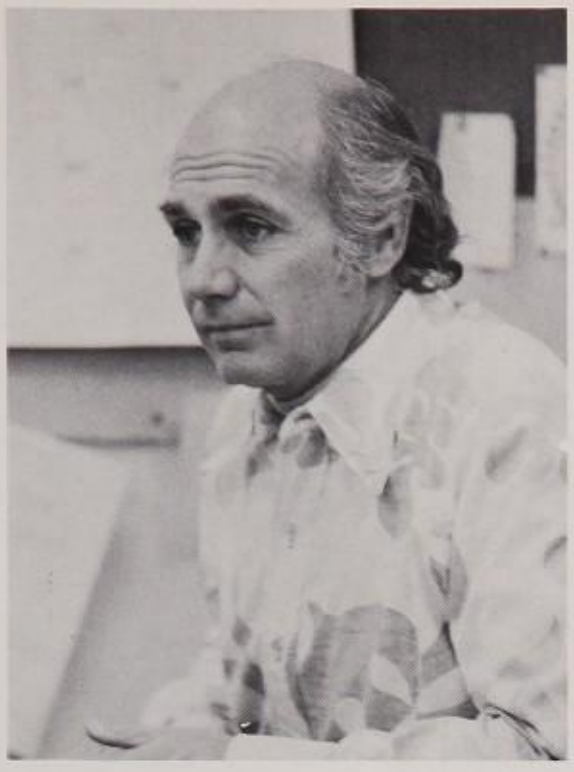


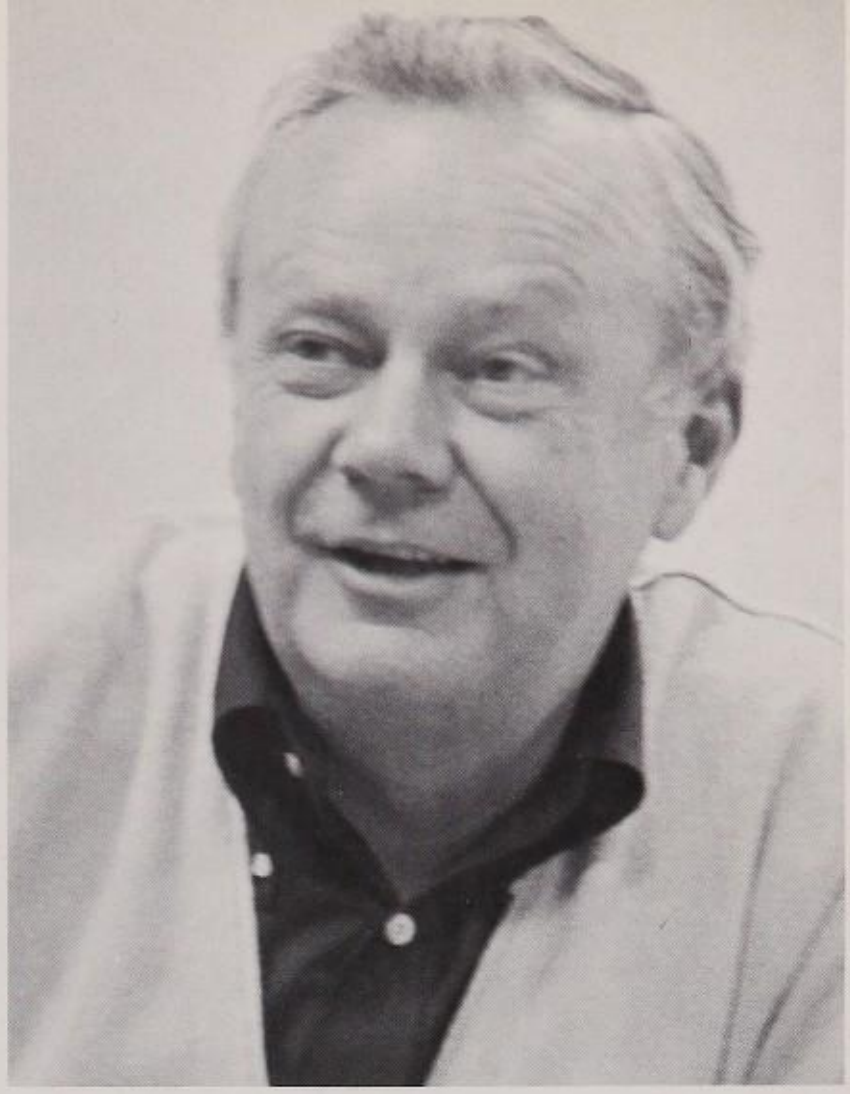


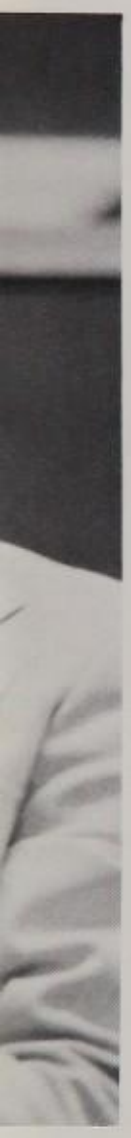
The man at the top of Newport's administration is the principal, Dr. Godshall. His job is an endless meeting with the assistant principals, department chairmen and teachers to see that the students progress.

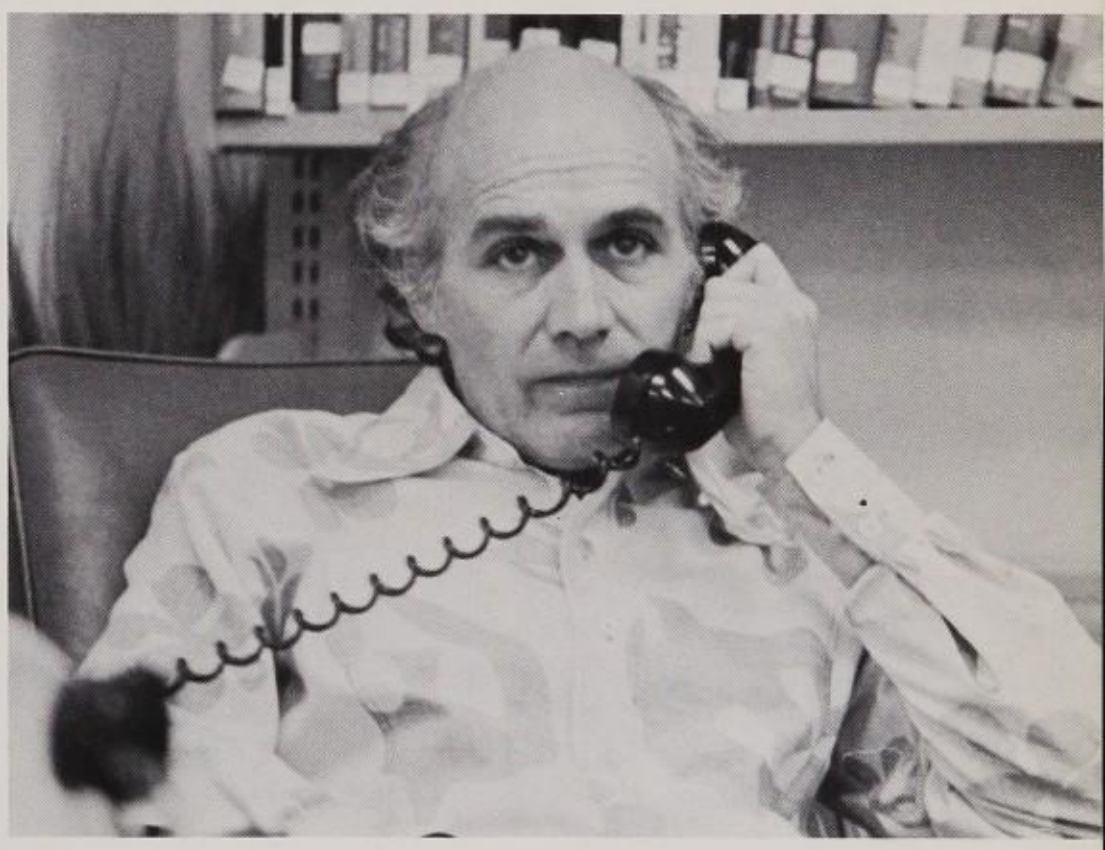
In addition to his other responsibilities he hires teachers, counselors, maintenance people and secretaries. Dr. Godshall feels that the better the personnel, the better the students.

To relax, Dr. Godshall often plays football and basketball. He has two sons, Chris, five and Freddie, three.









Mr. King has the role of Assistant Principal in charge of operations. He deals with the students on close terms. It could be a hectic job but with the help of a cooperative student body, a lot of the work is reduced. Attendance and discipline are his territories as well as managing the school in other ways such as the budget, and the custodial staff.

Mrs. Breeding, the Assistant Principal in charge of student services, lives and breathes enthusiasm when she surrounds herself with activities which will benefit students. Being the all-and-end-all of student registration, this human sirocco is one of the first administrators to have personal contact with new students. Mrs. Breeding is most appreciated for her deep concern for students.

Dr. Tom Wilson is the coordinator of the interdisciplinary courses. His official title is Assistant Principal in charge of curriculum and planning. His concerns lie in the direction of faculty, staff, students and people in general. He assists those students who cannot readily adapt to the average learning situation.

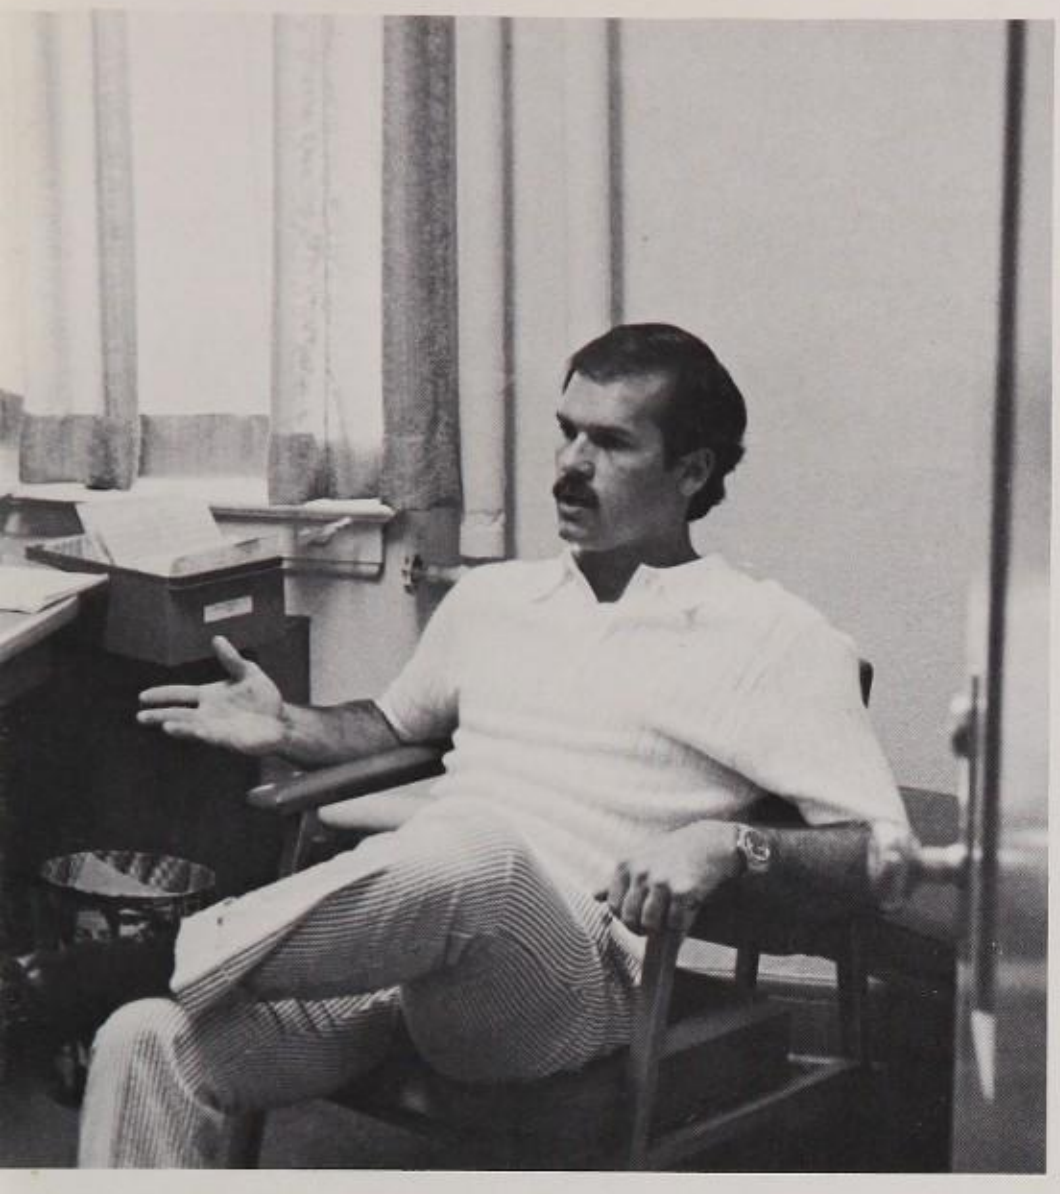
4. Mary Lou Stal
5. Bill Straw
6. Barbara McWhirter

Vickie Dendinger teaches Study Skills and Tutor Corps in addition to counseling. She majored in English and received her Masters' Degree in Psychology/Counseling. However, Mrs. Dendinger stated she would like to study Theology. The person she admires most is C. S. Tervis.



Michael Di Donato is a new member of this year's counseling staff. He came to Harbor after teaching at Mariners Elementary School. He majored in pyschological çounseling at Chapman College and Cal State Fullerton.

"Time is the wisest counselor" according to Mr. Tom Hays. Mr. Hays would have majored in Business had he not become a counselor. The person he admires most is Joe Fox.

Counselor Mary Lou Stal is instrumental in aiding seniors in their college career planning dilemmas. Mrs. Stal would have sought a Music background had it not been counseling. "Besides", said Mrs. Stal, "I like teenagers for some obscure reason".

Had Mr. Bill Straw not become a counselor, he would have sought out a career involving Physical Therapy. The person he admires most is his wife.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Executive Council of Newport Harbor had a busy and productive year trying to involve the student body in many varied activities. Two major events were the Homecoming Dance and Spirit Week. Also, throughout the year, a wide variety of days, like Red, White and Blue, were organized activities to bring out student spirit. As in the past apathy prevailed, but less of it was present.

ASB President- Gordon Adams; Vice President- Suzanne Aubert; Secretary- Lucy DeMocskonyi; Treasurer- Theresa Miller; Publicity- Tami Smith; Pep Commissioner- Kay Sheppard; Campus Commissioner- Eileen Harrington; Curriculum Commissioner- Amy Menkes; Representative- Greg Dawson; Chief Justice- Diane Seng.

ABC

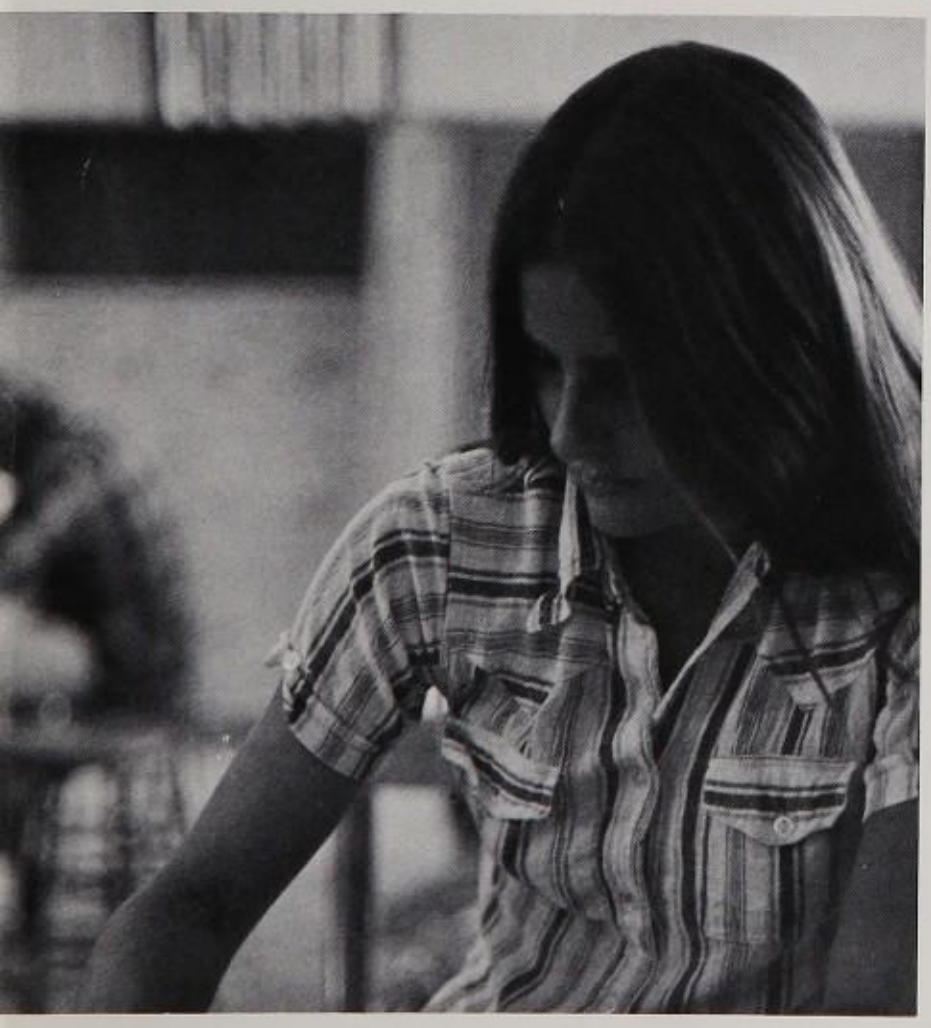
Least it be forgotten the hallowed halls of Newport Harbor High School were erected for the purpose of education and not entertainment. Though still reeling from the shocking reality of this revelation, teachers and students at Newport have followed the proper procedures in triplicate and have conjured up a scholastic smorgasboard which (hopefully) caters to any and every sort of student interest or commitment. Members of the Play-Do patrol in ceramics mold faceless clay into touchable symbols of individual pride and accomplishment while the 'hardline' eggheads attack the world with a whirlwind of shiny SR-50's and thumbworn thesaurus'. Some students enjoy the increased discipline and introspection provided by the Advanced Placement Calculus and English programs while other students prefer the casual, elastic structure of the Newport Plan and Serendipity. But, no more of this hot air; leaf through the following pages and remember those wonderful moments you spent with polynomials, pygmies and poster paint.

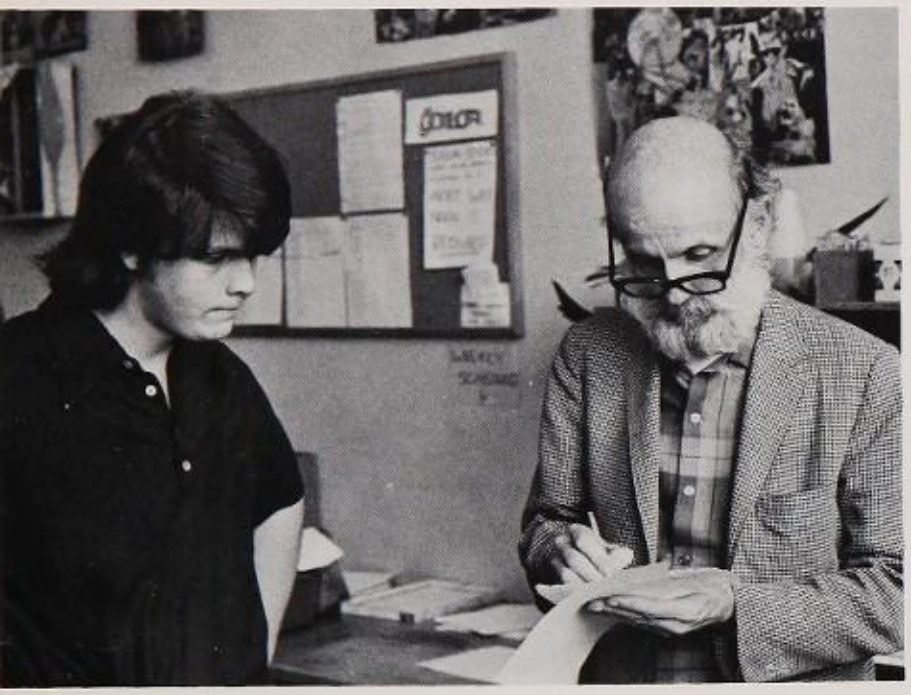
ART

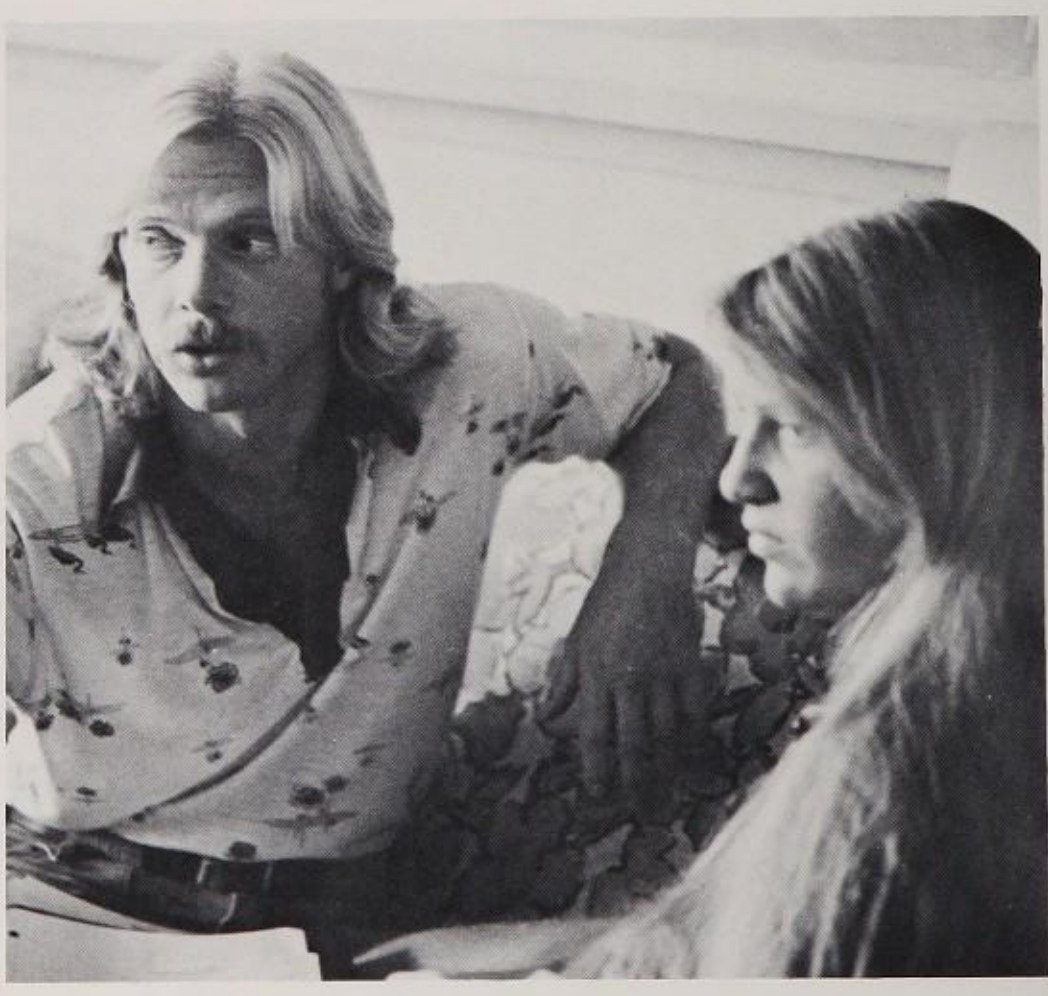
Pick a medium you love to work in, and chances are that the Art Department had a course in it! In the broad spectrum of courses the students had a chance to express their creativity in the medium which suited them best.

The Spring Art Show, which filled the Social Hall, attracted members from the whole community as well as students, faculty, and parents. Many fine examples of pottery and clay sculptures were sold before the week long show was closed. Jewelry, in precious and semi-precious metals, displayed the emphasis on good design as well as original use of materials.

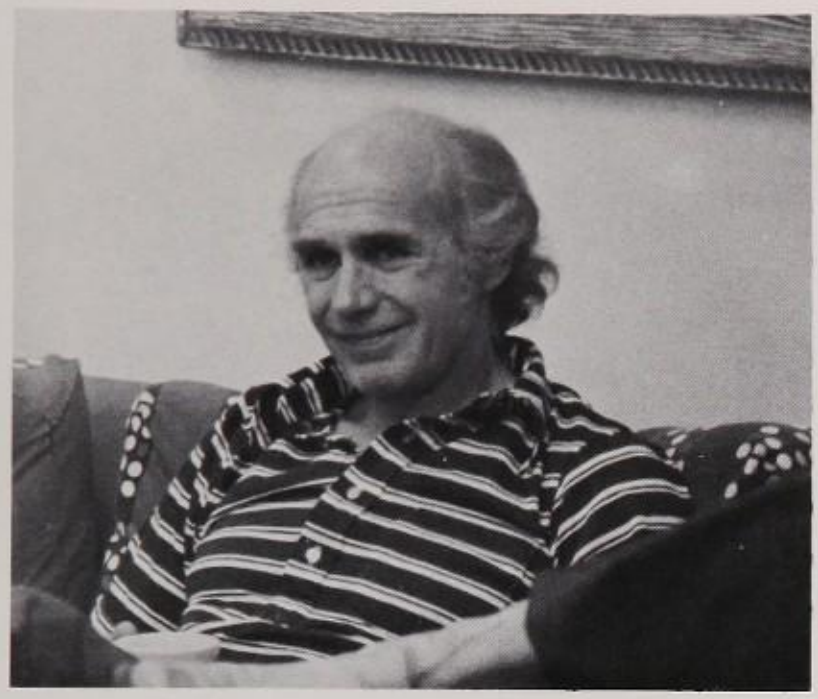
Interpretive drawings, paintings, etchings, and lithographs lined the walls, as well as stunning silk screened fabrics.







ALTERNATE ED.



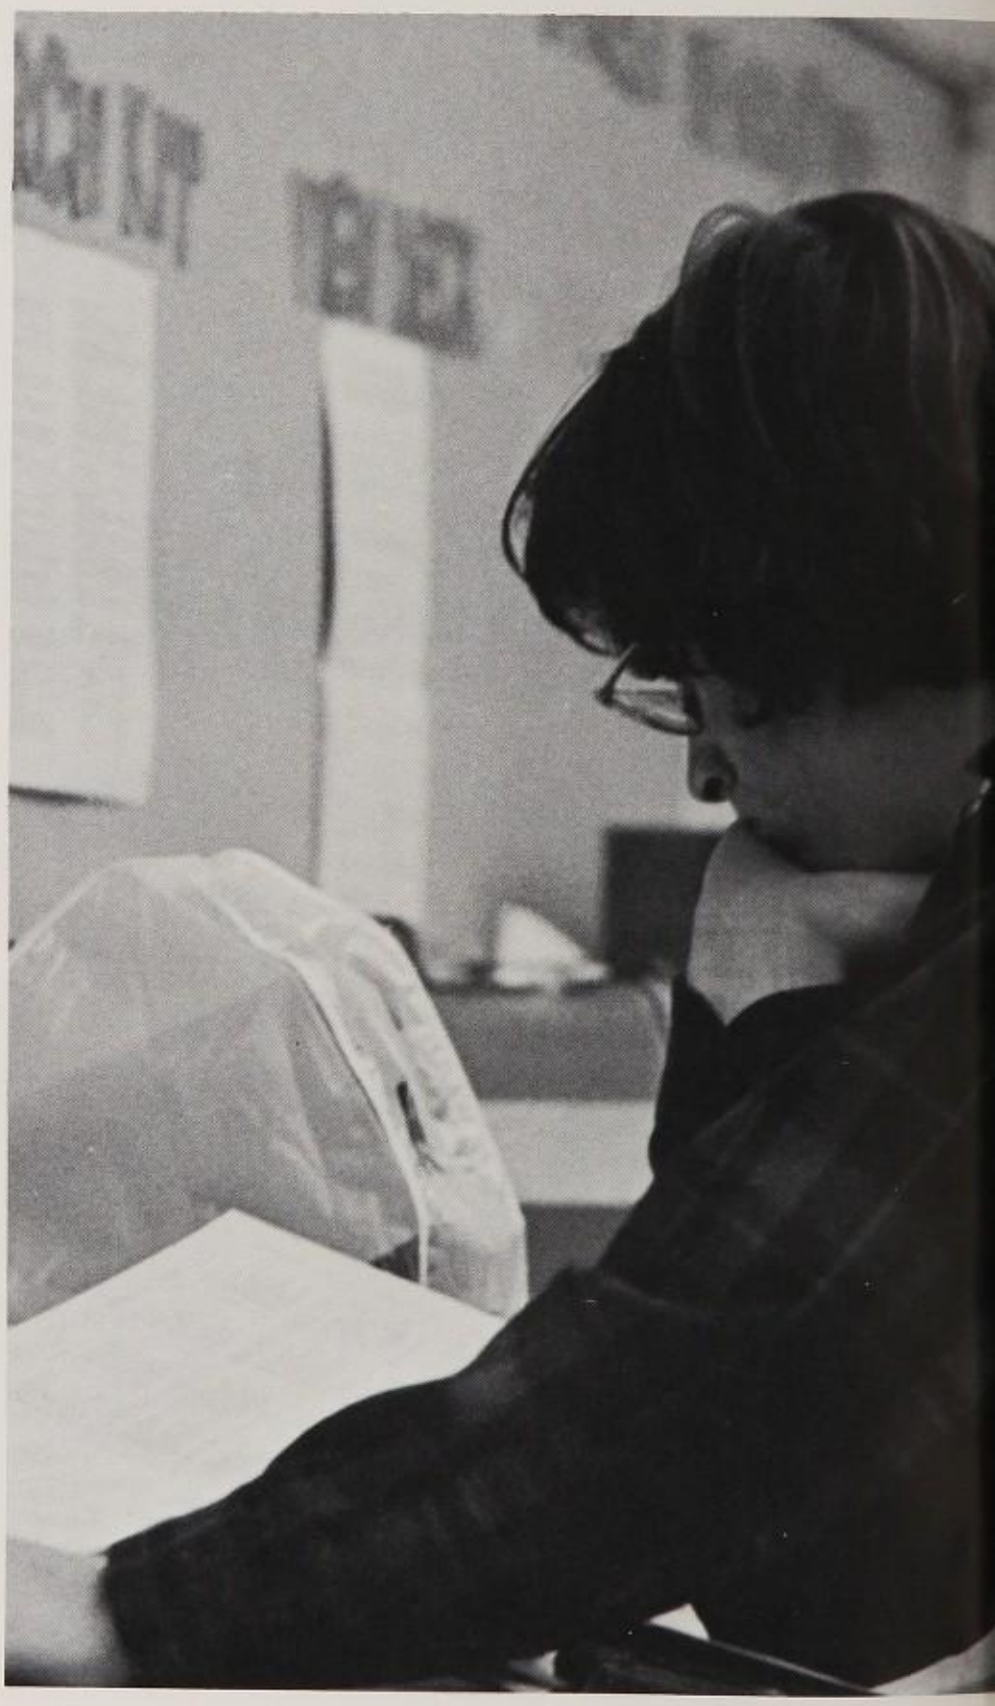
Alternate Education to many students meant the easy way out. However, the interdisciplinary classes were not party sessions full of ping-pong and pop corn. The department was designed for the purpose of furnishing a less structured and more relaxed learning atmosphere for the student who could not work in the structured high school classroom.

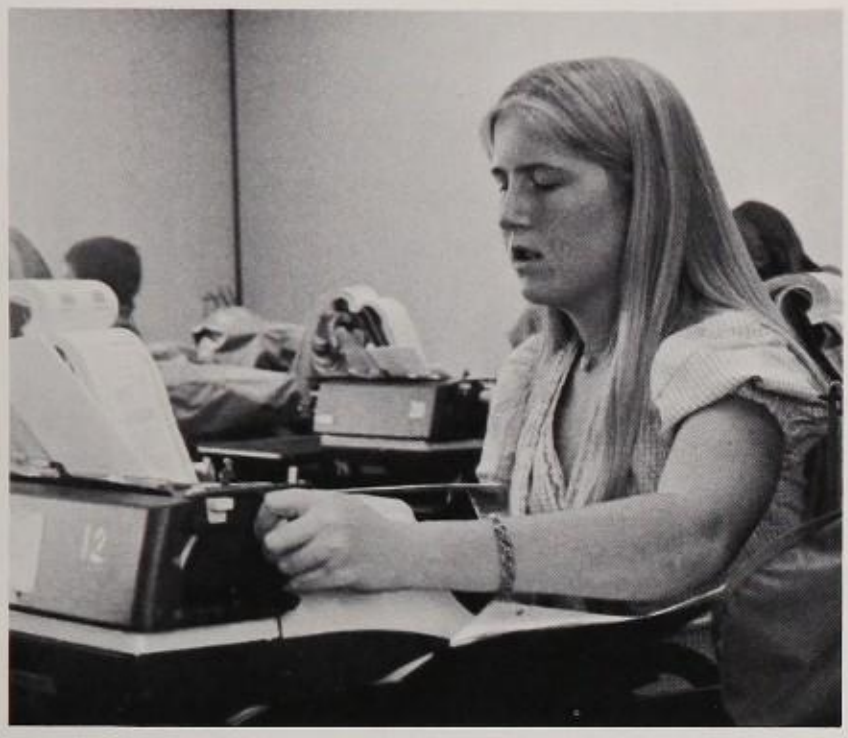
The Newport Plan, established four years ago, allowed students to use school hours to work on their individualized interests. In this way, Social Studies requirements could be filled by working on a political campaign, becoming active in the opposition of an offshore oil drilling or helping the school rewrite its constitution. Thus, credit was acquired in a new way.

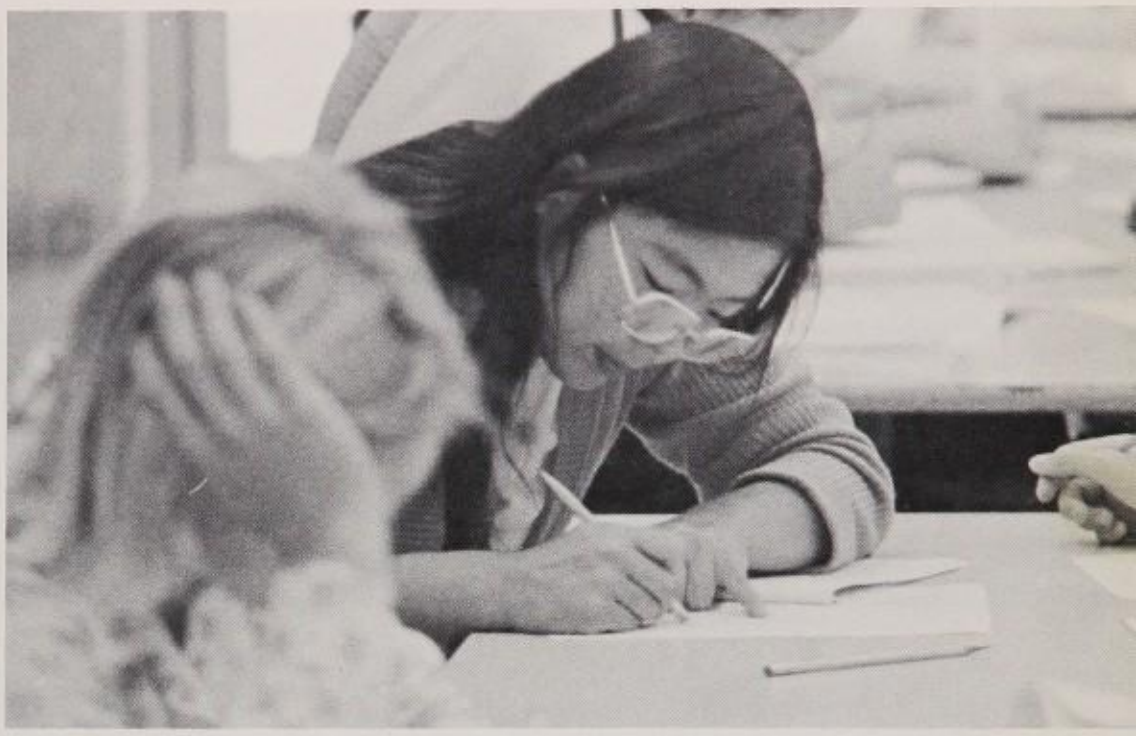
BUSINESS ED.

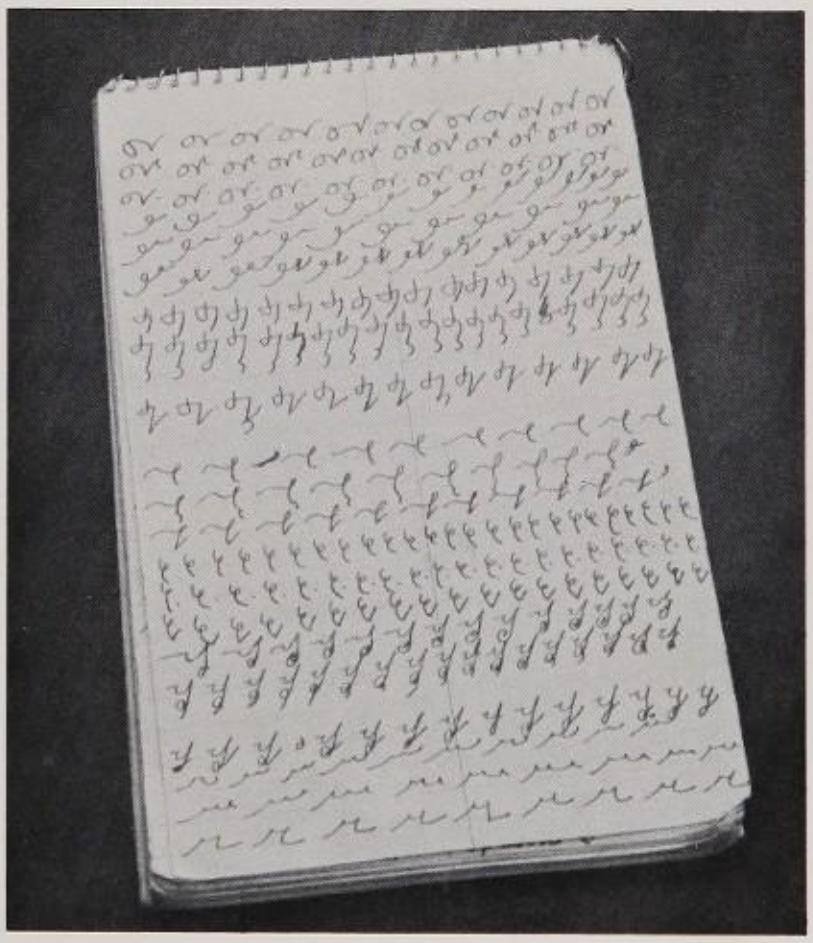
The Business Education Department was the students' chance for education and preparation in the accounting and secretarial fields. Typing, Marketing, and Speedwriting were a few of the basic classes taught in this department. Since the classes offered in this department are not required for graduation, students who enrolled in Business Education indulged themselves for their own personal benefit.

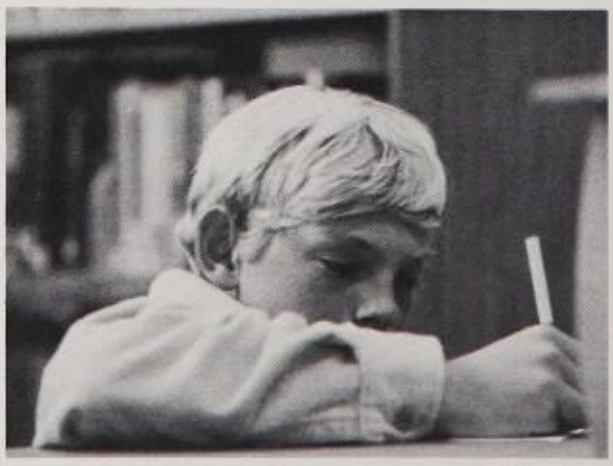
Work Experience has been a part of the Business Department for a few years now. It gave working students a chance to obtain high school credit for working hours put in off campus. In the meantime, regularly employed students obtain outside training for future professions as well as benefiting from the experience. This program gave the students an opportunity to receive class credit, job experience, and wages all together.







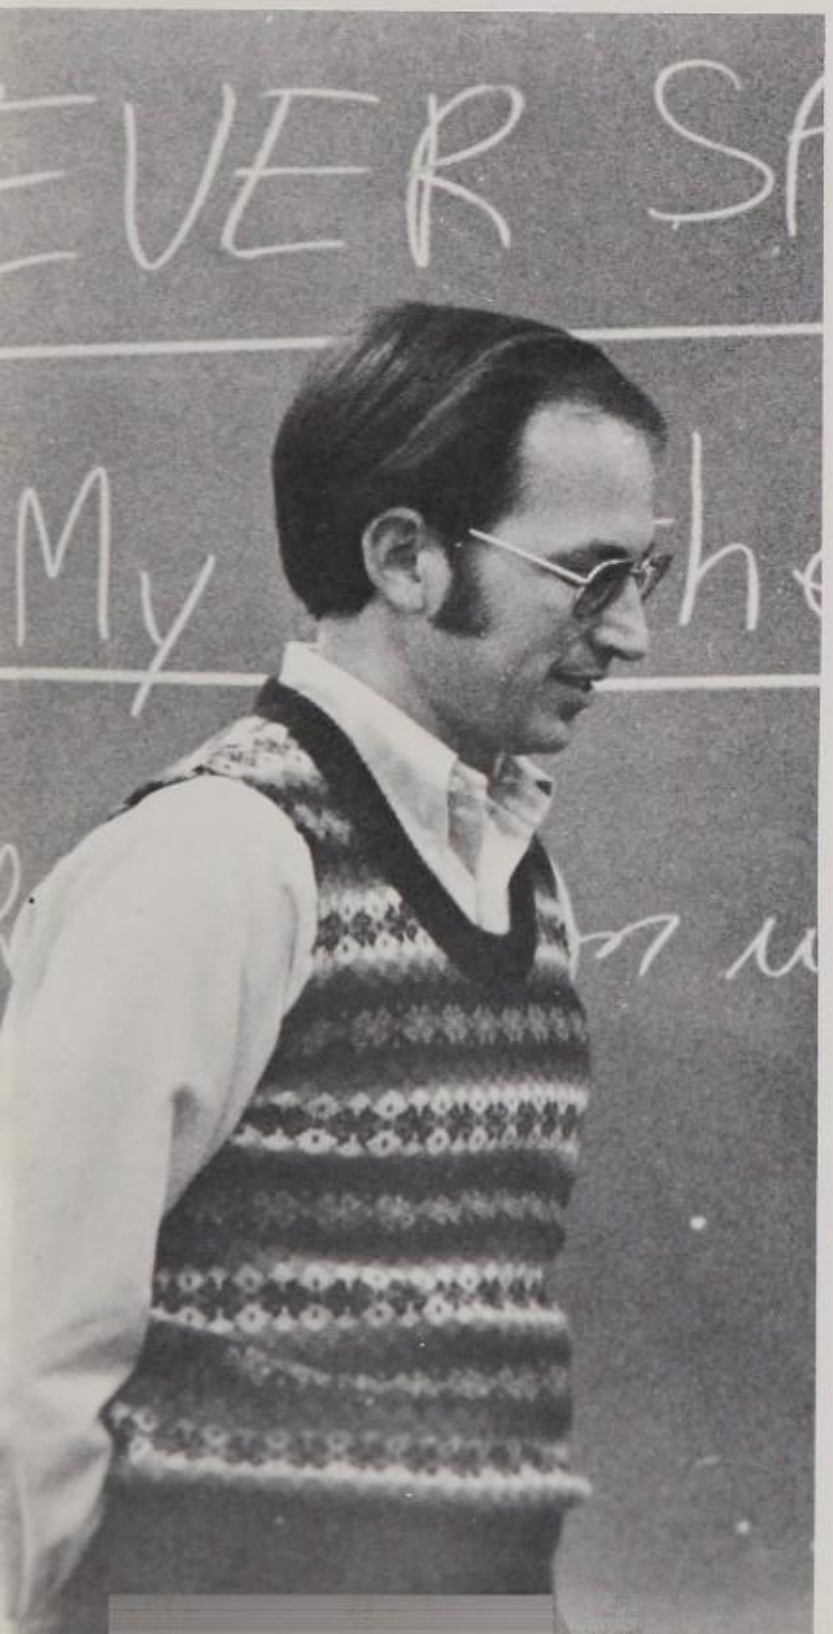




ENGLISH

Harbor's English Department is one of the most active and well established departments on campus. Since English is a required course for three years, the department strives to improve all student's written and oral expressions. To complete this task, one, three, and five paragraph essays are constantly written along with other projects. To add and enrich the program, the second semester of the sophomore and junior years are devoted to English electives for the students. These electives come in a variety of choices, such as: Women in Literature, Exploring TV, California Writers and Bible as Literature.

As in the past, the Senior Advanced Placement English class worked full force studying many famous authors. In addition to the work, this class offered college English credit to those whose abilities enabled them to get it.



FOREIGN LANG.

As school continued period after period, semester after semester, things changed around Harbor High. Progress moved forward and hopefully improved the atmosphere for learning. The Foreign Language Department added a few new improvements which changed language study for the better.

The most important adjustment in the department format was the creation of Advanced Placement Spanish. Geared toward the college bound student, it offered a more accelerated course to those exceptional students, who were recommended, because of their outstanding achievements in regular Spanish classes. The course involved the preparation for the reading and comprehension of Spanish Literature written by Spanish authors. Students could receive actual college credit in the class.

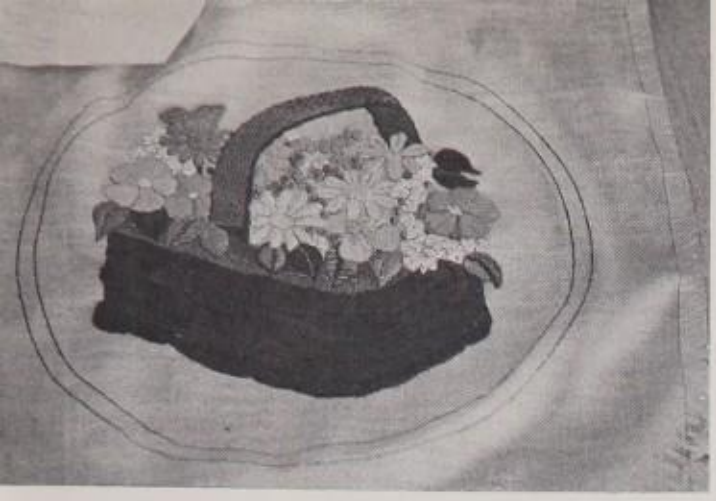
HOME

The Home Economics Department, once monopolized by women has taken a different turn. Now, the man is being taught the basics of homemaking. Cooking was a popular subject with both sexes but, boys are usually more interested in the finished product than the preparation of it. Sewing was also open to boys, but not as readily accepted by them. Beginning, Intermediate, and Advanced sewing classes were in high demand. Sewing basics were stressed as well as more specific techniques such as: Decorative Stitchery, sewing with knits, and tailoring.

Contemporary Living dealt with the problems and rewards of everyday life. Birth control, marriage, and child care were discussed and questions were asked and answered on the survival of a woman in the world.

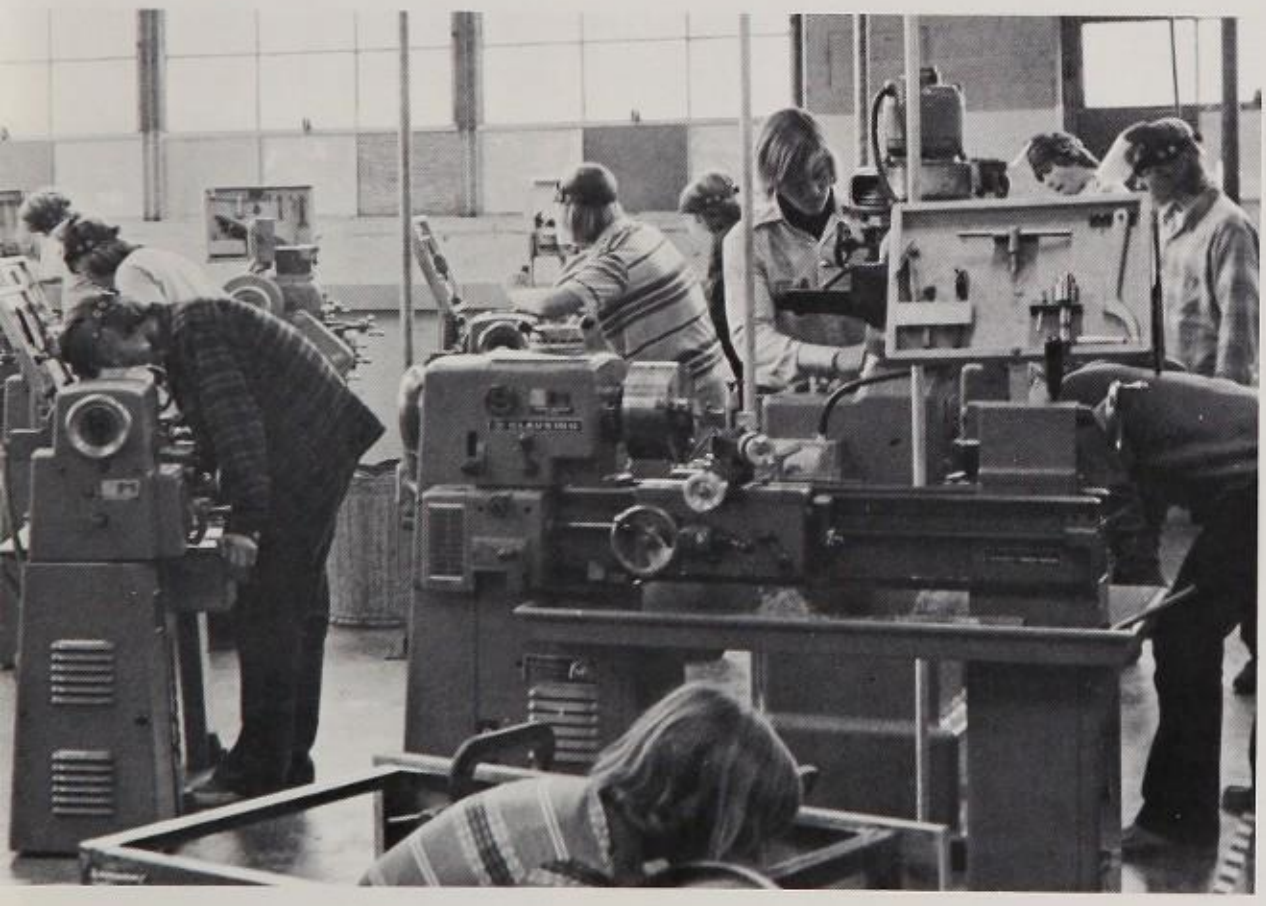


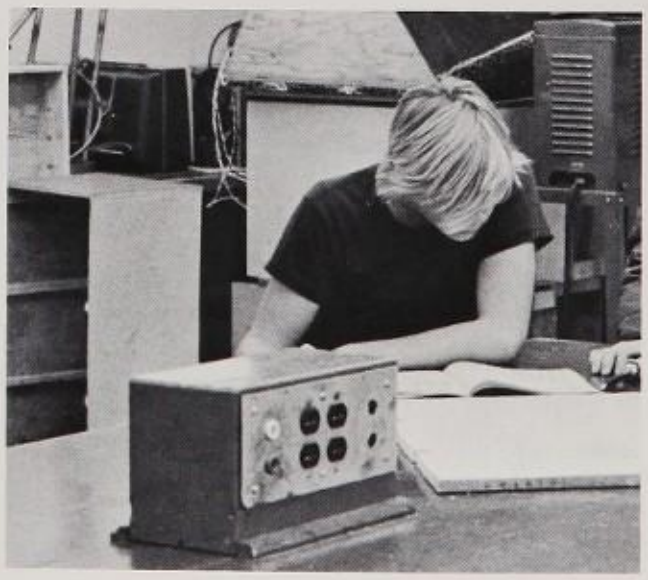
ECONOMICS

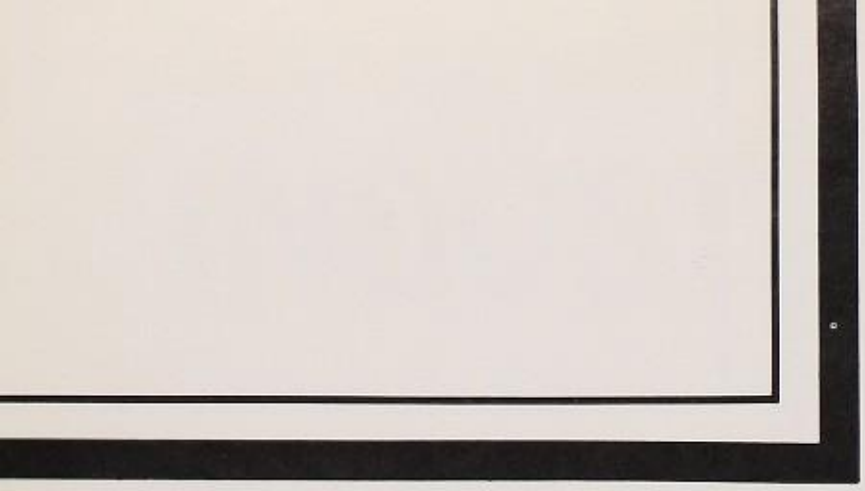
INDUSTRIAL ARTS

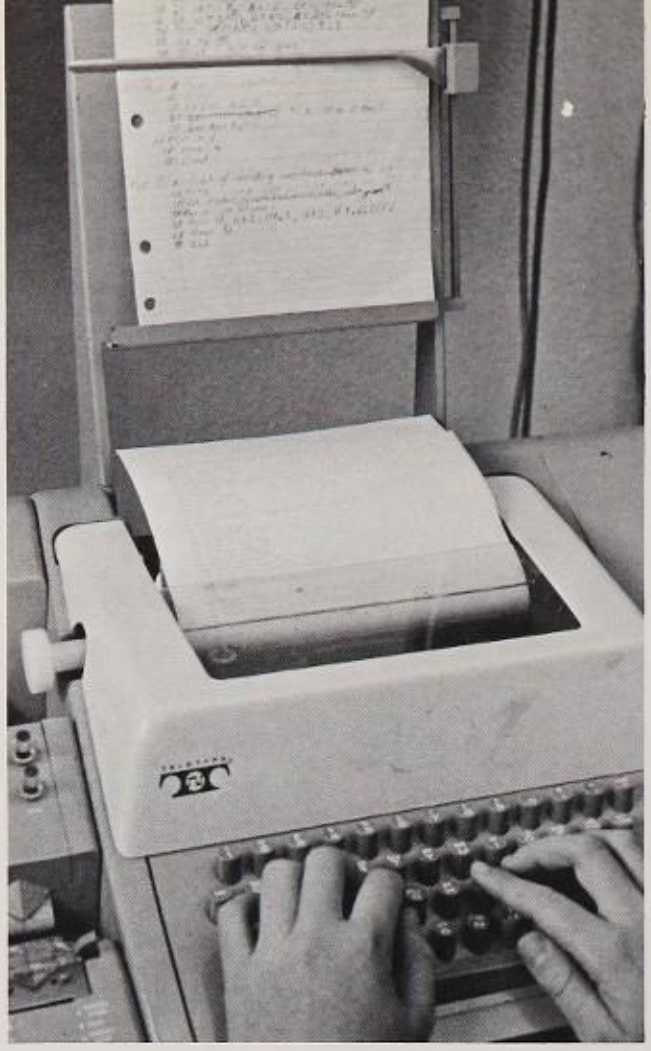
Preparation for an industrial career or just a safe home repair shop starts with safety, one of the first rules stressed by the Industrial Arts Department. Care of tools and equipment can save time, money, and prevent injury. Beginning to Advanced courses were offered in drafting, photography, woodshop, electronics, metal shop, and power mechanics.

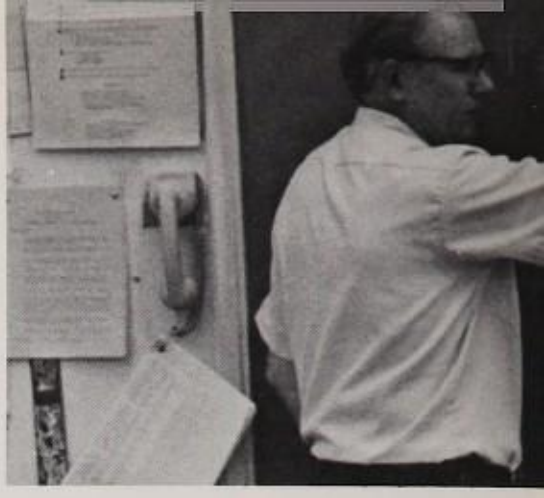
Photography classes required only a few prerequisites: A camera, photography paper, film, and chemicals for advanced classes. Photo was a rewarding class. This year color developing was being introduced, although more than one color print ran into a little money.

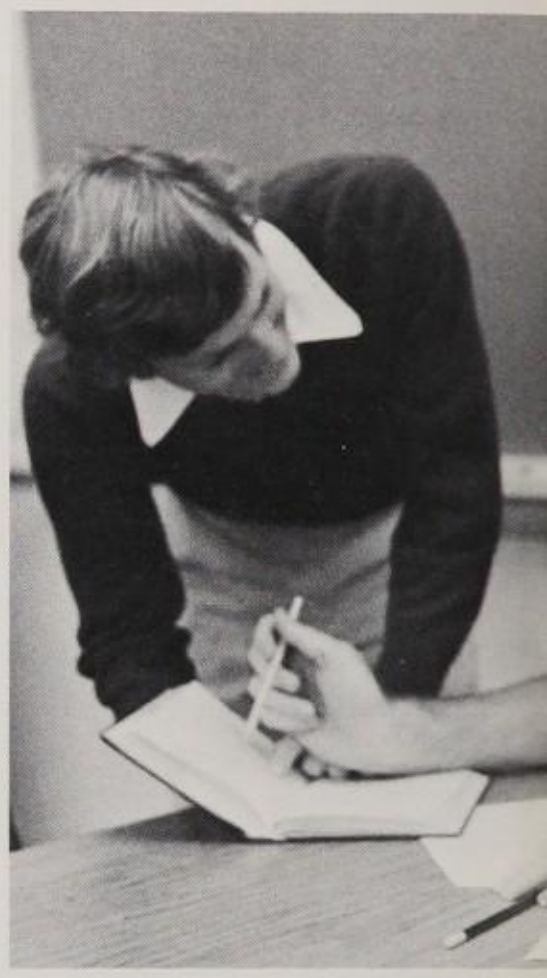


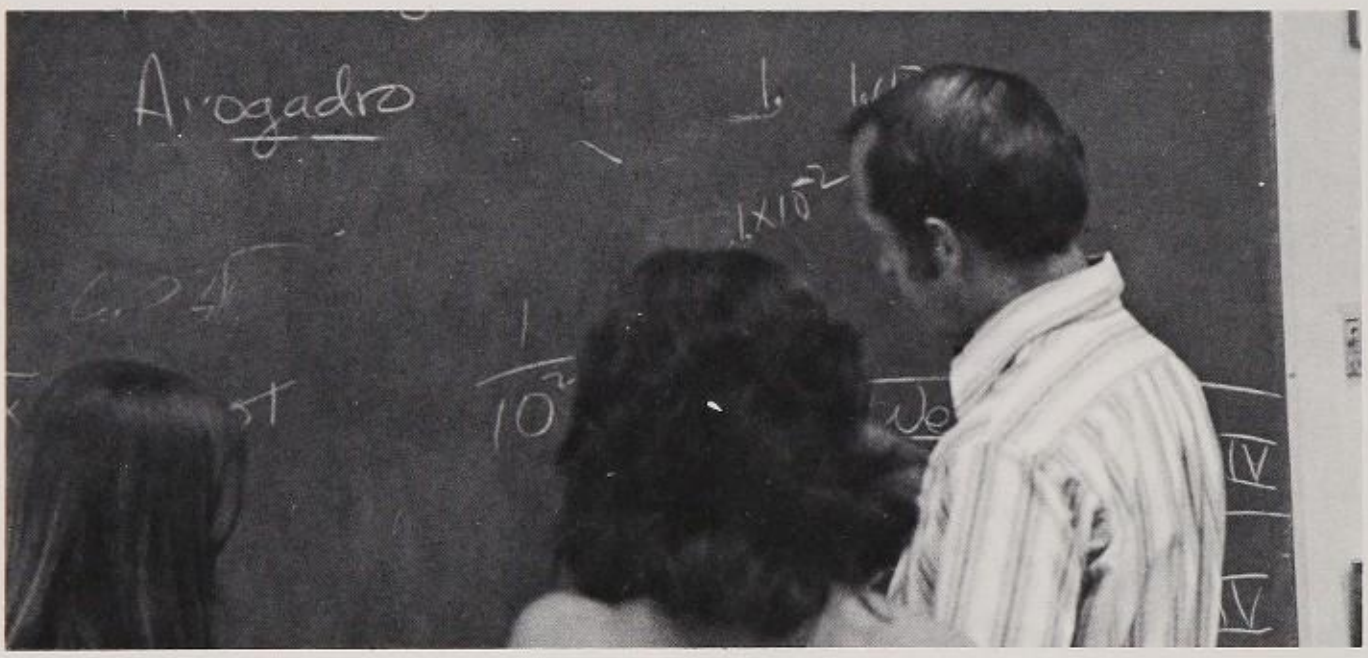




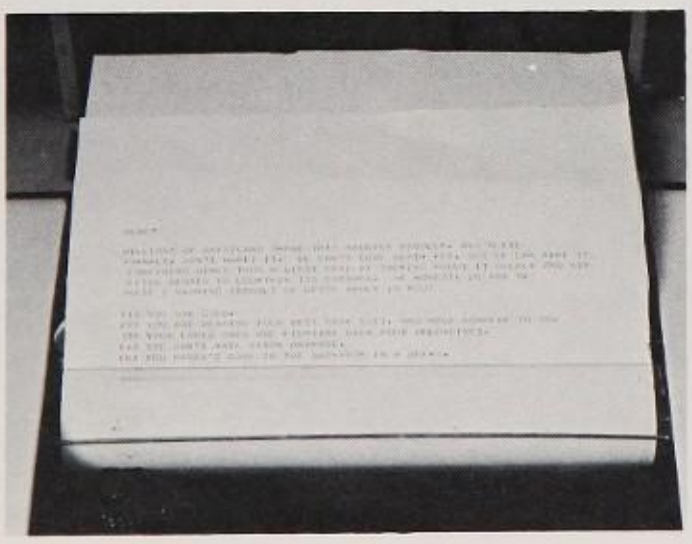


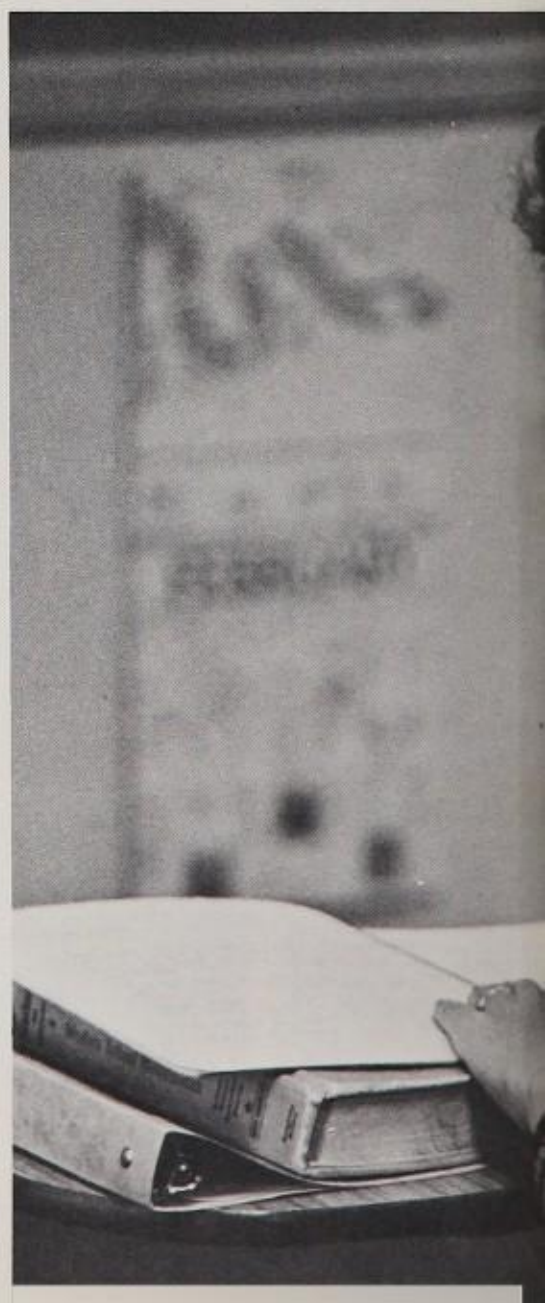






Avogadro





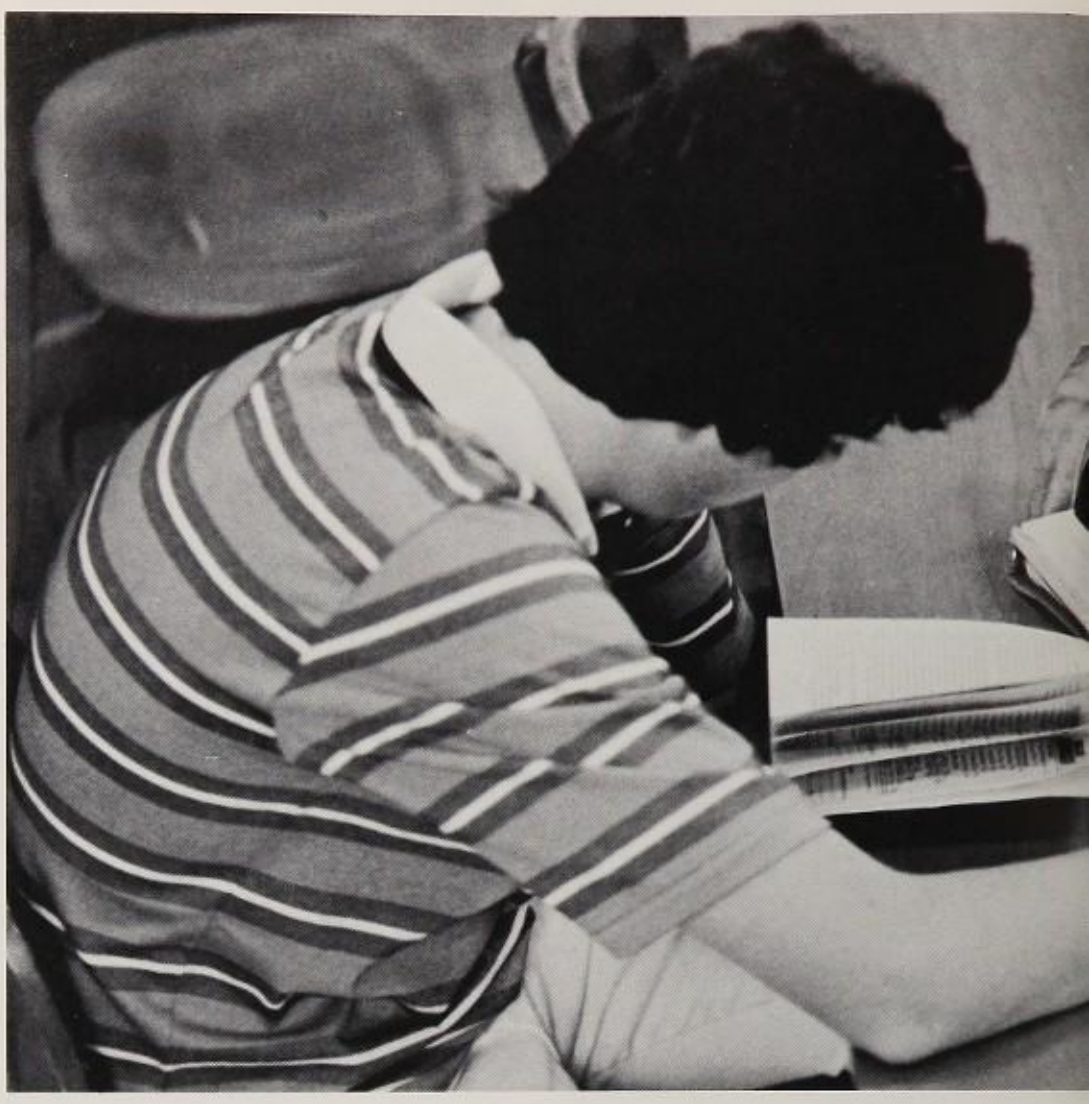
MATHEMATICS

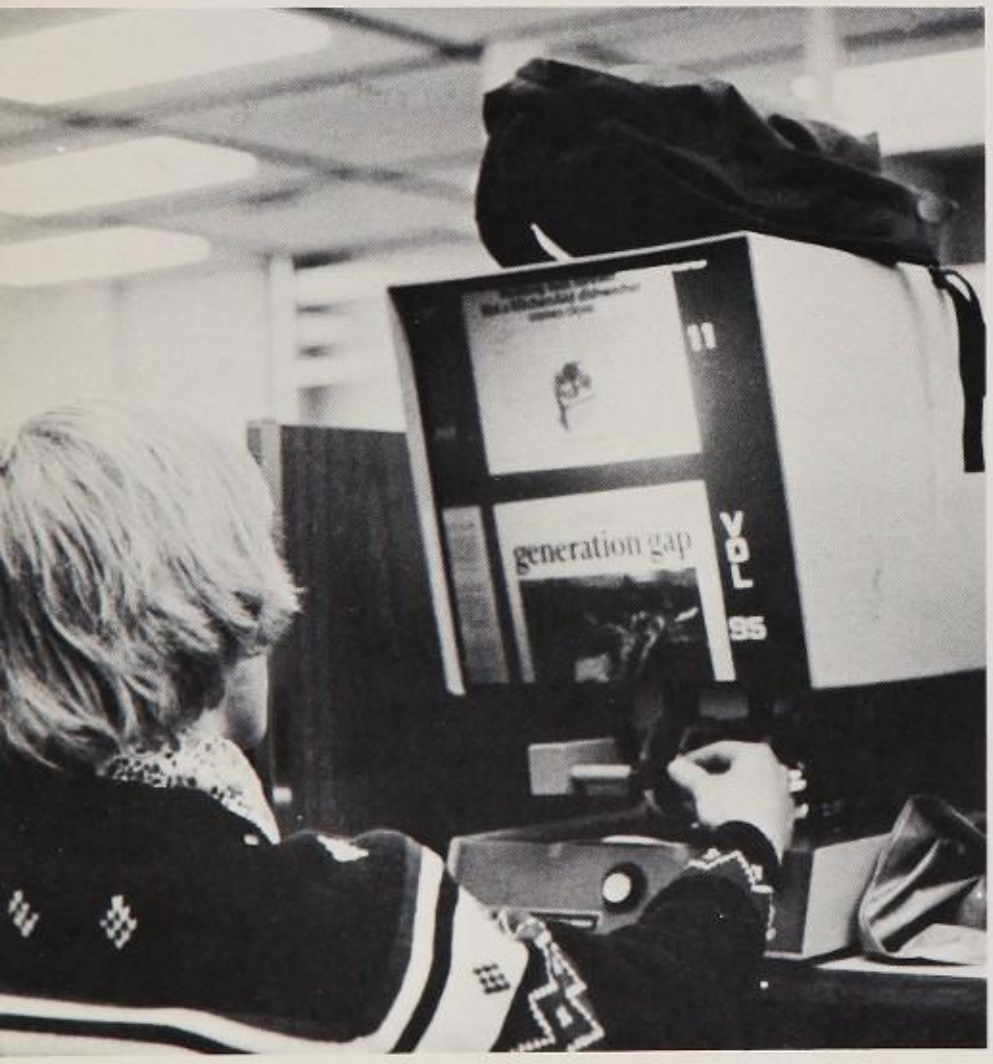
This year was a busy one for the Math Department. The Department endeavored to find new ways of teaching the many classes it offered. The wide variety of classes included Algebra, Practical Math, Geometry, Calculus and many more including a new course titled Advanced Placement Math. The APM course gave many of the more skilled Math Students a chance to obtain college credits.

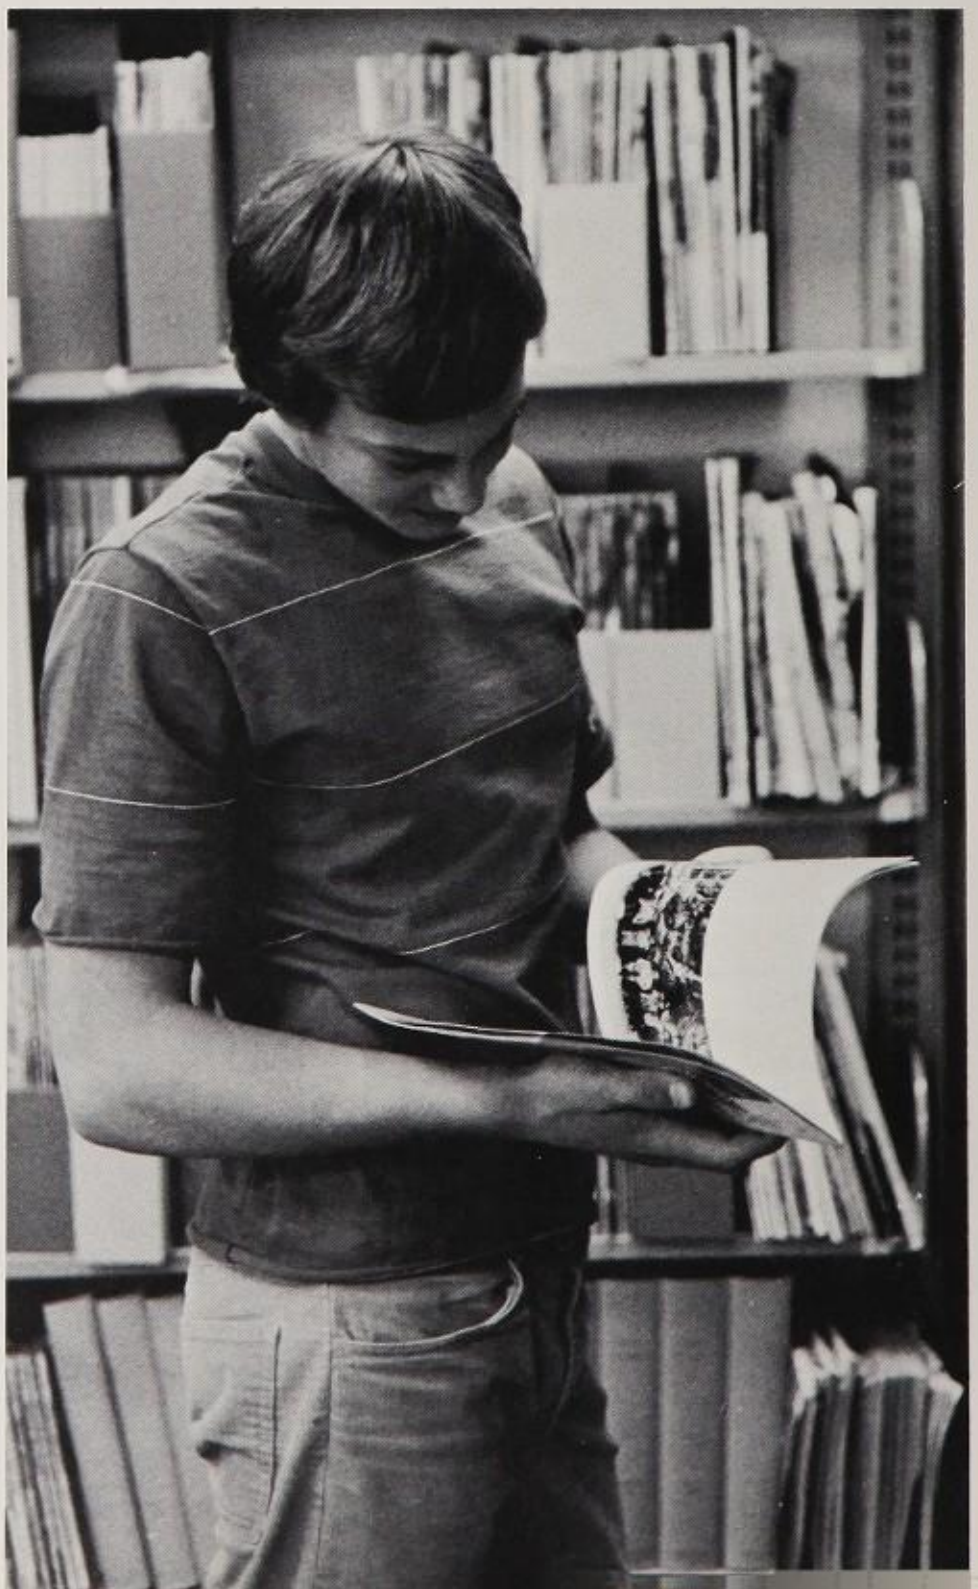
MULTI

What is the Multi Media Center? It's where the action is! On a normal day at least a thousand people visit the MMC. Its purpose is spreading the scene, the sound, and the word around Newport Harbor High School.

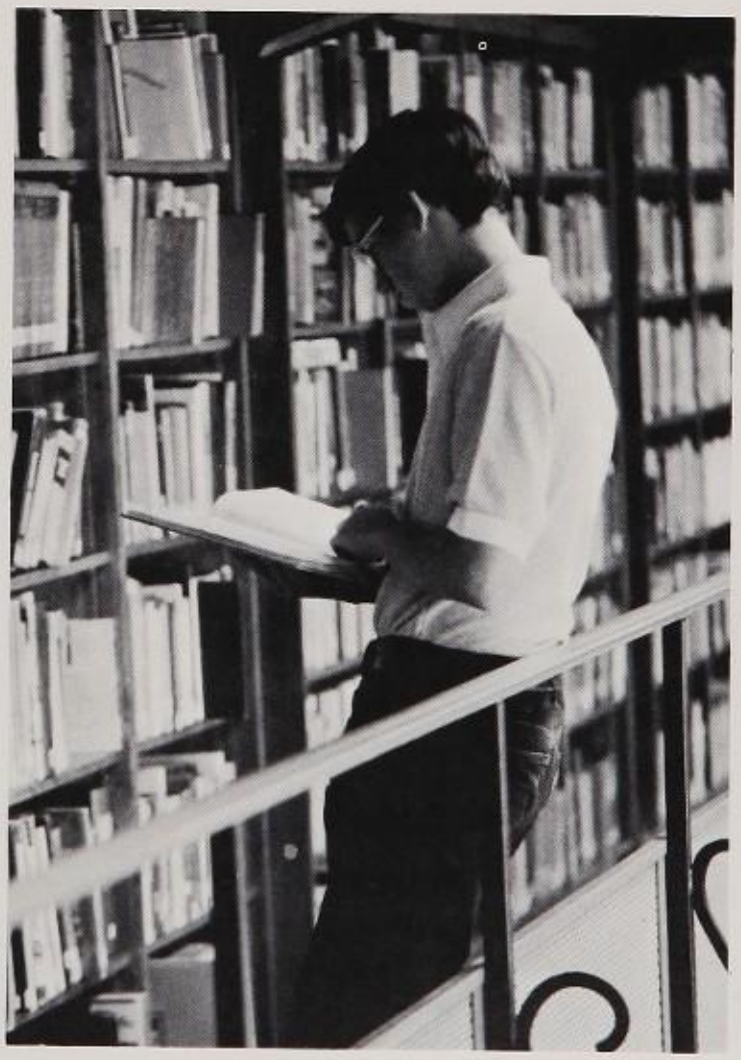
The Library Staff as well as Student Assistants oversee the assortment of over nineteen thousand books and magazines. Besides aiding students and teachers in research, the Staff processes and maintains media such as film strips, film loops, microfilm, and cassettes.

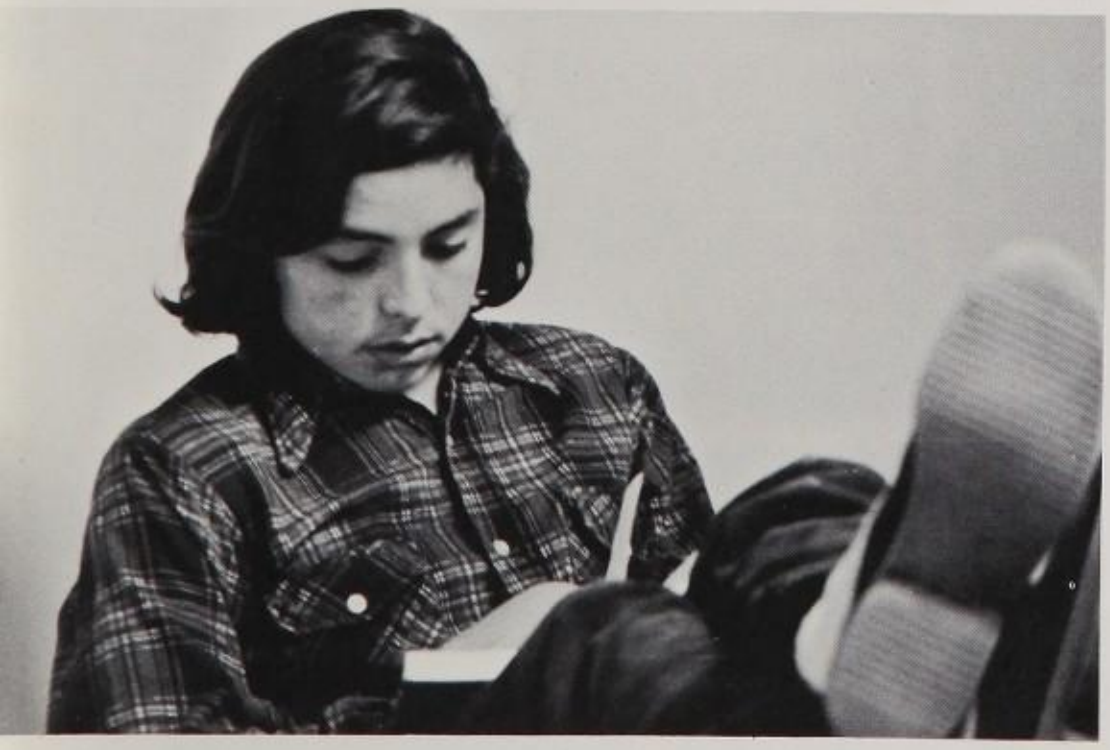






MEDIA





PERFORMING ARTS

The marching band was a symbol of the opening of the fall school session. Summer drills prepared them for football season, half-time activities, and parades. Canyon Meadows again received the Sailor Band for a week of band camp. Instructions on marching formation, precision of step, and playing prepared the band for an award ceremony at the end of their stay.

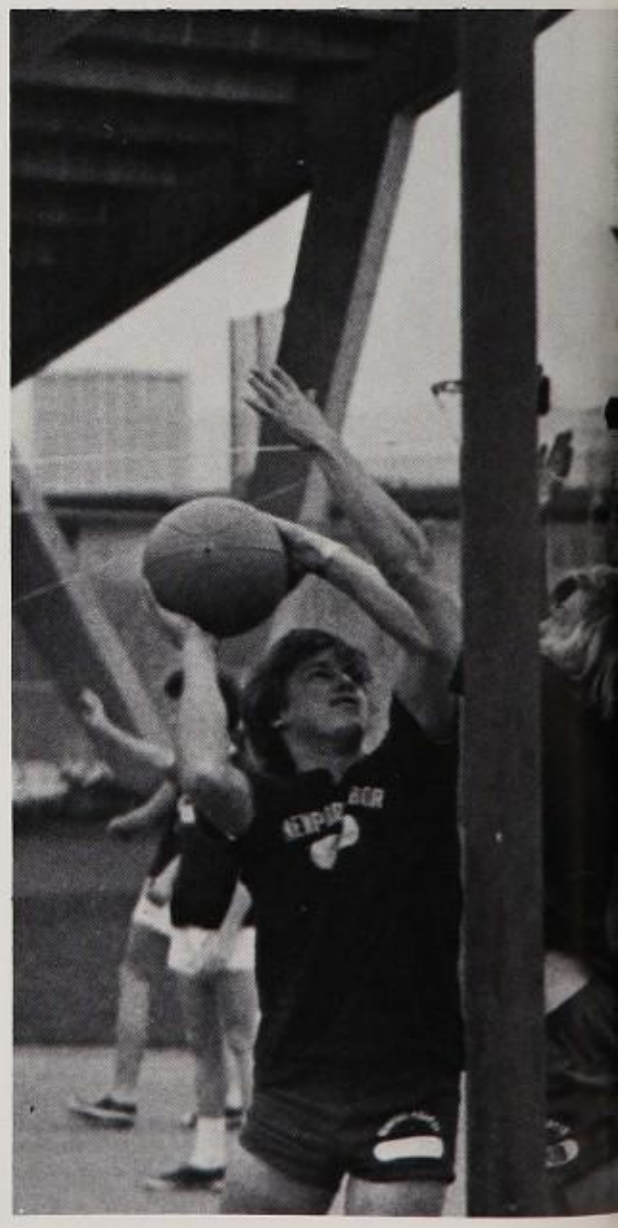
Guitar and piano were two new classes offered this year. Guitar skills ranged from beginning to advanced, folk to electric.

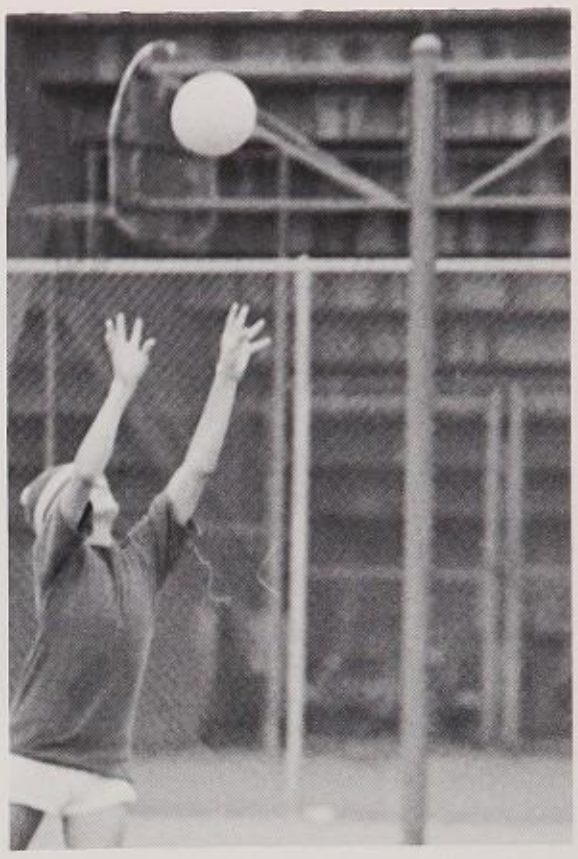
Drama also had a change this past year with a new director, Tom Swift.

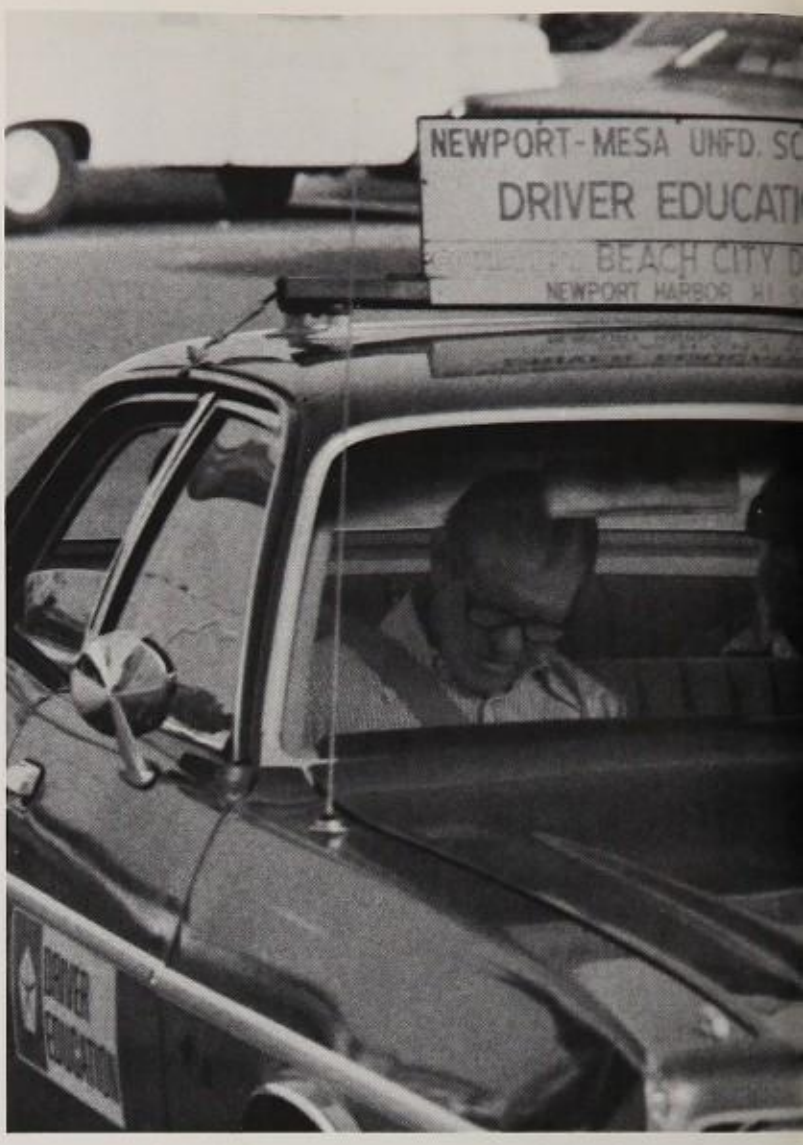
Choralle, Choruses and Chantelles, directed by Suzanne Haig, presented their Spring and Winter concerts with their usual eloquence.

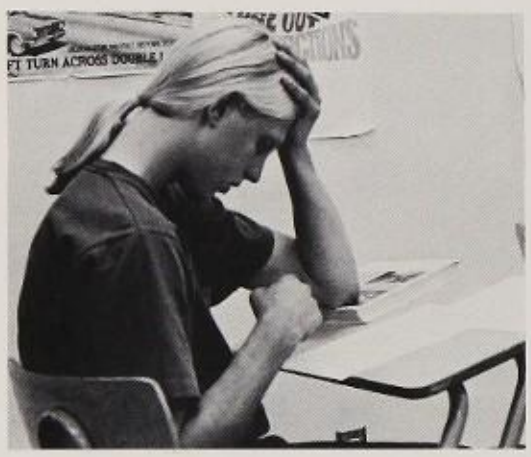
PHYSICAL ED.

The Newport Mesa Unified School District voted Physical Education on an optional basis for eighth semester seniors this year. The change was made, provided another academic course was taken in its place. P.E. courses not only improved, but were added to stimulate the students interests who decided against any more P.E.. Coed P.E. came into existence, which doesn't mean the sharing of locker rooms, but does offer mixed sport to the boys and girls. A few of the sports available to seniors on a co-educational basis were: tennis, volleyball, badmitton, and sailing. Boys P.E. continued testing to determine each boys' physical capability and condition. They were then placed in groups according to ability.







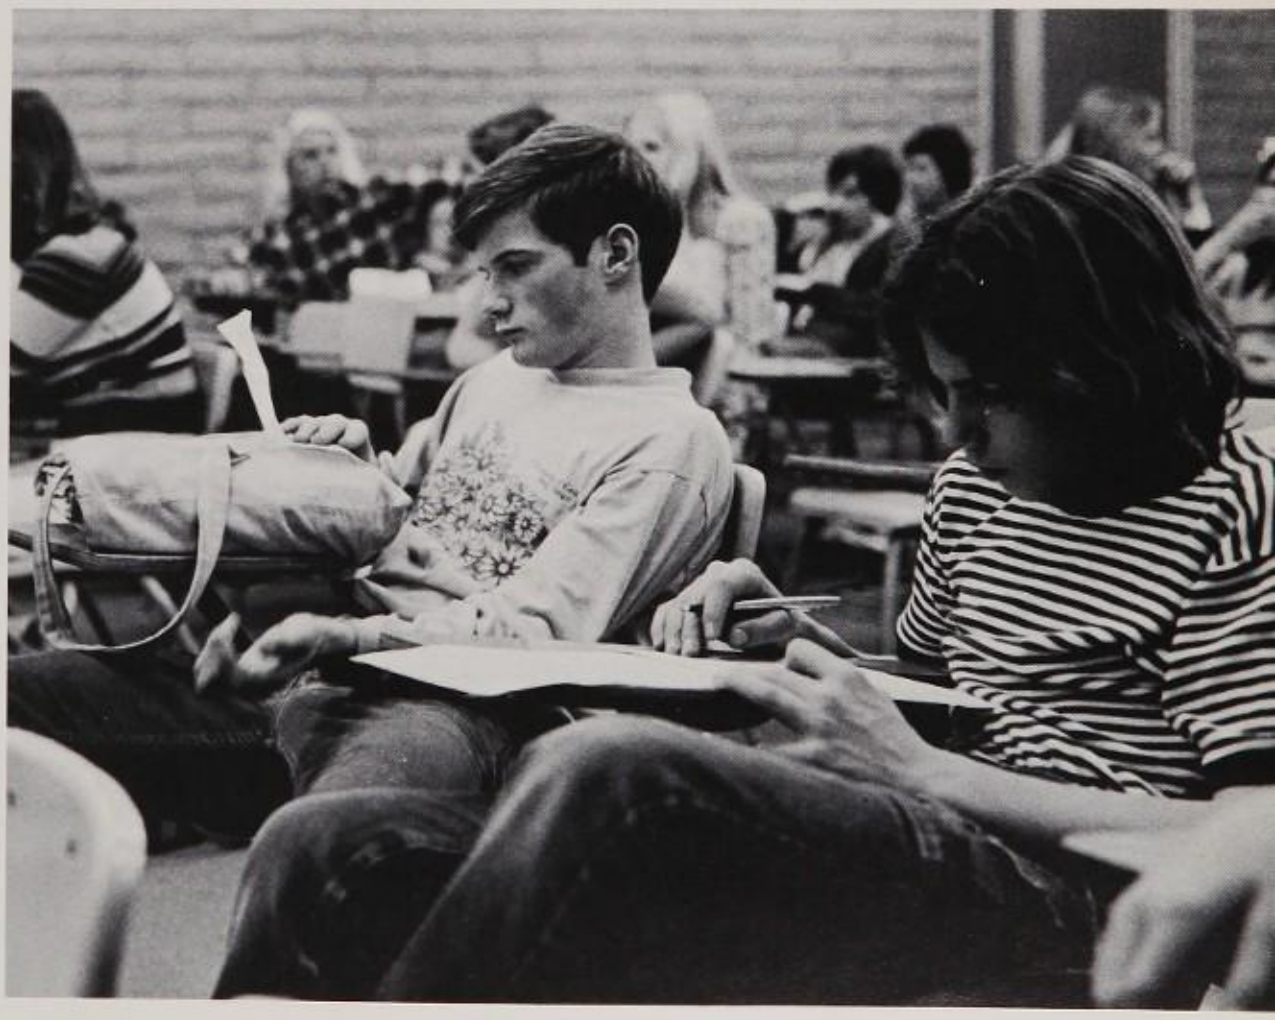


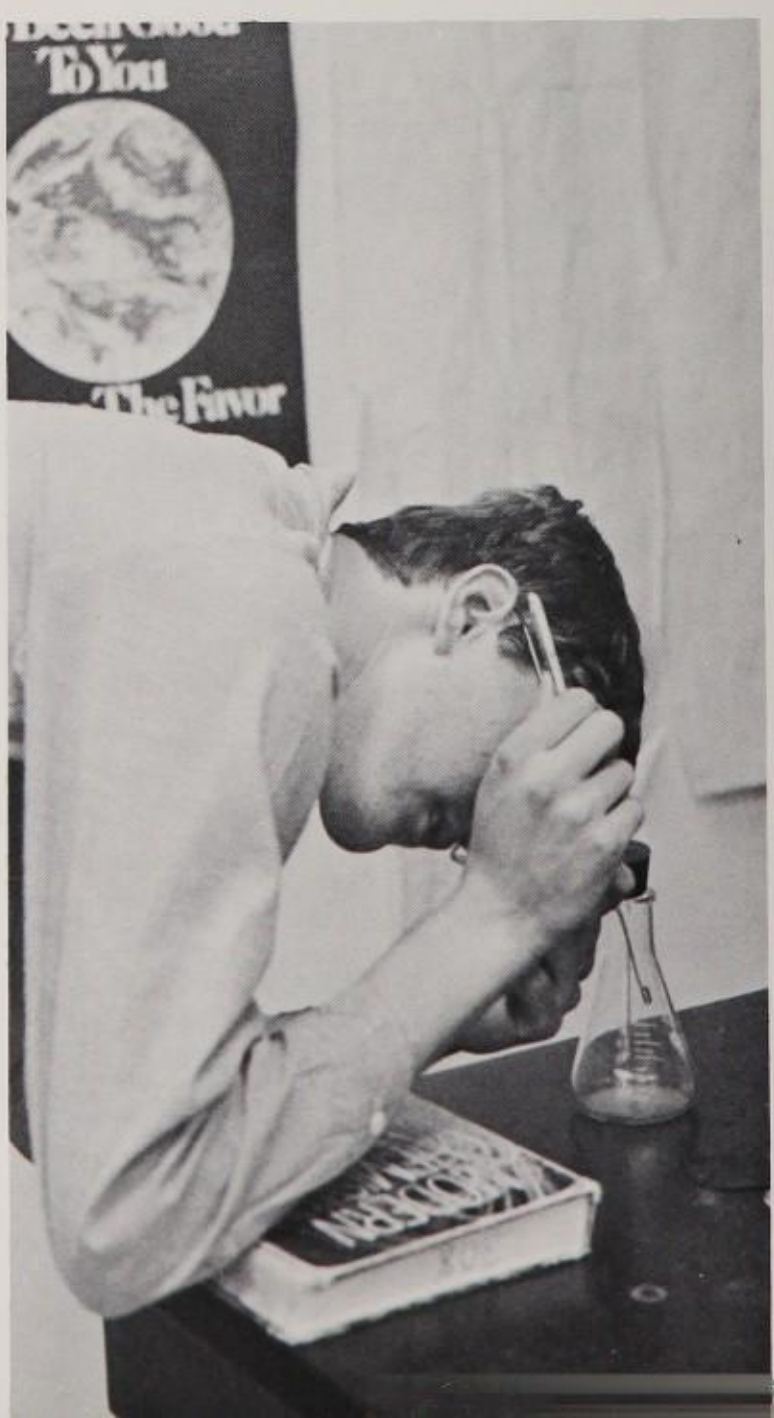
BELONGS TO: MYLES BRADLEY

SAFETY ED.

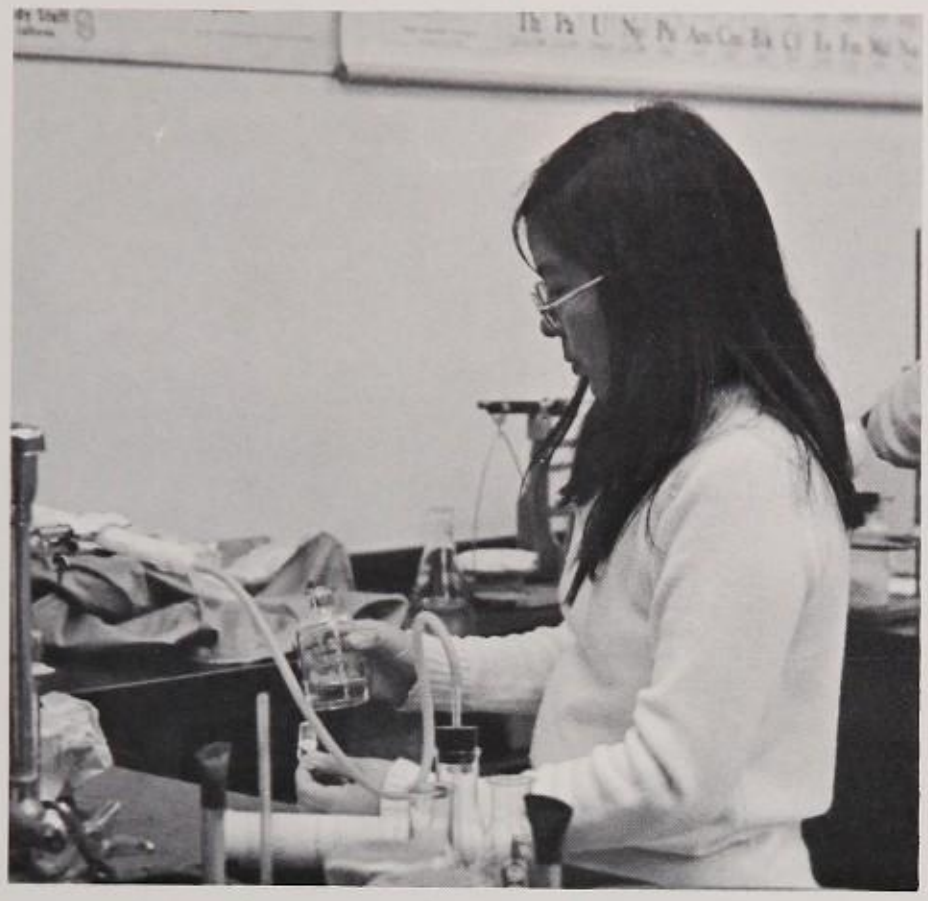
A student looks forward to the age of sixteen, when he can become the proud operator of an auto, a means of transportation and freedom.

Safety Ed. not only dealt with the handling of future teenage drivers, but informed students on the dangers of alcohol, cigarettes, and drugs. It instructed students on how to handle an emergency with basic first aid and supplies, as well as information on the purchasing of insurance.





SCIENCE



Bug collections, a pocket calculator, a little mathematics and a lot of learning is what the Science Department is all about. From Biology to Physics, Science students are able to mix book study and note taking with the fun of labs and disections. The location of Harbor High offers the convenience of the ocean for sea life study and tidepool field trips, plus the opportunity at the Environmental Nature Center which depicts a number of Southern California's wild flowers and plants. The area, designed for plant study, was landscaped by the students to look as natural as possible.

SOCIAL

Social Studies not only involves the history of man but explores man, government, politics, religions, economy, behavior and his mind. Speakers on these various subjects discussed their views with the students in their Social Studies classes. Speeches ranging from Communism to the John Birch Society and presentations from prisoners of Chino State Prison and Judge Walker, who presided over the Sirhan Sirhan case were heard.

Being an election year, 1976 has offered advantages in the learning and teaching of election process and system of government. With local and national campaigns underway, students had a chance to work for various candidates to obtain Civics hours.

BOYS' ATHLETICS

Springboarding from last year's triumphant march to the All-Sports Trophy, the mighty musclemen of Newport Harbor are again ripping, roaring, and rippling through the athletic arenas of CIF and Sunset League. Roaring the loudest and ripping the fastest are Newport's aquatic teams as Waterpolo captured the CIF crown, Sailing won the National High School Championship and Swimming lost the CIF Relay Championship by hundredths of a second. But at press time Soccer is socking it to their opponents with 6 and 12 point victories as those fleet-footed antelopes of Adidas by proving that they are not to be outdone by those sailors born in Topsiders or those speedo clad speedsters who spend 50% of their time in the pool and the other 50% in the mirror. Because of press deadline, more cannot be said about the other winter and spring sports. But will those other teams do as well? Consider this . . . does the sun rise in the east? Do birds fly? Is the . . . ?

WATERPOLO

"WE'RE NUMBER 1!"

Newport's undefeated waterpolo team shattered all precedents and roared through the last game for their fourth CIF crown. Meanwhile, the underclassmen polo players thundered the chant "We're number 1!" for the last minutes of that last game.

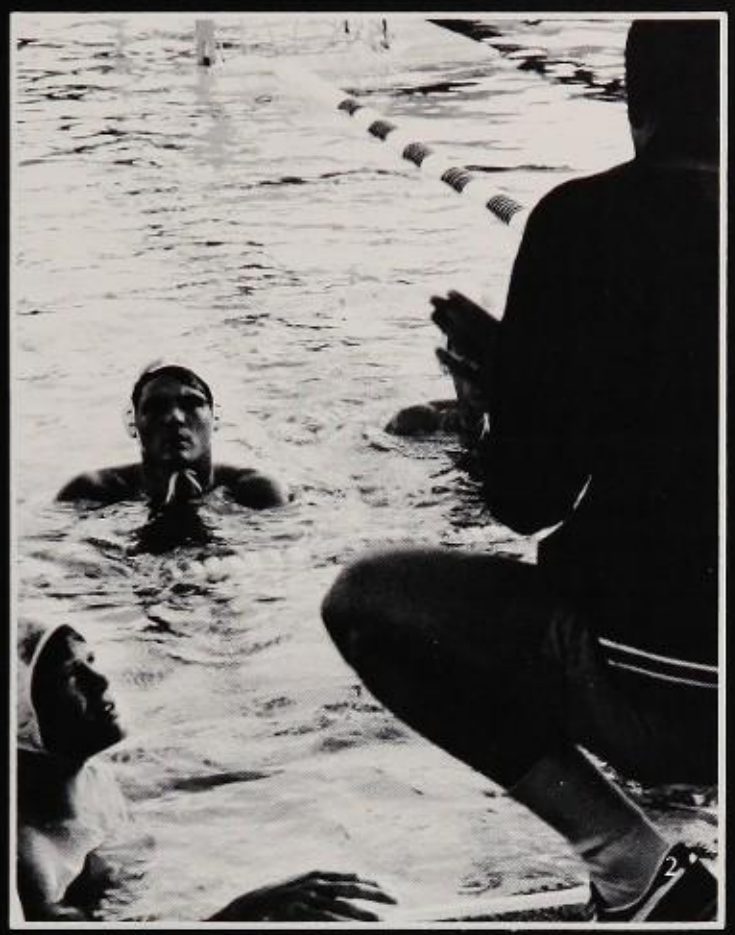
Considered to be one of the nation's best prep water polo teams in history, Newport ripped apart Sunny Hills with precisely crafted plays, assists, and shots by Frank Anderson, Kevin Robertson, and Greg Fults.

The defensive effort was climaxed by goalie Randy Parole's block of a point-blank penalty shot, while George Newland, Mitch White, John Dobrott, and Ted McGinley choked many of Sunny Hills' feeble offensive efforts.

All of Newport's starting players were rewarded with the following: Frank Anderson, CIF Co-Player of the Year, First Team All-CIF Kevin Robertson, CIF Co-Player of the Year, First Team All-CIF George Newland, First Team All-CIF Greg Fults, First Team All-CIF John Dobrott, Second Team All-CIF Mitch White, Second Team All-CIF Ted McGinley, Third Team All-CIF Randy Parole, Honorable Mention All-CIF.

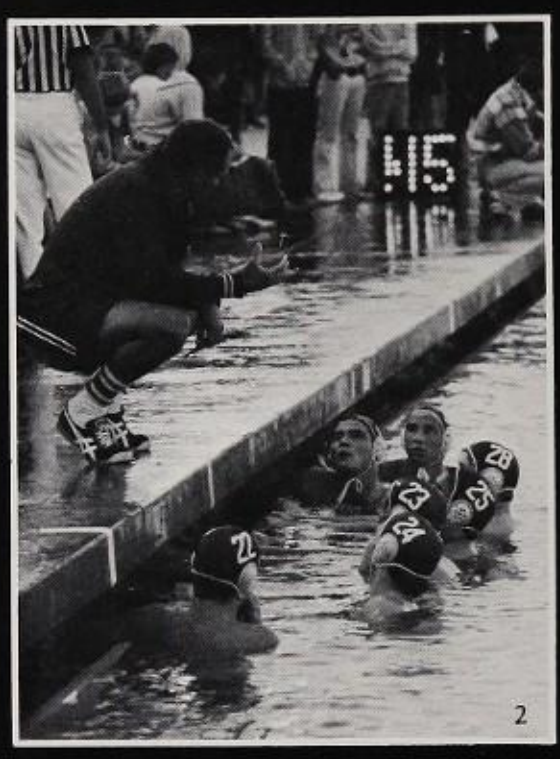
Newport's JV not only won their ninth straight league title, but also beat many of the top ten varsity teams in CIF. As usual, Newport's Frosh-Soph team prepared for future CIF titles by winning their league championship because, after all:

"WE'RE NUMBER ONE!!"



1-CIF Co-Player of the Year Kevin Robertson with the ball. 2-Coach Bill Barnett giving strategy to seniors John "Spanky" Dobrott and Frank Anderson. 3-Passing past opponent is CIF Co-Player of the Year Frank Anderson. 4-JV team player drives past opponent's goalie. 5-Goalie Mike Johnson blocking a throw. 6-CIF Water-polo Champions' Trophy.

CIF CHAMPIONS



1-Senior George Newland goes for the ball.
2-Coach Barnett giving last minute guidelines.
3-Newport throws the ball.

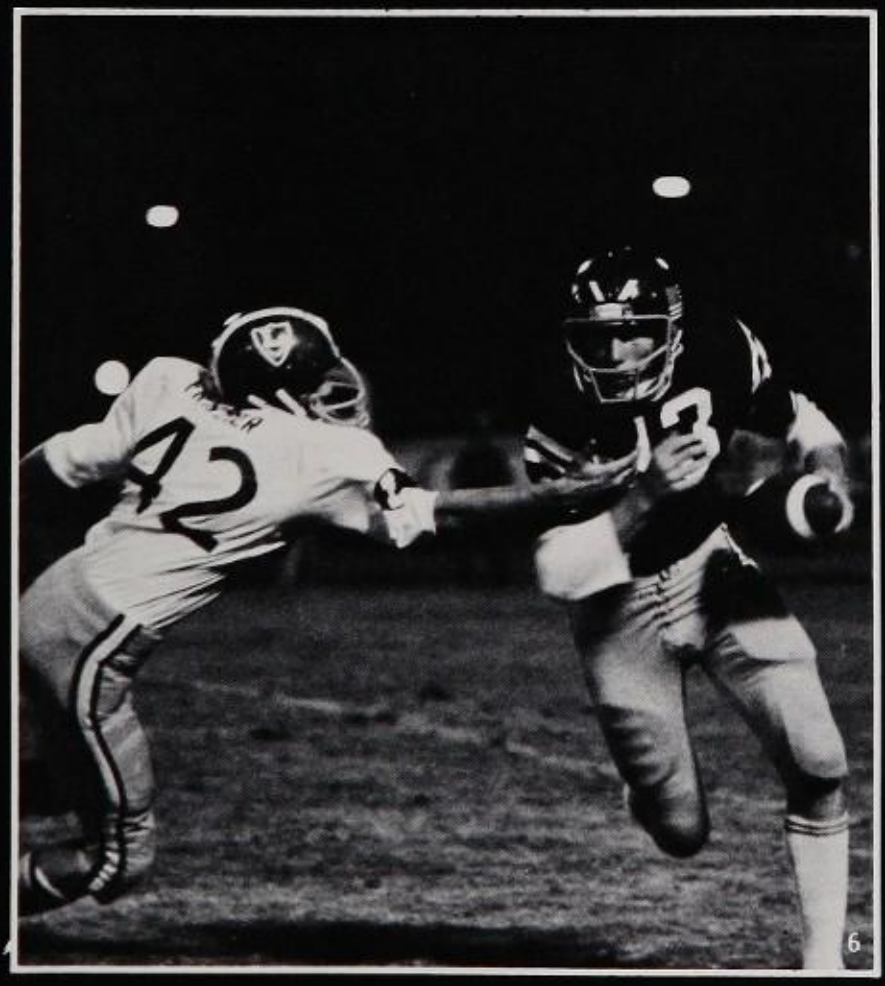
FOOTBALL

DYING TARS COME ALIVE IN LAST GAME

For the 1976 Newport football team a convincing victory over Edison left a good taste in the mouths of Harbor's team and fans that had otherwise been mostly soured in an inconsistent 4-5 season.

This decisive defeat over Orange County's number one team, Edison, was proof that Harbor had the Talent. It was however, a talent that too often failed to gel and thus made it a season of both rewarding ups and disappointing downs.

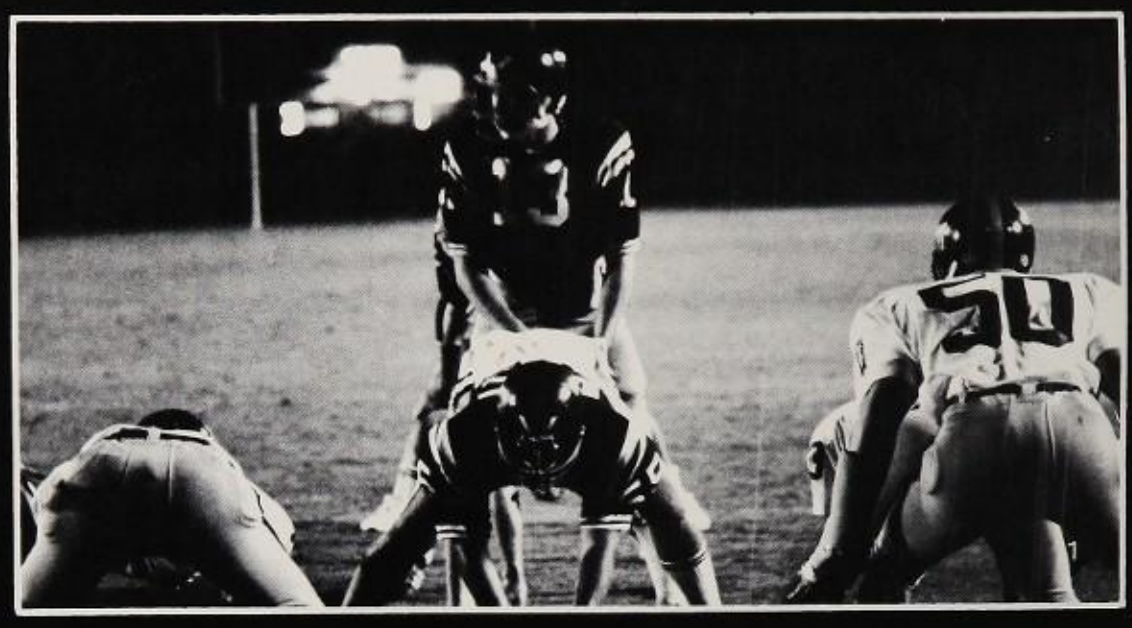
Newport fell to a strong Servite team in their first game, but came right back and trounced Corona del Mar, 33-13. The Tars then surprisingly dropped the first two league games, Los Alamitos and Marina, and still had to face the tougher teams that lay ahead. Fountain Valley was one such team, but the Tar Machine got it together to down the Barons. Homecoming dealt the Sailors the next blow in a heartbreaker, 24-21, loss to Loara. Newport split the next two games, beating Western, then losing to Westminster, and so entered the final game way down in the Sunset League standings with nothing really on the line but their pride. Newport responded to the challenge, smashing number one ranked Edison in a game that seemed a fitting way for the multi-talented Tars to end the season.

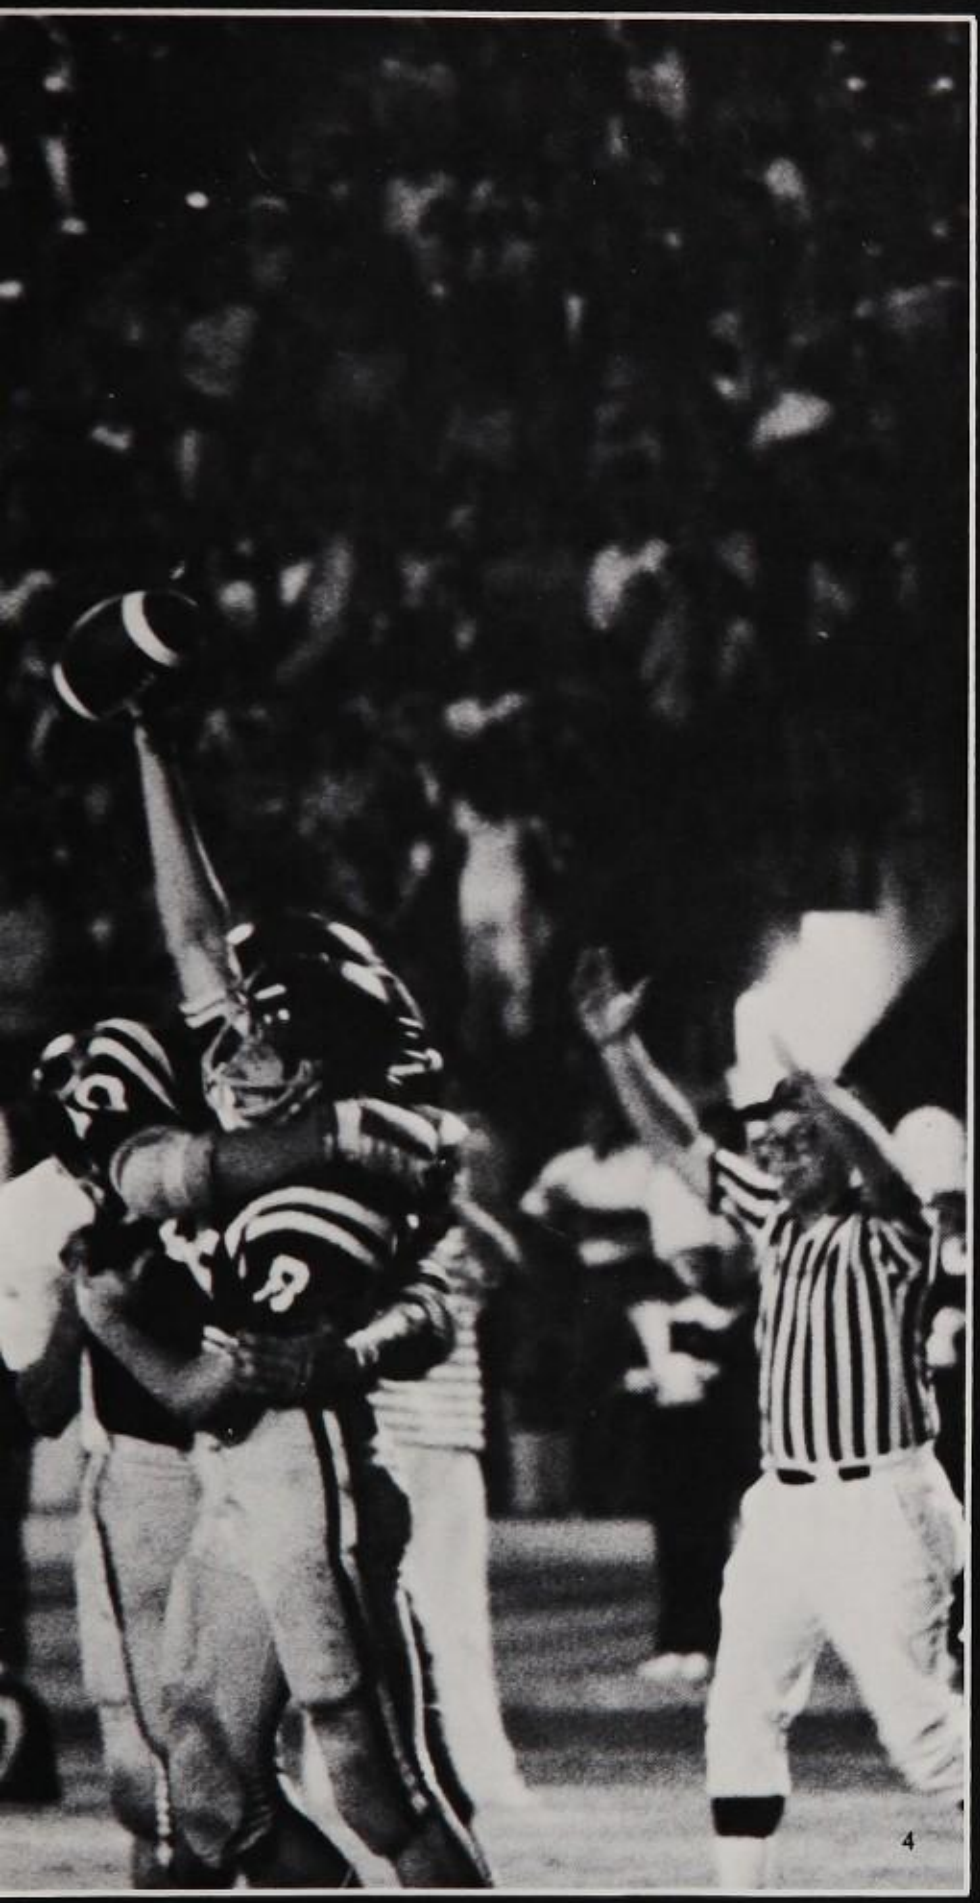


4-Harbor's defense tightens up for a tough battle.
5-Paul DeLancelotti and Charles Upthegrove in action.
6-Senior Gordon Adams runs with the ball.

Senior Steve Foley was voted most valuable player and it was an honor well deserved. His efforts were a key to the offense, carrying and passing for 13 touchdowns for 78 total points (over half the entire team's points) and averaging 5.3 yards per carry.

Twenty one seniors played their last games for Harbor. While at the end of the 1975 season, the prospects for next year were hard at work.





1-Quarterback Adams was in charge of the Tar Machine. 2-Most Valuable Player Steve Foley in control of the ball. 3-Bob Hanke covering opponent in offensive pass play. 4-TOUCHDOWN!(!) 5-Junior Matthew Kawamura sizes up opponents. 6-Senior Scott Lohman boots for the extra point.

CROSS COUNTRY

TAR RUNNERS POST NO LEAGUE WINS

Newport's Varsity Cross Country runners, led by senior Gary Ertz streaking to a number of firsts, had a rather disappointing year with no wins.

Other runners heading the Varsity squad were seniors Don Patton, Lyle Haskell and juniors David Fier, Joe Conk, and John Overall.

More successful this year was Newport's Junior Varsity team winning four of their seven meets.

It was felt that the team lacked the essential discipline that it takes to accomplish their goals: self discipline. Cross Country probably requires more self discipline and physical pain then any other sport.

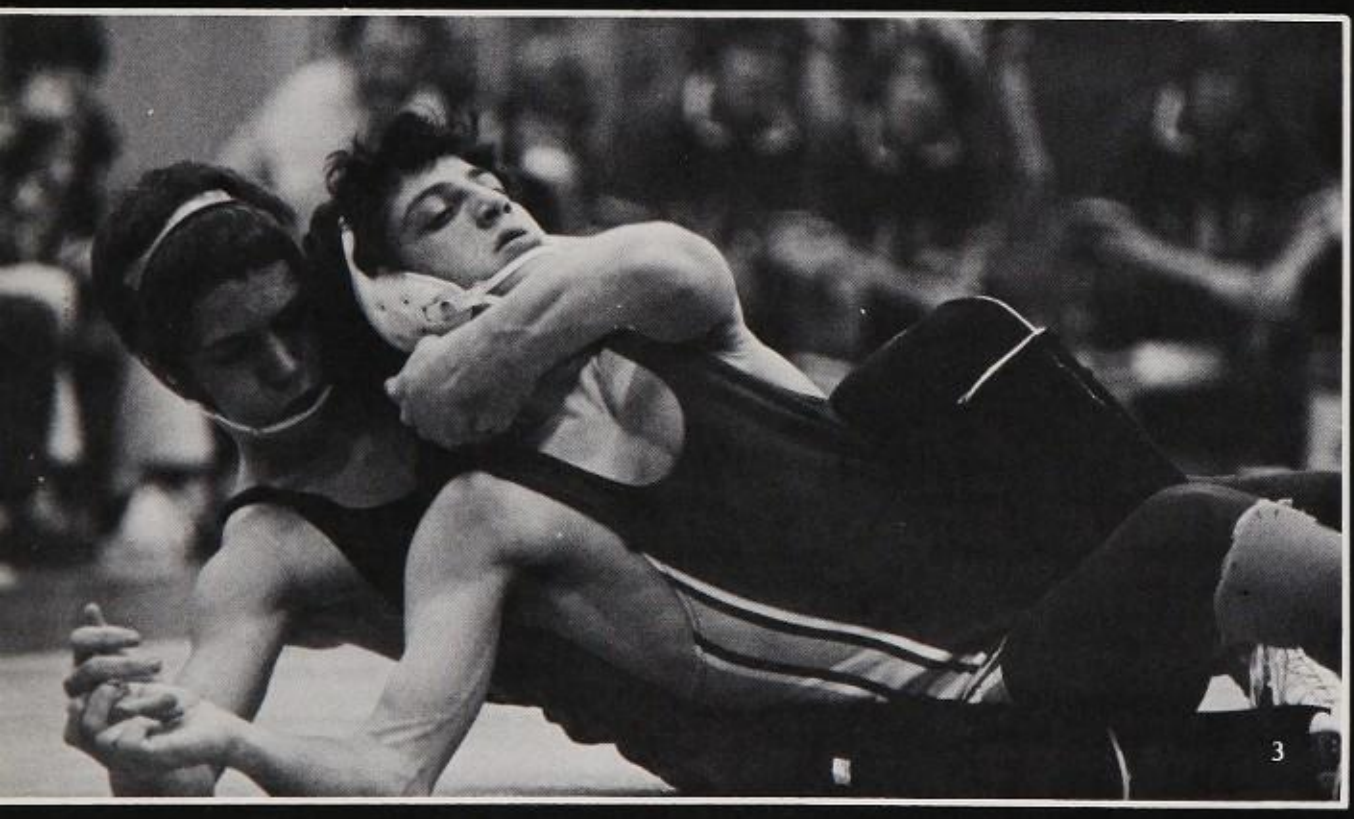
1-Senior Don Fukamoto proved to be a good asset to the Newport team. 2-Senior Gary Ertz streaks to another first. 3-Coach Donald gives pep talk to his team. 4-Senior Lyle Haskell struggles to pass Edison runner. 5-And they're off . . . 6-Only girl competing in boys' sports was junior Della Roberts who ran for the JV squad. 7-Junior John Overall doing his thing behind the back stop.

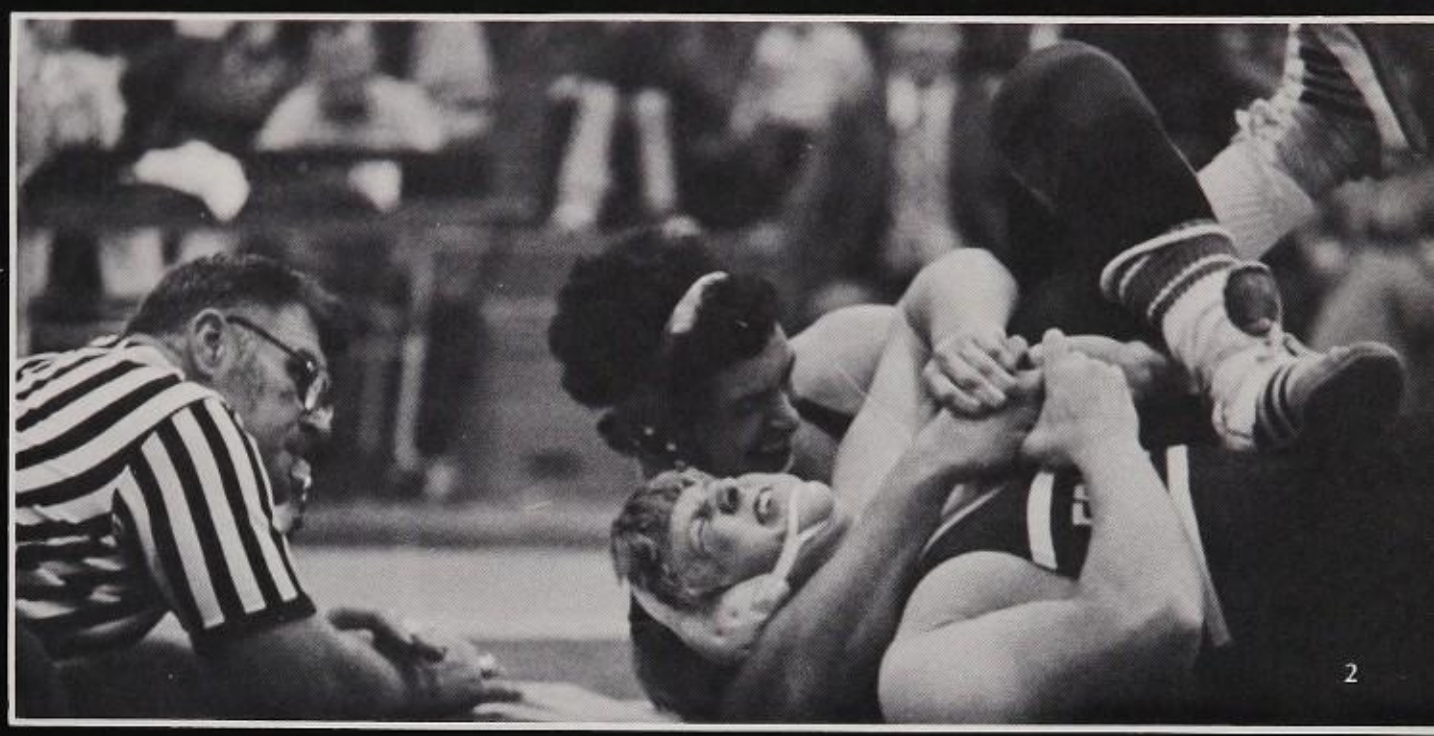
WRESTLING

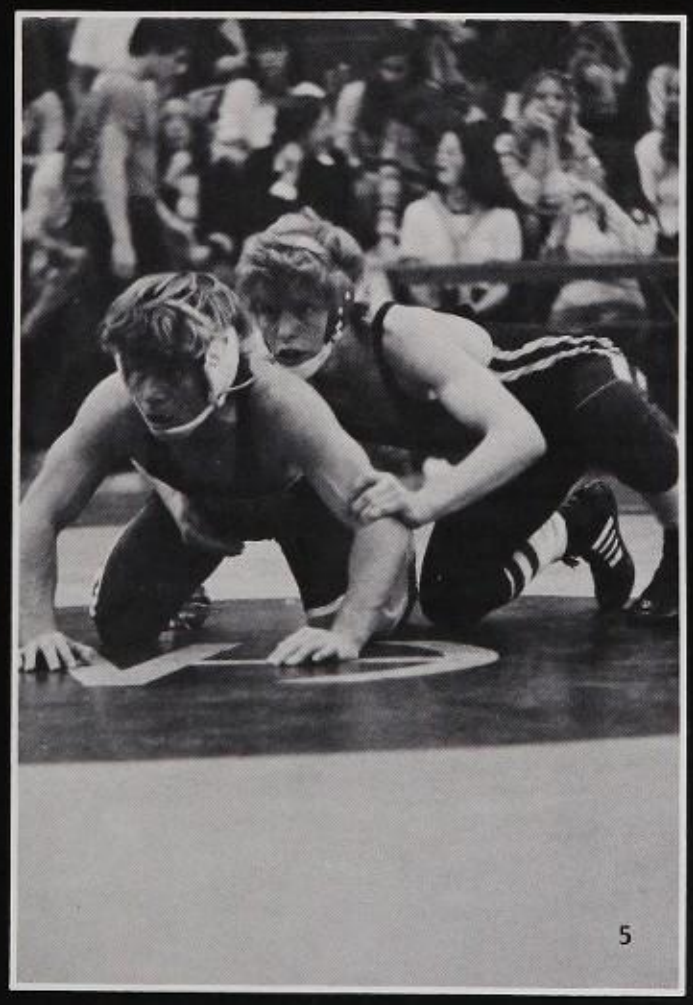
TARS ENDED UP 2-5 IN LEAGUE

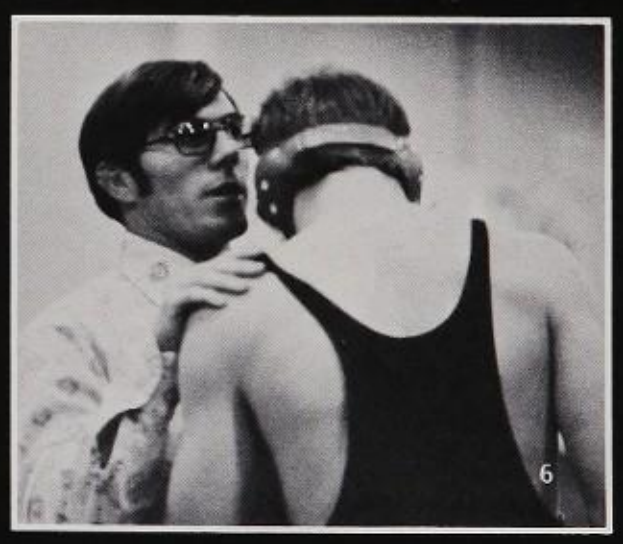
The Tar matmen ended up 2-5 in league competition with wins over Los Alamitos and a tough Western squad. They were dealt losses by Marina, Edison, Westminster, Loara, and Fountain Valley.

Because of the number of young and inexperienced wrestlers Coach Stansbury was often forced to match his best young wrestlers against older, more experienced ones. In a test to see just how well his wrestlers could do, he entered his young matmen in a Frosh-Soph tournament. They won first places in five different weight classes. With the return of these young wrestlers Coach Stansbury is optimistically looking forward to next season.









1-Head to head, NH wrestler takes on opponent. 2-Heavyweight Steve Bruno was a great asset to the Harbor team. 3-Quickness as well as strength is important to take control over opponent. 4-Muscles strain as Newport wrestler tries to down his opponent. 5-Bobby Brown in starting stance wrestled well this year. 6-Coach Stansbury offering advice and strategy before start of the match.

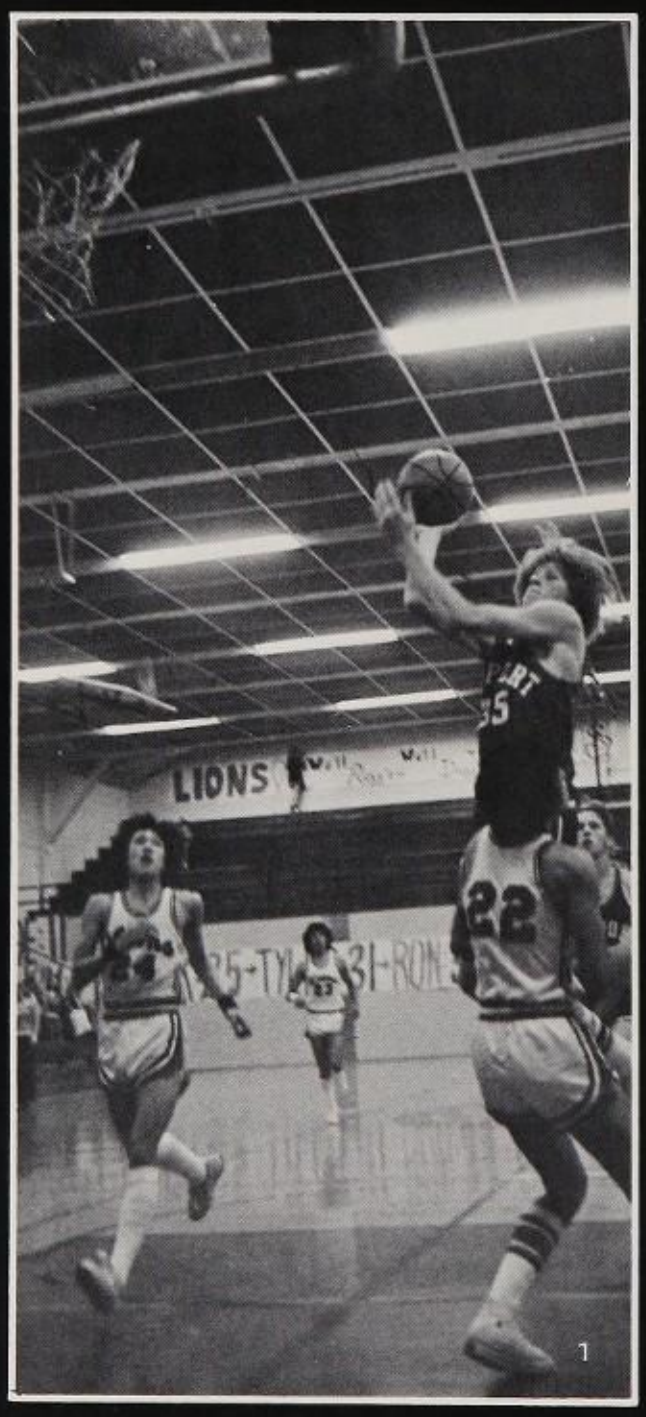
SAILORS POST 3-11 IN LEAGUE

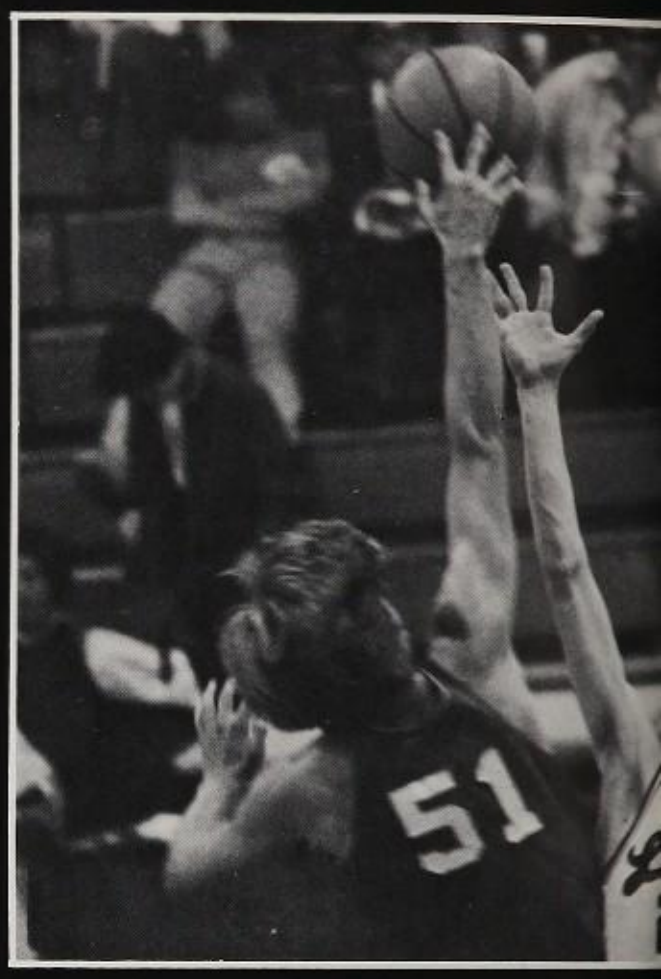
A disappointing season ended for the Sailors' basketball team with 3-11 in Sunset League. This placed them seventh in league standings.

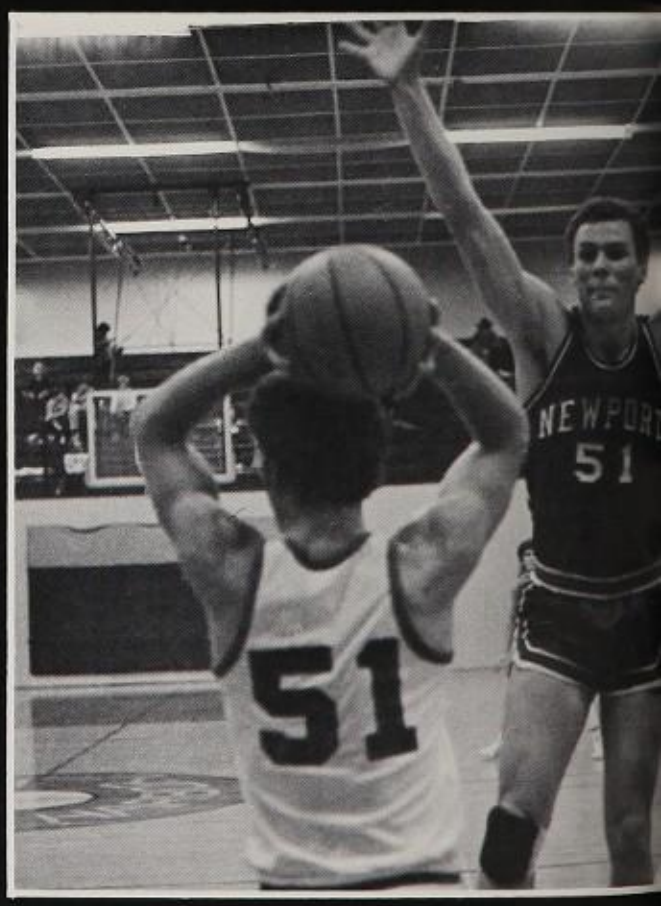
The season began with high hopes for the Tars. Coach Ammen felt that finally the team had come together and that they are playing as a team. But a turn in the destiny of the Newport team took its toll on the Sailors; sinking them way down into the Sunset League standings.

With the loss of senior Bill Wilkinson due to an operation, the team had to rely heavily on Newport's back-court quickness. Guards Kim Cooke, Rolf Schwalbe, and Ron Craig held down the back-court, while center Joe Distanislao and forwards Bob Galey and Pat Patrick had to pick up the rebounds.

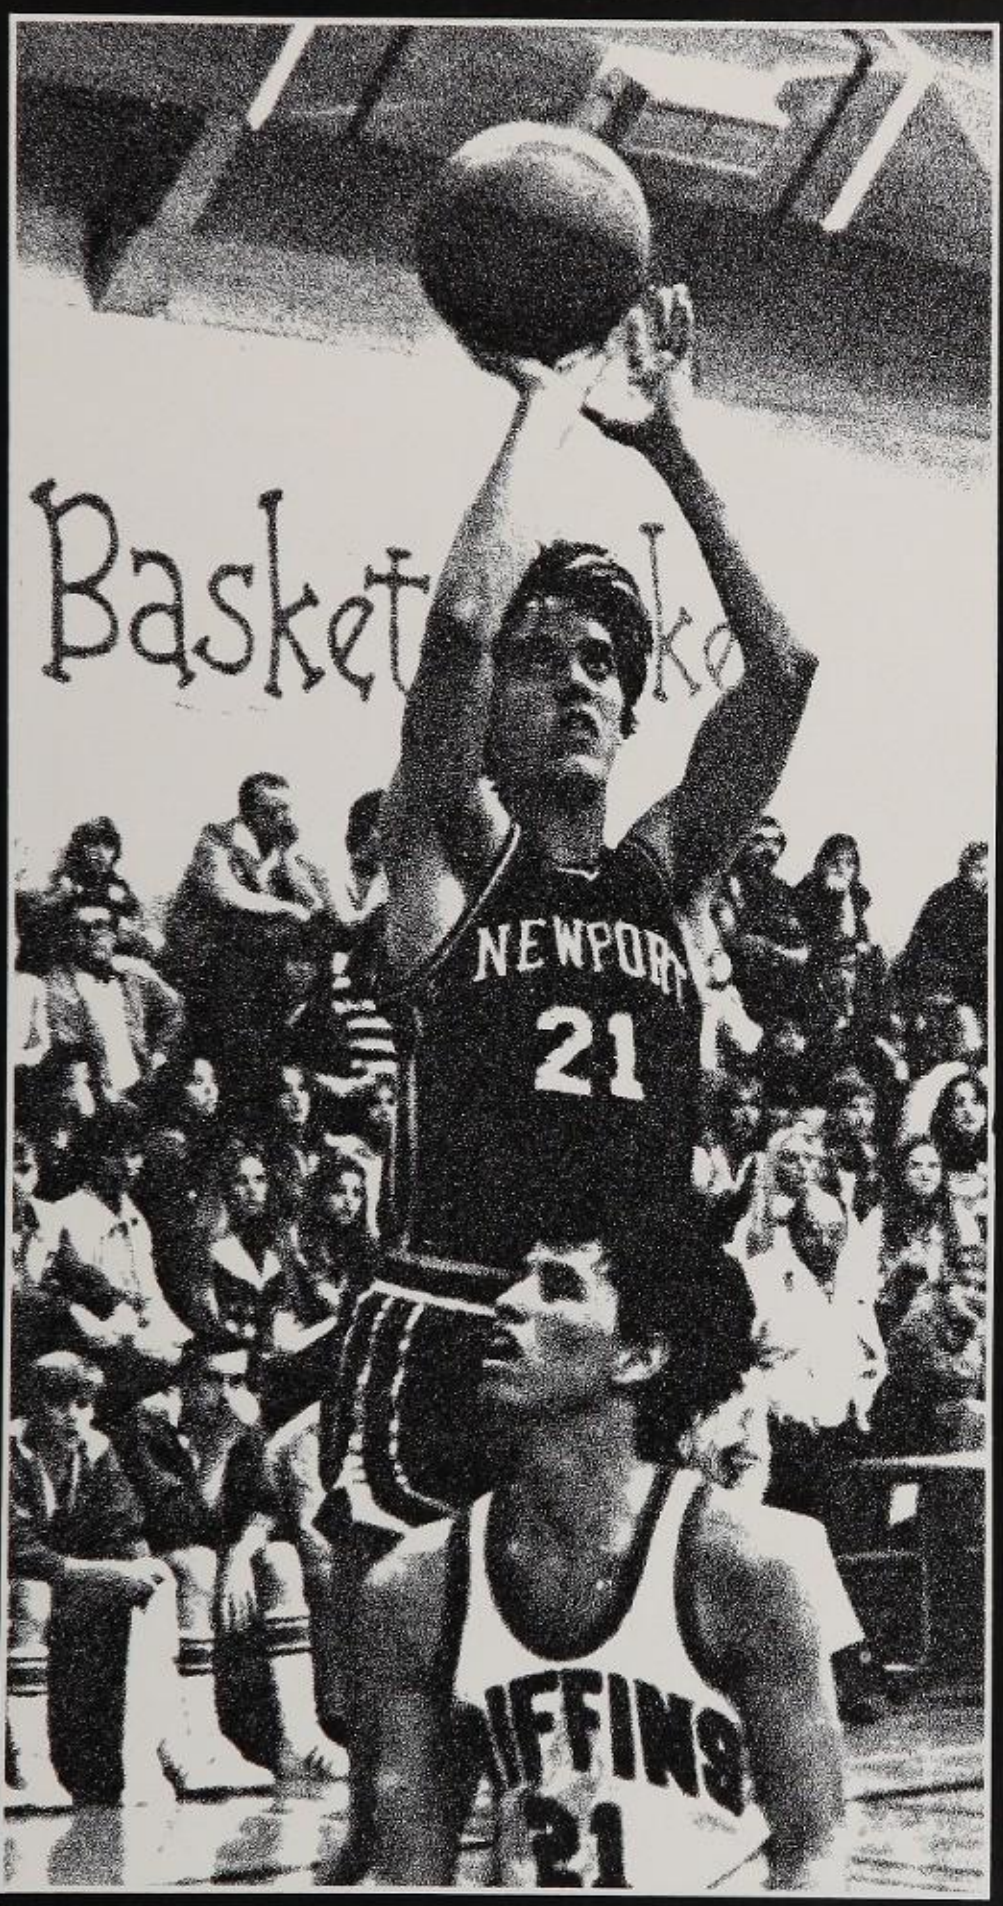
The Sailors were unable to overcome their inconsistencies in both offense and defense. They were the second worse team defensively in the league, allowing over 70 points a game. Offensively, the Tars shot well, but they have been guilty of too many turnovers.

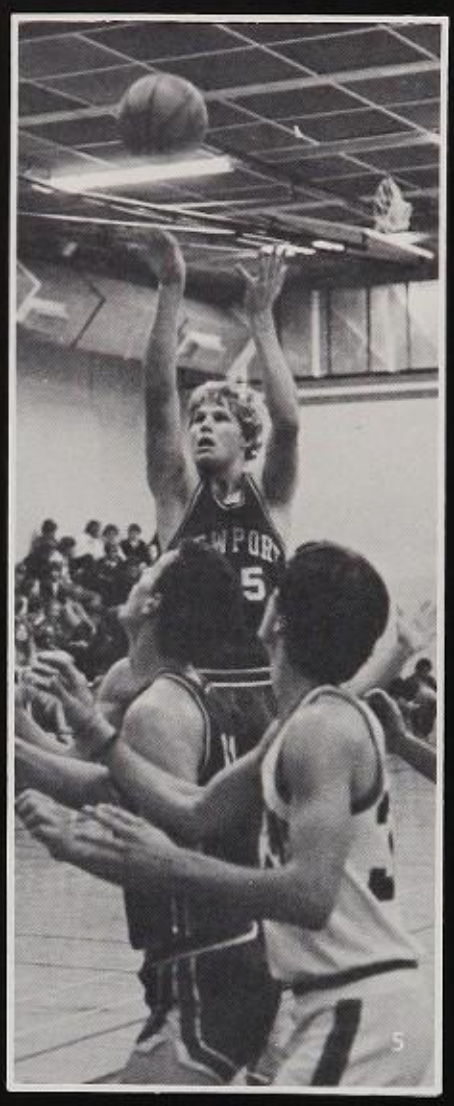






1- Junior Steve Simmons was a top scorer on the J.V. team. 2- Harbor Man out jumps opposition in starting game action. 3- Coming down fast and hard is center Joe Distanislao.





4- With no trouble from the opposition, Kim Cooke shoots. 5- Senior Bill Wilkinson was a top rebounder and scorer for the Sailors. 6- New to the Harbor coaching team is Mr. Kenny Ammen.

SOCCER

HARBOR PLACES FIRST IN LEAGUE

Kicking and stomping their way into CIF playoffs was Newport's Varsity soccer team headed by Coach Alfredo Moran. Undefeated in league action except for a tie with Fountain Valley, the soccer squad took the Sunset League crown and seated third in CIF.

Hopes of earning the CIF title went up in smoke as Newport lost to Santa Ana Valley in a 1-2 upset. In a desperate attempt to even the score, Newport did net another ball, but was too late as the buzzer sounding the end of the game had already rung.

Top scorers for the Newport team were seniors Tyron Blair, Jack Rainwater, and Jim Popov. Other assets to the team included Ken Parker, Doug Patton, and Craig Smith. Senior goalie Jon Benbow led the defense with six shutouts, tying the CIF record.

Coach Moran felt the success of his team is due to the team work.

SPIKERS VIE FOR LEAGUE CROWN

Vying for first place in the Sunset League, Coach U. B. Hailey's Varsity track team was hoping to enter CIF competitions. The only school in the League expected to give Harbor some trouble was Edison, but due to press deadlines, track's overall record was unknown.

Senior Steve Foley and sophomore Chris Corum headed the Tar team in short distances, while senior Gary Ertz, Lyle Haskell, and Don Fukamoto ran the two mile run. Junior Matt Dickey was featured in the 880 yard run.

Field events were hot this year as Newport hosted a number of Junior Varsity and Frosh-Soph record holders. Top flying man in the high jump event was Ronnie Craig. Junior Mike Hoose was also another strong jumper, but his expertise was in the triple jump. But the Sailor's highest flyers were senior Tim Dierenfield and junior Steve Schock in the pole vaulting event.

The relays teams comprised of Chris Corum, Bryant Humann, Steve Foley, and Rich Harrison, in the 440 and Bryant Humann, Matt Dickey, Chris Corum, and Steve Foley in the mile dominated the league.

DYE'S DEMONS DIVOT GREENS

Strong performances by seniors Mark Adair and Chris Zimmerman, junior Mike Draganza, and sophomore Mike Grothers gave the Varsity golf team under the direction of Mr. Steve Dye hopes of winning the Sunset League Crown. But winning the league will be tough because of powerhouse clubs like Edison and Marina. Scores were unavailable due to press deadlines.

VOLLEYBALL

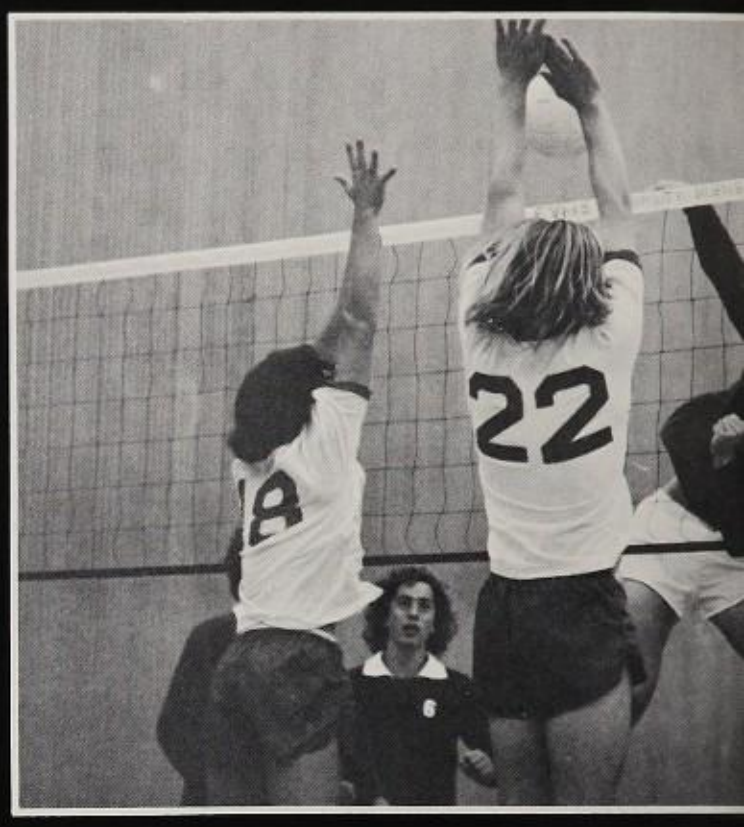
BUMPERS FAIR WELL IN LEAGUE

With hopes of entering CIF final competitions, Ron Coon's Varsity volleyball squad looked strong in league competition.

The Newport squad headed by Mark Slevcove, Kerry Carpenter, Paul Barrett, Cliff Schmeezing, and Tye Eggleston spiked and bumped their ways to numerous victories. The JV squad also promised a lot of wins for Newport.

Although Volleyball is now sanctioned by CIF, the Sunset League does not recognise the sport. The volleyball team participated in a volleyball circuit made up of other Southern California high schools.

Due to press deadlines, complete coverage was impossible. But prospects for the team were very as the team had already accumulated many wins.



1-Senior Jeff McBride is "up and on the ball." 2-Hitting through the opposition is one of Harbor's top Varsity players, Mark Slevcove. 3-One of Newport's serving aces on JV is Greg Hart. 4-Junior Marty Eslinger hitting the ball with some authority. 5-Perfection in volleyball is achieved by Kerry Carpenter as he reaches for the sky in an overwhelming spike. 6-Senior Frank Anderson pleading innocent to a net foul. 7-Varsity setter Kerry Carpenter digs to save the ball as teammate Paul Barrett prepares to get under it.

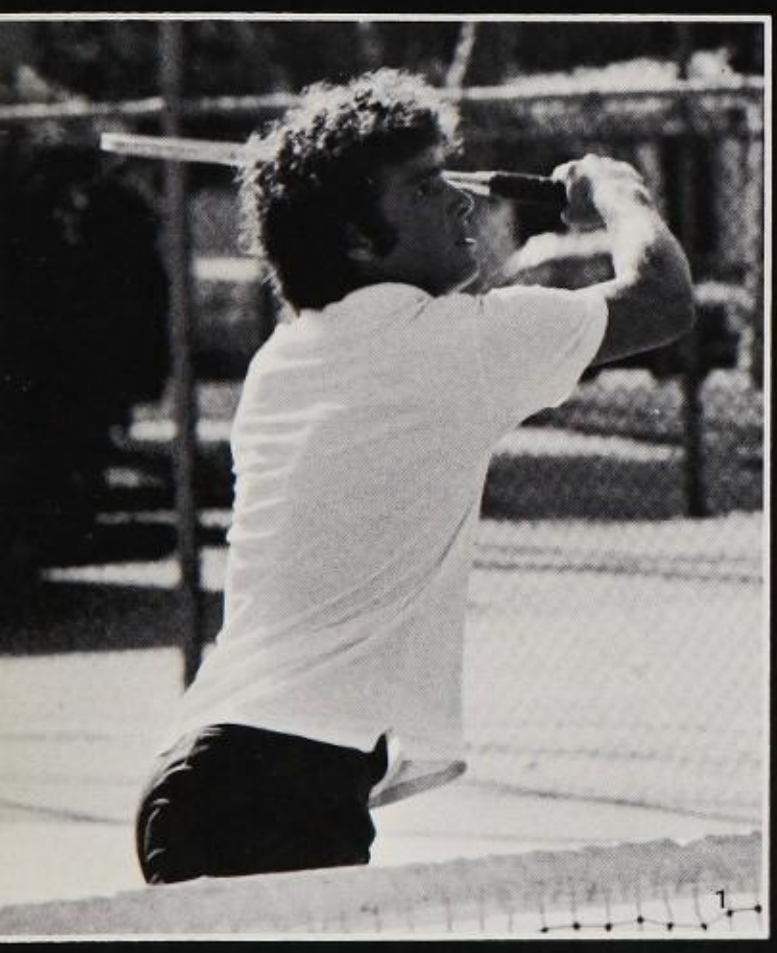
TENNIS

MAROSI, WITTWER HEAD RACQUETARS

Continuing the Newport Harbor tradition of excellent tennis, the 1976 Varsity team, coached by Pat Wilson, took the Sunset League crown again.

Lead by four year lettermen, Steve Marosi and Rick Wittwer, the Sailor team placed high in CIF competition.

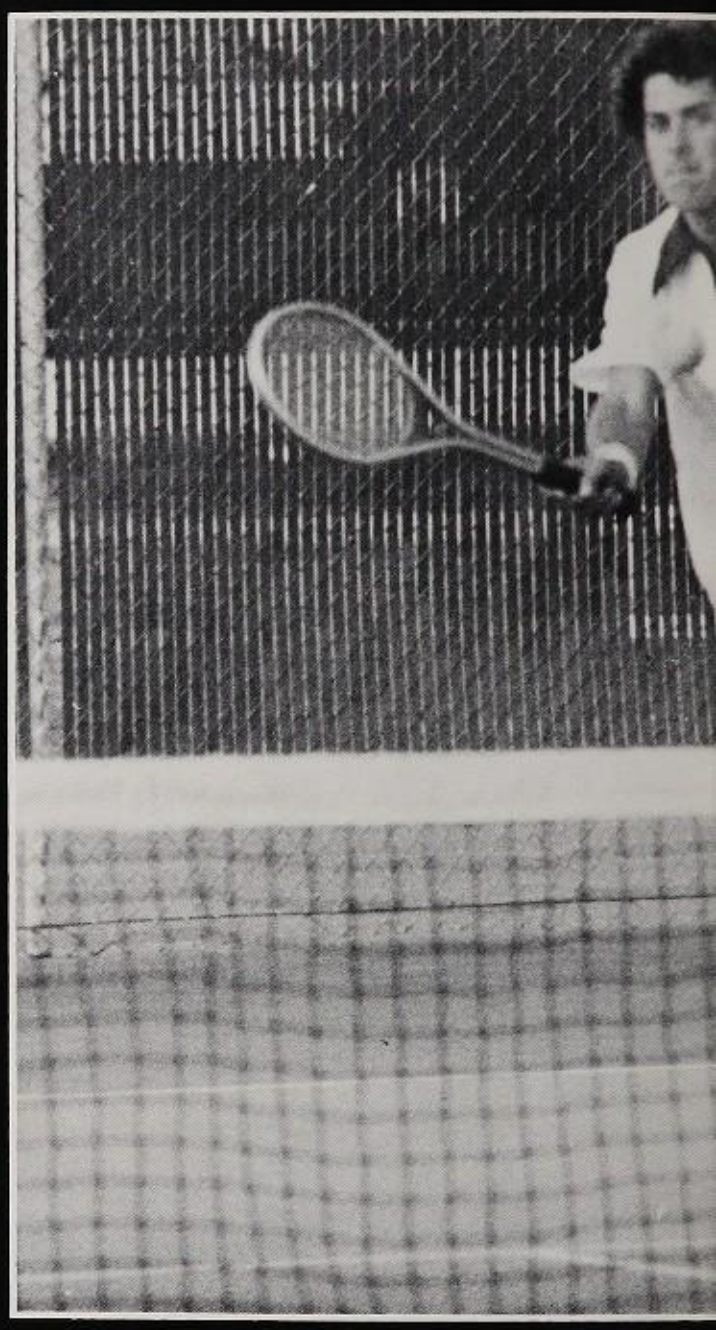


The racqueTars compiled a 7-2 pre-season record against some of the state's toughest teams. In Sunset League action, the Varsity team retained their crown without losing a match.

Other Newport stars included Dave Nicholson, a pleasant surprise who transferred to Harbor for his senior year, and the sophomore sensation, second year Varsity player Jed Dempsey.

Without the three year Varsity duo of Duncan Strauss and John Pearson, there would have been no team. Kevin Buckler and Jon Swedlund comprised the other top doubles team.

With depth in all positions and at press time an unblemished record, the Junior Varsity team was ranked number one in the state.



1-With fierce determination Duncan Strauss prepares a backhand volley. 2-Number one single player Steve Marosi with his winning forehand style. 3-Displaying his graceful backhand is Rick Wittwer as partner John Pearson watches. 4-Jon Swedlund serves, as partner Kevin Buckler awaits the return. 5-In good serving form is Dave Nicholson. 6-Coach Wilson rewarding his pet dog in Freshman initiation.

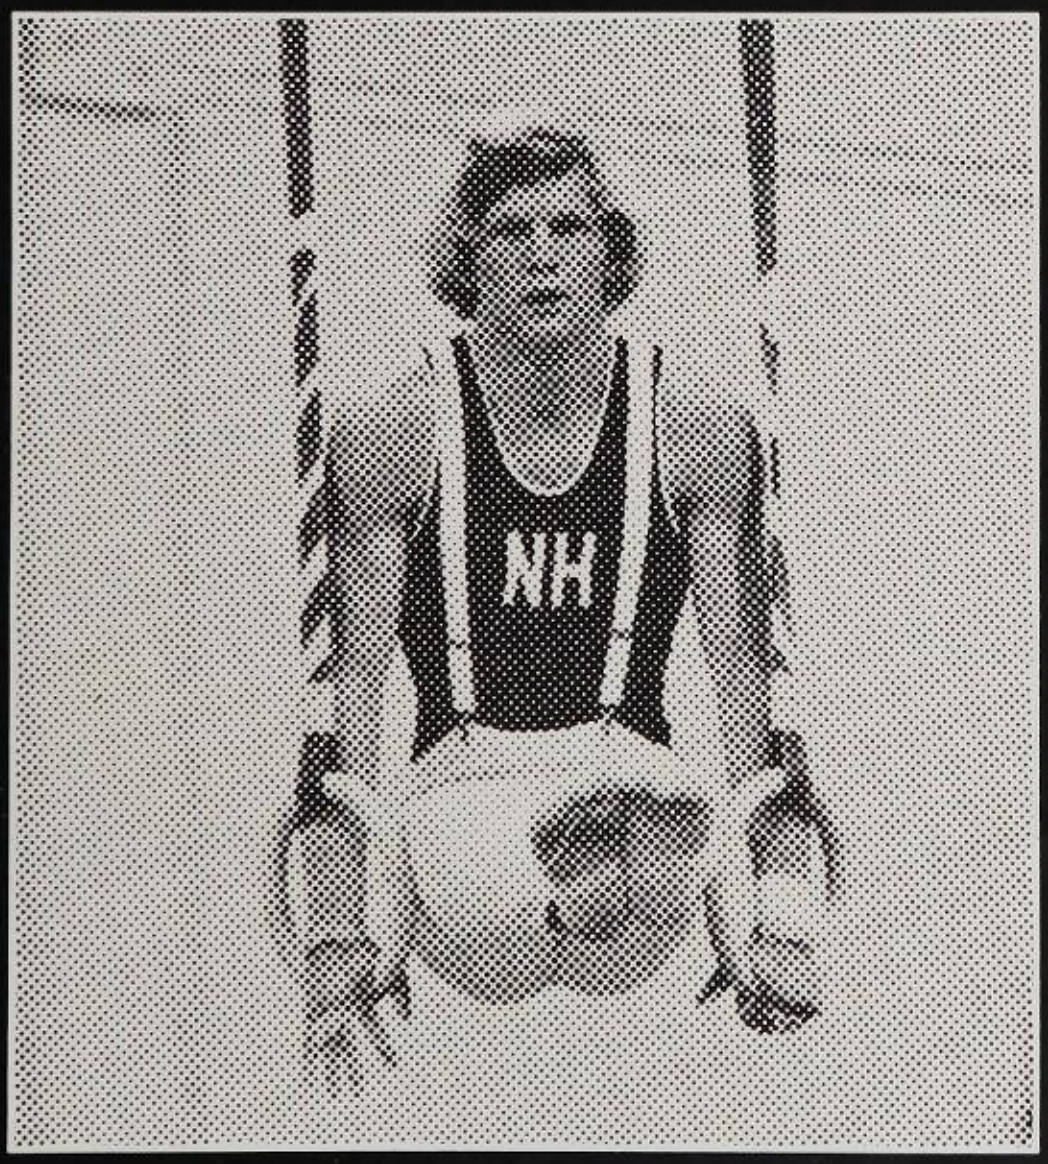
FLYIN' GYMNISTS HAD GOOD YEAR

Proving to be one of Harbor's most powerful gymnastic's team in years, Coach Dean Schwartz's squad hoped to place third in League action.



Dominating the league again this year was Westminster.

The Newport team proved to have a few strong men in the different events. Senior Jeff Wilson proved to be outstanding in free floor excersizes and the vault. Top Newport man on the pommel horse was junior Art Olswang. Other top athletes for the varsity squad were seniors Bill Buchanan and Dan Rossen on the high bar and parallel bars respectively. Junior Eric Boss won many firsts on the rings.

With the expertise that these fine athletes contributed, along with Coach Schwartz's guidance, Newport's team had a successful gymnastic year.

1&2-Junior Bill Pizzica shows the skill and concentration needed to perform well on the rings. 3-Body rigid and upside down is senior Dan Rossen. 4-Performing the L-lever on the parallel bars is junior Eric Boss. 5-Coach Dean Schwartz. 6-Muscles strain as senior Tim Walker shows his talent on the pommell buck. 7-Senior Jim Cathcart pauses in an L-lever position in a routine on the parallel bars.

SWIMMING

NH TRADITION STILL SWIMS ON

Those sleek seals of speedo speed have done it again as Newport Harbor's Varsity swim team shot through the water to within 0.02 seconds of the pre-season CIF relay champions and won fourth place CIF laurels at the end of the season. Epitomizing this year's aquatic excellence was the All-American 400 freestyle relay powered by Greg Fults, Jeff Stevens, Tony Meyers, and Jeff Demott.

In CIF, only the performance of two world-class swimmers kept All-American John Dobrott from capturing the CIF title in the 200 freestyle. The medley relay of John Dobrott, George Newland, Kevin Robertson, and Jeff Demott blitzed CIF, but the team's hunger for the limelight doesn't stop there, for also streaking to televised CIF finalists' spots were seniors Keith Robinson (100 breast), and Ted McGinley (500 freestyle), juniors Kevin Robertson (200 indo, 100 fly), Mike Vellenkemp (500 free) and Jeff Stevens (50 free).

Continuing in its own tradition of success, Newport's swim teams yawned through the League at all levels, though it must be admitted that Varsity swimmer Bob Owsley helped the JV team by condescending to play Mark Spitz and grab the JV medals at the league championships meet. Newport swims on.

BASEBALL

BASEBALL TEAM REALLY SWUNG

Relying mainly on pitching and overall speed, new head Coach Mike Gray's varsity baseball team fell short of the Sunset League crown.

The pitching team of sophomore Gary Brahs and junior Randy Hailey proved to be Newport's greatest asset. The left hander Brahs showed the opposing batters the skill of an outstanding pitcher.

Strongmen behind the bat were senior David Soss and juniors Matt Palmer and Brahs. But Harbor's best hitter proved to be senior Gordon Adams.

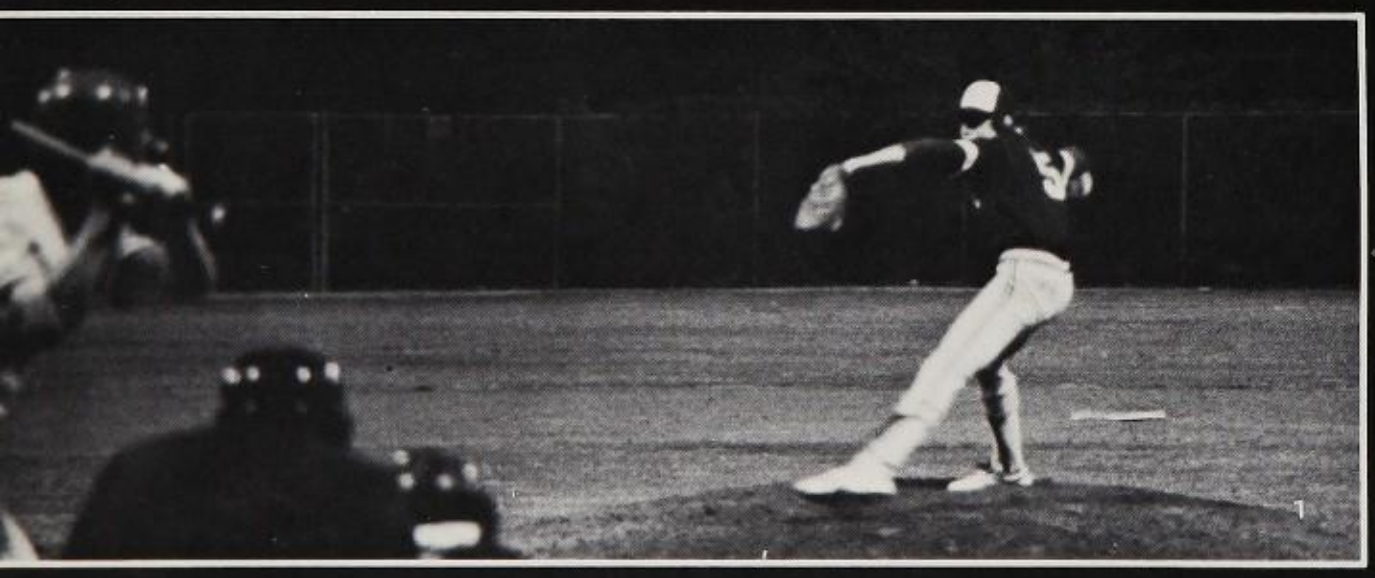
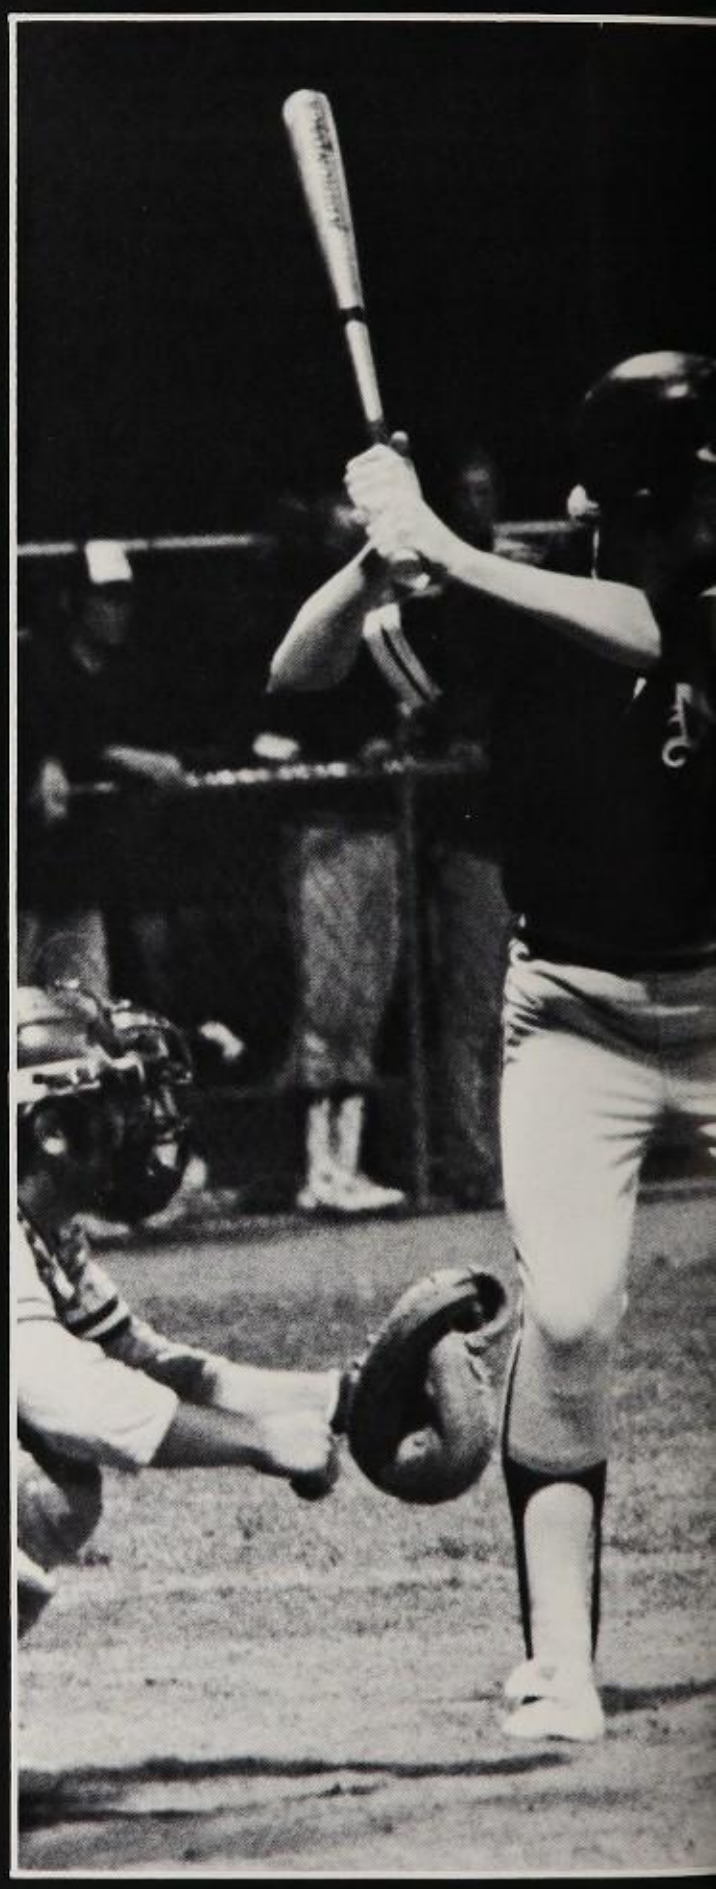
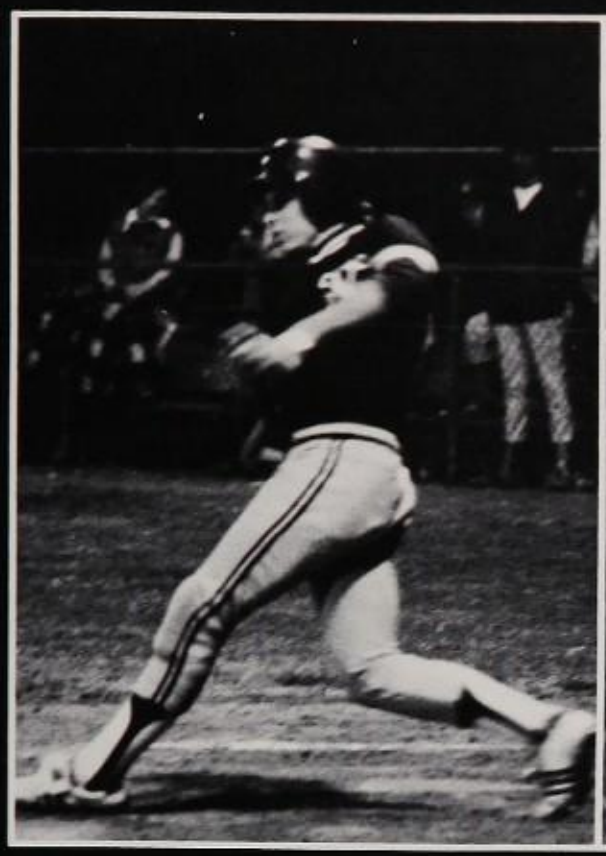
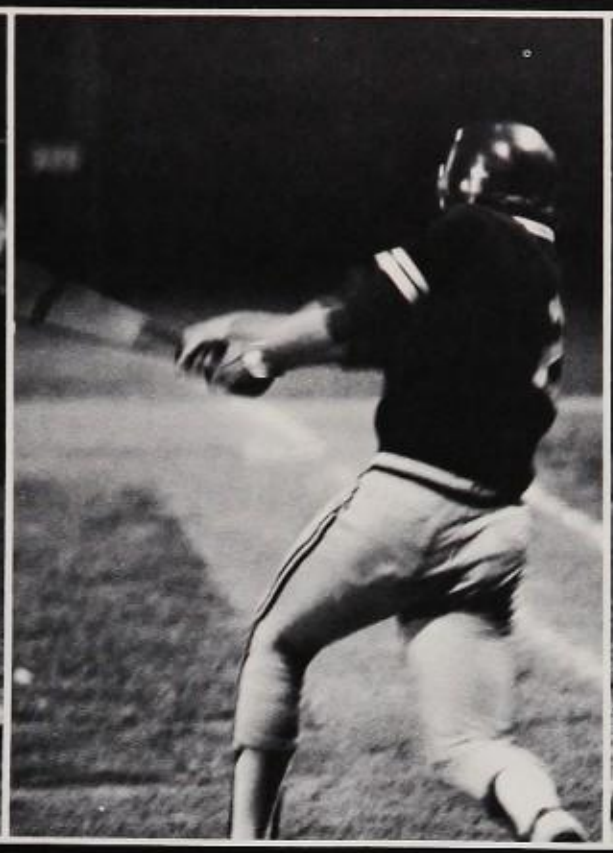
With the added talent of a few players, Newport's basemen had a successful year.

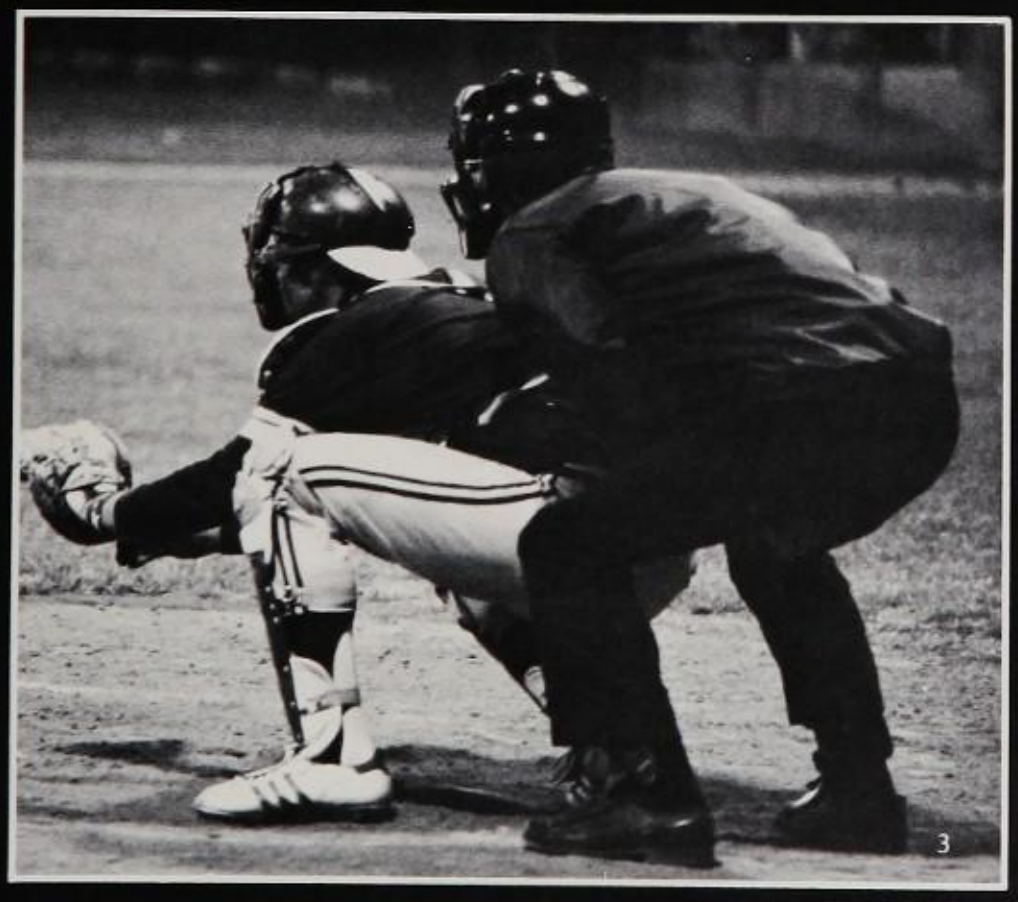




1-Senior Mike Pantuso's fast ball kept the opposition on the guard. 2-Batter up is senior Bill Wilkinson. 3-Behind the catcher, the umpire makes the calls. 4-Senior Gordon Adams vying for a base steal.







THE THREE "S's"

Although not sanctioned by CIF, the Galleon has included sailing, surfing, and skiing due to their growing popularity among the Harbor students. Sailing and surfing have become incorporated as teams participating in local and national competitions. Skiing still remained a club taking various trips to the snow covered slopes.

The sailing team under the direction of Mr. Wakeman cruised into first place in the Fort Worth, Texas Cotton Regatta. This victory for the seafaring crew ranked them among the top team in high schools.

The surfing team also did well this year. Practicing before school, the team was well prepared to challenge other schools in their early morning meets.

Getting away from the ocean and hitting the slopes was Harbor's ski club. It took local students to Park City, Utah, Mammoth, and Squaw Valley.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

The athletes in the Girls' Athletic Association all have a common desire; they like to win. Last year, they captured the Beach Cities League All-Sports Trophy over seven other schools. Even more amazing is that last year was the first year of CIF competition for Newport's GAA.

This year the girls have proved that their curves and dimples can be just as tough in the athletic arena, for tennis and volleyball won their league titles and proceeded to CIF. Volleyball spiked their way to the CIF quarterfinals; tennis racket-served itself to the CIF semi-finals; and field hockey advanced to the CIF semi-finals. The tennis team also sent two singles players and two double teams into CIF individual competition. Special recognition goes to the following coaches of these fearsome females: Tennis-Gloria Grotta, Volleyball-Judy Fogt, Hockey-Ellen Caricof and Laurie Snyder, Track-Rita McFarland, Swimming-Teri Winfrey, Gymnastics-Sandy Carney, Softball-Nancy Staub, Basketball-Lynn Blanton, Badminton-Judy Fogt.

TENNIS

IT WAS another year of domination by Harbor's female racqueteers in the Beach Cities League. The netters swept through the league as both a team and in individual competition.

IN TEAM CIF, NETTERS FALL IN SEMI-FINALS; SCHOETTLER, JOHNSTON # 3 INDIVIDUAL DUO

NOT SATISFIED with the league crown, two doubles teams, Lori Schoettler and Jill Johnston and Allyson Riley and Melinda Myers, and two singles players, Kelly Smith and Kelly Wagner, defeated league opposition to enter Individual CIF competition. Scheottler and Johnston advanced the farthest, losing in the semi-finals to the Championship CIF team. By doing so well, they were named the third duo in CIF.

THE TEAM that competed in CIF was four singles players, Schoettler, Johnston, Smith and Wagner, and two doubles teams, Riley and Myers and Barb Skinner and Joanne Gordon. The Team won impressively 28-0 and 21 ½-6 ½ in first round and quarter-final action. Westlake stopped the Sailors 7 ½-20 ½ in the semi-finals.

IN THE two years of CIF action, Newport hasn't lost a league match. The netters racked up 110 points for Harbor against a mere four. Pre-season and pre-CIF action also wasn't much of a challenge for the team. In pre-season action, Newport swept past San Clemente 15-2, Sunny Hills 16-1, Rolling Hills 16-0, Beverly Hills 82-79 and Miraleste 14-2. Foothill fell 16-12 in pre-CIF action. The overall season record was an impressive 15-1.

DETERMINATION AND skill were abundant in the 1975 volleyball season as the Varsity, Junior Varsity and GAA teams never dropped a league contest. The Varsity squad advanced impressively in CIF action before losing to the CIF Champions in the quarter-finals.

VARSITY BUMPED OUT IN QUARTER-FINALS; LEAGUE MVP DANIEL ON # 2 ALL-CIF TEAM

AFTER THE league title was theirs, the Varsity squad prepared for CIF competition. The team boasted three Beach Cities All-League players, Becky Daniel, Pam Knox and Sam Stoneman. Daniel was the League's Most Valuable Palyer. Going into CIF, Newport was seeded eighth. Rounds I and II were easy victories as Mater Dei fell 15-6, 15-5 and Glendale 9-15, 15-8, 15-13. The quarter-final match proved to be the last as number one seed and CIF Champions Louisville won 15-13, 15-7. On the second All-CIF team Newport was represent by League MVP Becky Daniel. The Most Outstanding Varsity players were Daniel, Marji Friday, Marie Lundie, Knox and Stoneman. Kathy Caricof was the Most Improved and Barb Benish was the Most Inspirational. League action was tougher than last year, but both Varsity and JV claimed the league titles. In pre-season matches, San Clemente fell, while Corona and Laguna beat Newport. Cindy Palmer was the Most Outstanding and Most Inspirational JV player, while Sally Stege was the Most Improved.

IN THREE sportsdays the 22 GAA teams ripped through all opposition. All-Stars included Gayle Penewell, Hillary MacDonald, Trish O'Rielly and Jeanne Wolfe.

Field Hockey

IT WAS a season of surprises in field hockey. The Varsity team didn't keep the league title, but advanced to the semi-finals in CIF. The Junior Varsity squad lost one game and reigned as League Co-Champions. The ten GAA teams also won all of their sportsdays.

SUCCESSFUL SEASON: VARSITY GOES TO SEMIS; MARJI FRIDAY NAMED TO FIRST ALL-CIF SQUAD

AFTER AN 8-0 pre-season stomp over Santiago, the Varsity team had high hopes of again capturing the league crown. Two upset league losses burst this bubble however. By a league tie-vote rule, Newport entered CIF as a second place team. Round I was an easy 2-0 win over Katella. Fourth seed La Habra fell 1-0 to Harbor in the quarter-finals. University stopped the Tars 2-1 in the semi-final game.

Most Outstanding Varsity players were Pam Knox, Marji Friday (both members of the All-League team), Stacey Kirkpatrick and Lynne Williams. Friday was also nominated to the first All-CIF team. Most Improved honors went to Karen Tripp and Friday was the Most Inspirational. The Coaches Award went to Sally Stege.

WITH ONLY one league loss, the JV team was League Co-Champion. The squad, mainly sophomores, also defeated Santiago in pre-season action. JV All-Stars were Janet Jacobi, Dana Kenworthy, Candy Montgomery and Jennifer Shoemaker. Eileen Harrington and Kenworthy were the Most Improved. The Most Inspirational player was Shoemaker.

UPSETS DOMINATED the cage season for Newport. The Varsity team did very well in tournament and pre-season action, but had trouble with Beach Cities League opponents, and tied for fourth place. The Junior Varsity team ended up with a 3-4 league record. In three sports-days, the GAA tennis were victorious in two out of the three outstanding days.

VARSITY TIES FOR FOURTH PLACE IN LEAGUE, CONSOLATION CHAMPIONS IN GROVE TOURNAMENT

BEFORE LEAGUE competition, the Varsity Team had a successful pre-seaso . Newport beat the defending CIF Champions, Santiago, to start the season off. Next on the s hedule was the 32 team Garden Grove Invitational Tournament. Newport dropped the first game to Mater Dei, but came back to beat Los Altos, Palos Verdes, Immaculate Heart and Connelly to be the consolation bracket champions. Other pre-season games were a one point loss to Los Amigos and a win over El Modena. League competition was stiffer than in the past as the three losses were by close scores. The overall record was 10-5. The JV squad posted a 2-1 season record and a 3-4 league record.

COACH BLATTON felt the team accomplished more than the record indicated.

The GAA teams lost to Westminster and beat Edison and Huntington Beach in sports days.

GYMNASTICS

ALTHOUGH THE gymnastics team failed to retain the league crown, many fine performances were turned out by Harbor's tumblers.

JV SQUAD FARES WELL IN LEAGUE: VARSITY TUMBLES THROUGH SEASON

COACHED BY Sandy Carney, the Varsity and Junior Varsity gymnastic squads practiced daily from the second quarter. This practice greatly helped the JV team as they were 4-0 at presstime in league action. The Varsity team was 1-3 in league at presstime. In the only pre-season match, Newport ripped through Corona del Mar in both divisions.

COACH CARNEY was optimistic, however, that the top gymnasts would compete in Individual CIF, even if the team did not. The top Varsity gymnasts included Nancy Choiniere, Sandy Sharp, Katie Mulroy, Terry Sharp and Dana Gragg. Stars of the JV squad were Jill Timmons, Robin McClure, Kelly Loy, Kim Connell, Karen Shropshire, and Karen Helfrich. Coach Carney was also assisted by Jan Bodinus.

AT PRESSTIME, the high scorers on each event were; Choiniere and Timmons and Connell on the balance beam, Choiniere and Timmons and McClure on the uneven parallel bars, Choiniere and Mulroy and Helfrich and Connell in the floor exercise and Choiniere and Loy on the vault.

TRACK

TRACK TEAMS at Newport Harbor have a history of doing well, and the 1976 team kept this tradition alive. Talent and depth in every event was the team's greatest asset.

SPIKERS OUTDISTANCE COMPETITION
SHOWING STRENGTH IN EVERY EVENT

THE SPECTACULAR 440 relay team of Barb Benish, Karen Bradford, Joy Marimon and Nancy Olson ran well again this year, after being one of the top teams in the state last year. They hold the school record with a sizzling 48.4 time. The mile relay team, made up of Benish, Bradford, Candy Montgomery and Olson, sat a new school record, 4:10.9. Carolyn Leith broke the old 880 record with 2:31.4. The 440 record also fell, as Bradford ran it in 61.9.

THE FIELD events weren't to be left out of the record breaking, either. Shotputter Becky Daniel, one of the state's best, set a new school record with an astounding 42'5¼" heave. Freshman Sue Kruse set a new long jump record with a 17'9¼" leap. Kruse was also the top high jumper, consistantly clearing five feet, often 5'2".

AS OF this writing, the spikers were 4-0 in league. The team's chances to win the league title were excellent according to Coach Rita McFarland.

THE TRACKSTERS were also victorious in two pre-season meets, a tri-meet with Laguna and Corona and a dual meet with Burbank. The team also entered four Invitationals - Newport's own Beach Cities, Chaffey, Ventura and Arcadia. The team also aimed to qualify for the CIF, the Masters and State Meets, and with this talented team, their chances were excellent.

WORKING OUT five days a week since the start of the second semester, Coach Terry Winfrey's swimmers were more prepared to do better in league, Invitational and CIF meets. Besides the regular league loop, the team participated in the Mission Viejo-Edison Invitational. They also had two pre-league meets against Rancho Alamitos and Corona del Mar.

THE EVENTS the Varsity squad competed in included, the 200 yard Medley Relay; 500, 200, 100 and 50 Freestyle, 200 Individual Medley; 100 Breaststroke, 100 Butterfly; 400 Free Relay. The Junior Varsity distances were half the Varsity.

Softball

A BIKE-A-THON to raise money for the batting machine already purchased was the first order of the softball team. The machine, which was about $700, was acquired to help the team face the good, fast pitchers which the Beach Cities League seemed to have in abundance.

PITCHING MACHINE PURCHASED TO IMPROVE BATTING SKILLS

COACH NANCY STAUB, assisted by Laurie Snyder, had four returning Varsity players pitcher Zenda Leake, Pam Knox, Gayle Penewell and Lynne Williams. Julie Dunger and Julie Bernatz were Junior Varsity returners. Laurie Cook was the JV pitcher. Almost ten players were freshmen, a sign of a good future. The Varsity team was coming off a 2-5 league record of last year. There were two pre-league games for Harbor's sluggers, with Santiago and Foothill.

Students. The people to whom, for whom, and by whom the Galleon is written. Students who laugh at parties and cry at finals; students who prefer surf to syllables, the beach to biology, and Sheriff John to all-school assemblies. Students. More than names, more than numbers, more than pictures. They are your friends. Remember?

STUDENTS

LÖTTA HOGLUND - "I think Newport Beach is a beautiful place to live with the ocean and all the sailboats. I love all the fresh fruits and vegetables here! There are so many varieties and large quantities. For me, it was something new to have clubs, bands, varsity teams and other things that are attached to school. The school I come from at home is strictly academic. I'm VERY, VERY glad I had the opportunity to come."

GABRIELE AHNERT - "What language do you speak in Germany?" "Do all Germans eat apple cores?" "How many bottles of beer do you consume daily?" ... Those are some of Harbor students' first questions about Germany and me! As time went on, and I became more familiar with Harbor, and Harbor with me, the questions became less sensational. Coming from a strict academic school system, I really appreciated your classes. In short, I have had a marvelous time."

FOREIGN STUDENTS

What did Newport Harbor have in common with Finland, Sweden, and West Germany? Sappe, Lotta, and Gabi, that's what. Under the auspices of Youth for Understanding Teenage program Sari (Sappe) Penttila had come from Finland to live the school year with senior Susie Cline's family. Spending the year under the American Field Service program are Lotta Hoglund from Sweden staying with senior Kathi Jager's family and Gabrielle (Gabi) Ahnert from West Germany staying with senior Julianne Howe's family.

SAPPE PENTTILA - "When I was a little kid, my impression of America was fat, lazy people with weird sunglasses and a lot of money and cars. Of course I decided never to come here. But my thoughts changed over the years, even so much that I wanted to come here as a foreign exchange student for a year. Since I've come, I've really learned a lot. 100% of the people are nice, and the food here is fattening! When I go back to Finland, I'm going to tell all my friends to come here."

At last! The Senior year, the crowning flourish to four years of growing up. Those who came to Harbor's hallowed halls in 1972 as willing buyers of bell-tower elevator tickets leave as cynical registered voters knowing all there is to know. That is, they must know all there is to know or why else would they take five periods of Advanced Home?

What was once a sketchy squad of baby faces is now a rag-tag regiment of baby peach fuzzes. The freshmen slink gives way to the senior strut; gigglish girls become the coy carousers of past-curfew moonlight; and T-shirt wardrobes melt before the sequined dazzle of tailored prom tuxes.

Not that this new-found self-image is all no good. When one hears "I love you" from the parted lips of an upper classman, more likely than not it's just some drooling senior staring at a mirror. The hallways groan as 700 seniors puff around humming Ringo Starr's song "I'm the Greatest", while the ASB store is raking in on the sale of special diplomas which say "When you're hot, you're hot." Knowing how eager this miscreant society of mongrels is to have its most precious thoughts immortalized by paper and ink, the Galleon has printed next to the picture of each senior his or her responses to the following questions: person you most admire, favorite pastime, favorite place to be, person who has been the biggest inspiration to you, future plans, goal in life, what, here at Harbor has made the greatest change in your life, who would you dedicate your life to, and their favorite saying.

SEPTEMBER 28, 1972-Sometime during this year, you'll ask yourself, "How come I'm not out earning big bucks?" Then you'll say to yourself, "because I don't know how to do anything!"

C.R.O.P., the Coastline Regional Occupation Program, is here to help you. Nurse's aide, lab aide, radiology aide and clerical aide are just a few specific courses offered.

Being only one year old, C.R.O.P. has already placed over 60 percent of its students in profitable employment. This year, there are 481 training slots available. One of the seven programs is briefly explained. The Allied Health Program has been designed to prepare individuals for jobs in the health industry.

OCT. 19, 1972-Approximately 120 students are taking a class new at Harbor this year, photography. Mr. Donald Vanderland is teaching all five classes in this addition to Harbor's curriculum.

The course will cover such things as the history of photography, composition, developing, mounting, enlarging, printing, and special effects. The class is open to all classes except freshmen.

Although the class is new the idea is not. Five years ago the idea was brought up but it was put off. The idea was brought up again in 1970 and facilities for the class were provided in East Hall, which was then being planned.

The purpose of the class is to help stimulate student involvement with the school surroundings, while earning class credits at the same time. The horticulture class has nothing to do with the ENC.

Every second period class will be able to adopt a family, and will endeavor to help them by bringing food and toys. Canned foods of all type will be appreciated so that the family can have an enjoyable Christmas week. The Salvation Army will pick up the gifts at Newport Harbor and deliver them to the families on Christmas Eve.

Oct. 4, 1973-Coffee, tea, or scrambled eggs?

Students will have their choice of these delights and much more when the Short Order Cooking class will open their student run breakfast cafe, sometime later this month.

The cafe, completely run by students of the class, will be situated in the cafeteria and will be open from 7:00 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. For those students who crave morning munchies, delicacies such as hash browns, cinnamon toast, sweet rolls and other typical side orders that any other breakfast house would serve, will be available. And the price? Where else can breakfast lovers get two eggs, toast, hash browns, choice of bacon or sausage, and either juice, coffee or tea for a mere 75 cents?

Customers who prefer pancakes and such can get those too.

Oct. 4, 1973- For years this school's administration has attempted to update their student registration procedure in order to eliminate the problems that always seem to accompany the process.

It seems the administration, or at least those connected with registration, have struck on a system that is a vast improvement from the others used.

The unique do-it-yourself walk through system not only speeded up an otherwise slow and elaborate process, but gave students a chance to select the teacher they preferred and the period in which they desired the class.

The major complaint encountered (as always) was that the last students to complete the process faced the problem of closed classes. The only difference this year, people with last names beginning with the first few letters of the alphabet encountered the closed classes.

October 4, 1973- After unsuccessfully operating on a basis of trust among its many student borrowers, the Multi-Media Center is soon to be equipped with an electronic book detection system. Its aim: to cut down the loss of nearly 1300 books per year to less than a one percent loss rate.

Books, magazines and other materials are treated so that they can activate the system if they have not been checked out, or deactivated by a machine at the desk. The exit gate then locks and a bell rings at the checkout desk.

The MMC claims it's not an invasion of privacy of the student, because there are no cameras as many first believed.

NOV. 8, 1973- A dull click is heard over the P.A. system. Legs spring into action, racing frantically towards their destination, the "speedy lunch line". But no matter how fast they run, it's too late. The large line continues to slow down to no faster than a snail's crawl, mainly because of the number of students who have "buddies" up somewhere ahead of you. (Ever notice how popular you are when you're in the front of the line?)

Eventually, with only a few minutes left, the last survivers straggle through only to find nothing left worth eating.

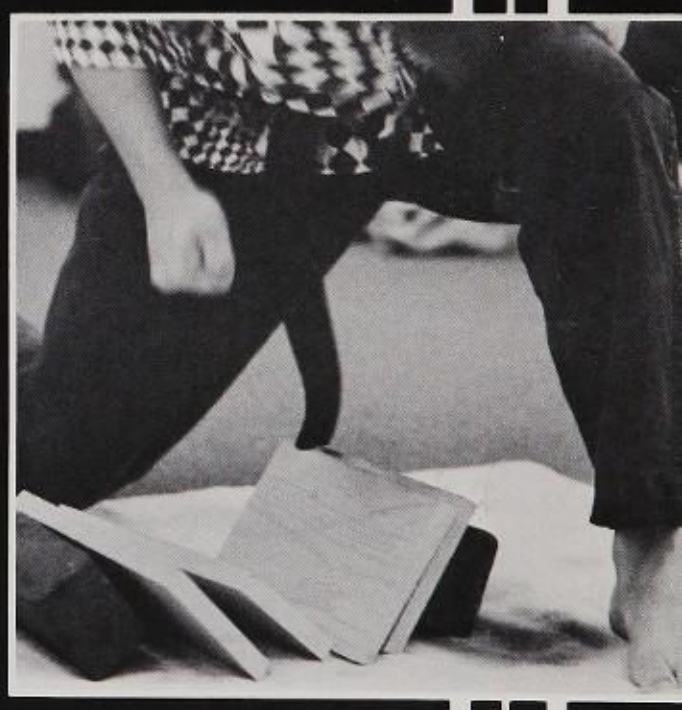
November 29, 1973- Handwriting analysis ... karate ... transcendtal meditation ... undertaking ... an almost endless list of different types of mini-courses is tentatively planned for this school year.

There is a different format for this years' mini-courses. Instead o of the usual week of classes, three days in separate weeks, will be utilized with three different classes.



There is another big change in the way the mini-courses will be run. Three days before the mini-courses, there will be pre-registration. In other words, to sign up for that class, a student who has not signed up for a class will not be admitted. There will be a limit to the number of people in each class.

JAN. 24, 1974- It's Dr. Godshall now.

Principal Charles Godshall has recently added the new title of Dr. to his name after 11 years of work in and out of USC, on his Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Dr. Godshall stated that the purpose of acquiring a Ph.D was for personal and professional development through learning about administration.

Furthermore, a Ph.D in Education is needed in case he ever decided to apply for a position such as Superintendent of Schools.

MARCH 14, 1974- The New Year for most people arrived January 1, but for Miss Ann Porter's Chinese class the real New Year started Feb. 2.

It was the Chinese New Year, and Miss Porter's class celebrated the occasion by spending a wild weekend in San Francisco. Funds for the trip were raised entirely by the class; they amounted to over $800.

The Chinese Club has been one of the most active clubs on campus this year. They have presented a surfing film and just recently raffled off two tickets to the Bob Dylan Concert. Senior Amy Wagner won them.

OCT. 3, 1975- "In an attempt to further improve our learning environment, attendance procedures have been completely revised," stated Dr. Charles Godshall in his back to school letter to students.

This year's new attendance system ushered in a whole new set of guidelines and a Director of Attendance in the person of Joseph McCoy. With about 3,000 students enrolled at Harbor, Mr. McCoy's job is a busy, full-time one. His function in the new system will be to moniter attendance accounting and counsel the students with attendance problems.

Since attendance is checked every period Mr. McCoy predicts truancy rates will drop, hopefully.

OCT. 17, 1974- What does Newport Beach, California have in common with Johannesburg, South Africa, Konya, Turkey and San Sebastian, Spain? They all have students who attend Harbor High.

This year, the American Field Studies program better known as AFS, is sponsoring three foreign students, Felicity Lowry of the Republic of South Africa, Altan Uyker of Turkey and Toni Alfonso of Spain.

AFS's stated aim is to achieve better understanding between students of America and other countries. And the three AFSers reported that they are learning more about America everyday.

Dec. 12, 1974- Head Coach Bill Pizzica said, "I'm very proud of this team and its accomplishments. I will probably remember this team for the rest of my life."

The Sailor varsity football team has just completed the most successful season in Newport Harbor gridiron history. This team is the first football squad to ever win 10 games in one season and was the first team to win an outright championship in the Sunset League since the 1940's.

The season ended last Friday when the Tars lost to the Torrance Warriors in Long Beach by a score of 24-0. This was the first shutout in 32 games for the Tars.

The game last Friday brought the Sailors record to 10-2 for an average of .833.

Jan. 23, 1975- A rowdy history class settles down and opens its various magazines and books. Silence reigns as all students, teachers and even secretaries and administrators take a reading break.

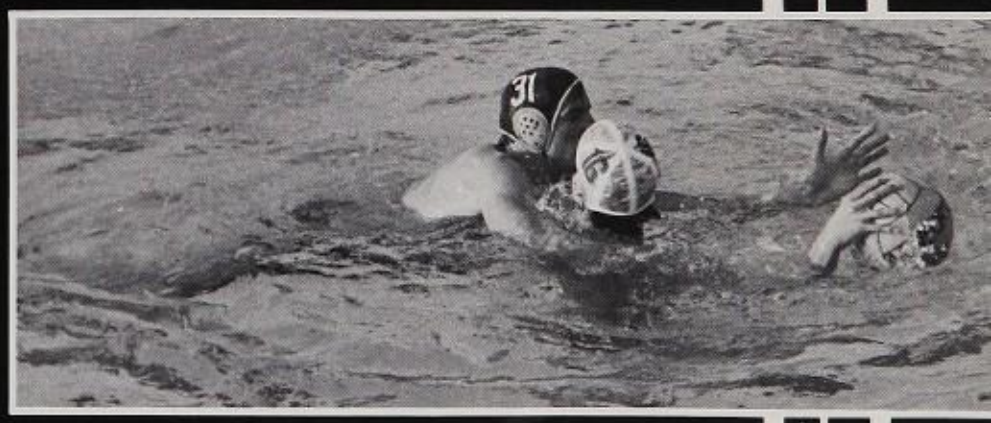
JAN. 23, 1975- In case you missed it, Newport Harbor's Water Polo team was defeated by Corona del Mar 5-4 in the CIF finals last month. Corona del Mar had tremendous support from their students, while Newport had basically no support at all.



How could such a ridiculous situation occur in the first place especially in a CIF final game and against CdM? Easy: King Football was playing a CIF quarter-final game the same night. So water polo, being a so called minor sport, ate the big green moldy fig. To fully understand why football receives such a priority treatment some distinctions must be made about sport. The actual benefit a team derives from a crowd is hard to measure but when two evenly matched teams are playing the most important game, any advantage is helpful.

JAN. 23, 1975- The first Newport Harbor Invitational Car Rally vs. Corona del Mar is now set for February 1, at 7 p.m. with all cars starting in the Newport parking lot.

This is the second car rally sponsored this year by he Math and Science Club and the first competition with another school.

The entrance fee is $1 per car and 25 cents per passenger. The winner will take home 50 per cent of the profits, with second and third receiving 30 per cent and 20 per cent respectively.

"We hope a lot of Newport students will turn out for this rally. Because of the possible gas rationing this may be the last car rally of the year," stated Dave Warner.

FEB. 13, 1975-Harbor High has been plagued all year by damage done to student and school properties. The latest victim in the series of damaged property was Newport's dugout.

The attack on the dugouts, which is believed to have occurred sometime prior to Christmas vacation, included the breaking off of portions of the benches, the twisting of wire fences, and painting of words on the walls.

SEPT. 25, 1975- After 18 years of service at Harbor High, Mrs. Gladys Bonner will retire from her post as secretary in the ASB office on October 17.

Mrs. Bonner, one of the veteran members of Harbor's staff, has had seven bosses in her career here.

"The kids are nicer this year," noted Mrs. Bonner. "They're nicer every year."

Mrs. Bonner said that she plans to do some traveling with her husband in their van, as well as doing some painting.

MORE STUDENTS

THE CLASS OF 1977 crosses the imaginary line between underclassmen and upperclassmen status. One can always distinguish an upperclassmen by the way these 'top dogs' crank the ends of their noses in the air, toward the heavens. In fact, a common injury among juniors is abrasion of the nose against ceılings. Further enhancing this smugness of superiority among juniors is the knowledge that they are responsible for that great tournament of plumes and peacock feathers, the Junior - Senior Prom. To finance this extravaganza of ego-trip tuxedos and glimmering gowns, the Junior class sponsors fund-raising events such as dances and the talent show, Tars and Stars. Next year these supercilius juniors become seniors, a position from which they can control the entire student body beneath them.

Running into people, avoiding them, nearly anything can (and does) happen on the way to grab some lunch and head for the square in front of Beek Hall. In seeing the electric guitars, drums, and huge speakers, students' reactions range from "Oh no, not another band" to "Hey, I've heard they'r good.", to "I hope they'r not as bad as the last band was." But when the band starts the Beach Boys' "Help me Rhonda" and the Eagles' "Lying Eyes", reactions change. PEOPLE BEGIN TO "BOOGIE" to the somewhat mellow tunes, and enjoy themselves.

"PLEASE DO NOT OPEN YOUR TEST BOOKLET until you are told to do so." And so begins another session of Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests. This test (the PSAT), is offered annually to all those juniors who dare to have a sneek preview at what the "biggie" is all about - that dreaded SAT test!

After struggling to get up in the morning for their 8:30 "reporting time", which incidentally, was planned this year on the morning immediately following Homecoming, some students began to wonder what this test was all about.

A HIGHLIGHT OF SPIRIT WEEK, October 20-24, was the UNICYCLE RACE. A number of Newport Harbor Students showed their cycle-riding talent by zipping through the quad at remarkable speeds while dodging trash cans and spectators. SOPHOMORES

THE SOPHOMORE YEAR, WHILE OFTEN OVERLOOKED AS 'THE MIDDLE CLASS,' is an important period in the street towards adulthood. Sophomores still might feel like underclassmen deep down inside, but they'll have their driver permits burned before they admit it. After a year of 'lazing' as a freshman, the sophomores are probably the first ones to sell this year's freshmen elevator tickets to the top of the bell tower and are also probably the first ones to send a new freshman to the metal shop when he's looking for the cafeteria. In addition to this air of superiority sophomores also develop an acute case of craniuminfatius (swollen head) when they receive the crown jewel of adolescence, the driver license, the wallet size catalyst which transforms a mildmannered freshman into Wonder Wheels! Suddenly the forlorn cry "Do I have to go to the store, Mom?" becomes the breathless plea "Can I drive you to the store, Mom? How about the mailbox? Or a spin around the driveway...maybe?" As these full- fledged teenage terrors hurl and screech their machines through the streets, they grin and smirk as do the owners of body shops. Next year these mature young men and women will cross the imaginary line between upper and underclassmen and will become juniors. Already they rubbing their hands and car keys in eager expectation.

For the first time in the history of Newport Harbor, we have a significant amount of foreign students from one country joining our student body. THESE STUDENTS ARE FROM SOUTH VIETNAM.

It would be, however, as impossible to associate these eleven Vietnamese girls and boys with one group as it would be to categorize the rest of us into one group. They are Vietnamese, yes, but their interests and personalities differ as much as a "surfer" differs from a "smack". They are an exciting bunch of kids and they think "NHHS has been great to them."

THE NEWPORT HARBOR BRIGADE is sighted each morning at 7:45 by the friendly, local police officer on the Irvine Avenue beat. Those not heeding the Irvine-16th intersection stop sign are additionally cited.

This morning ritual has resulted in a number of changes among Newport students: first, there has been a jump in carrot sales as students try to improve their telescopic vision; second, rules of the road are being obeyed more and more by previously cited students; and third, the bike shops are enjoying extra profits by those law abiding citizens.

This year the Film Society presented TWELVE OUTSTANDING MOVIES in the Newport Harbor Auditorium. For a mere $5.00 with an A.S.B. card and twelve evenings, one was able to view a host of award winning movies. Included were: The Hustler, starring Jackie Gleason and George C. Scott; Young Frankenstein, Mell Brooks' spoof on horror films; and The Sting, an Academy Award winning film, starring Robert Redford.

Among the other films were: Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid; The Longest Yard with Burt Reynolds; The Dirty Dozen, a movie about World War II; Forbidden Planet, a psychological science-fiction film; Paper Moon; Bedazzled, a wacky British film about a short order cook and the devil; The Cincinnati Kid; and Jason Robards and George Segal in The St. Valentines Day Massacre.

To show school spirit and stimulate enthusiasm for Homecoming, Executive Council held a RED, WHITE, AND BLUE DAY. Many people participated in wearing our National colors. Outfits varied from red, white, and blue tennis dresses to Mickey Mouse costumes. The special of the day was the "Red, White, and Blue Day Parade" led by Executive Council.

FRESHMEN

"Now will you please report to your period A class." With that statement the opening-day assembly of September 10, 1975 ends, and the CLASS OF 1980, THIS YEAR'S FRESHMEN CLASS, embarks upon it's high school journey, a journey which will educate the class's members in the ways of the world. Ahead lies the shoals of science, the hurricanes of history, and the reefs of writing, but the real education comes when a freshman finds that his newly-purchased elevator ticket won't take him to the top of the bell tower or that the cafeteria isn't next door to the metal shop. During the first few days of this new 'education' freshmen learn the first rule of survival at Newport Harbor: "Never trust an upperclassman." The male members of the freshmen class are also learning that sitting next to girls at lunch will not necessarily lead to a terminal case of 'kooties,' even if they do get a little ribbing from their buddies. But the dream of most freshmen is to become a sophomore next year. Then, they can sell elevator tickets to next year's freshmen. A Harbor tradition lives on.

The BELL RINGS, doors fly open, students pour out of buildings, lunch has begun for nearly 3,000 overanxious kids. The hungry masses make a mad dash for the lunchline, each person desperately hoping that he will reach the food before everyone else devours it.

All stand impatiently in partially organized lines dreading that their beloved tacos, cookies, or chocolate milk will be gone before they can grab it. As the hunger grows, people forget their manners and begin to cut in line to get the food.

LUNCH - a time to eat. Right? Yes, but a very incomplete answer. Lunch also is a time for bands, club meetings, bake sales, spirit week, sucker and carnation sales, and the tradition food fights.

Many clubs meet during lunch. Candy sales, field trips, fund raisers and car rallies all are planned and prepared.

Halloween sucker and Valentine's Day carnation sales go during the week of the holiday. For a fee, a sucker or carnation can be sent to any one in the school. A card can be attached with a note.

Smashed together in a V.W. were 23 of Newport Harbors' students. This activity took place on Thursday October 23, during the annual SPIRIT WEEK. The CAR STUFF, as it was called, was a challenge to see how many people could be stuffed in one V.W. The final count was 23 boys in one car and 23 girls in another. This most unusual activity was held in Newport Harbors' quad. The spectators responded to the "car stuff" and thoroughly enjoyed the lunchtime entertainment.

Batman, Jack and Jill, and a cop incognito were among many outstanding costumes worn on Halloween for COSTUME DAY '75.

Outrageous stunts, ridiculous outfits and a continuous "Fellin' for 'Raisin'" swept through the campus.

The highlight of Costume Day '75 was a parade of candidates at lunch in the costume contest.

Other costumes included: Popeye, Superman, African natives and a Ku Klux Klan member complete with cross.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Each lunch period, secret societies assemble in closets across the campus; these are the social and service clubs of Newport Harbor High School. Clubs let students with similar interests become partners in crime; crimes like that cruisin' craziness called car rallies and the dry-towel scrubbing of club car washes. Local dentists attribute a 50% increase in walk-in business to the never-ending Harbor sucker sales, a Newport ritual which probably takes more class time than the administration announcements. Through the money extorted, not earned, from these sales Caldwell's Gringos financed a trip to Mexico and the Chinese Club trucked on up to San Francisco. To get a taste of German culture, the German Club attended the Oktober Fest. To experience the American wildlands, AFS, a student exchange program held a campout for Newport's two European guests. CSF, an academic society, puts aside its slide rules and dictionaries once in a while to go to a play or movie in L.A. And what would a high school be without a Pep Club, the club which distributes the chocolate chip cookies of the campus. Each week this brigade of young lovelies saunters out to give the boys' athletic teams cookies and cheers.

VARSITY

SONG AND CHEER- N-E-W-P-O-R-T, Newport, Newport; oh, let's go!

The Song and Cheer Leaders are in charge of generating spirit and enthusiasm for the boys' sports. The Pep Squads spend many long hours all year round organizing and performing pep rallies, and supplying support for the teams of each sport through routines and cheering. Twenty girls and two boys split themselves between the different sports, but together they plan forthcoming events for spirit raising. Prior to the rush of the football season, the squads attended a summer camp at UCSB. The squads returned with blue ribbons, superior awards, and spirit sticks for enthusiasm!

FILM SOCIETY -Lights, camera, action; and you've got a thrilling motion picture! Well, it's not that simple, but the Film Society was able to get 12 films for their Film Festival. And all were fantastic!

Well, Girls' League surprized everyone, especially the guys when they decided to improve the annual Christmas Dance with a Winter Dance Court of the King and five Princes! Girls' League, not only sponsored a great Christmas Dance, but also a Halloween Sucker Sale and Valentine's Day Carnation Sale.

PEP CLUB-Pep Club speaks for itself; it's purpose is to build the morale and spirit of all athletes. Pep Club members are girls anxious to become cheerleaders. They bake cookies and paint posters for the athletic teams, and support the boys at games by cheering.

KEY CLUB-Plague by low membership, the Key and Keyette Clubs worked jointly in a number of service projects. The major ones included a March of Dimes collection and bussing at a Youth Employment Service benefit dinner.

LATIN CLUB-There is more to Latin Club than E Pluribus Unum. This year's popular fund-raiser was selling Newport Harbor High School coffee and root beer mugs. The club participated in many activities such as devising chariot races and other Roman festivities.

KIWANIS-Trivia, this is the basis of Kiwanis Club. Students are quizzed all year in preparation for the Kiwanis Bowl competition. It's a great way to gain a broad background in anything from sports to history.

SOCIAL SCIENCE-No, this club is not social or scientific, but service orientated. The Social Science Club held car rallies and a dance to raise $500 for the big project-a successful toy drive to help needy kids!

Although the main objective of this class is to learn the spanish language, the club spent all year raising money for an exciting trip to Mexico. But much more exciting than the fund raising was the actual trip itself-to Guadalajara!

BEACON STAFF!

Good-bye, Harbor students!

The graduating Beaconeers hope your high school career will be as happy as our last five years. We hope that next year's staff will follow our precedent of spontaneity, creative talent, fine journalistic ability and outstanding basketball prowess. (Ed. Note: This does not apply to our photography.) The upcoming Beaconeers are already displaying the traditional Beacon knack of wasting time, paper and fifth period (and sometimes sixth or fourth period when they can get away with it.) And that's the way it is, June, 1976.

Good night and good news.

QUOTES FROM PARTING SENIORS:

Jim Ciment:"Like Rip Van Winkle, I wake up from my four year slumber and say, 'Good-bye, Harbor High.'"

Bob Johnson: "Good-bye."

Greg Vaccaro: "Marcie, how do you fill a six inch hole?"

Jeff Perkins: "Good-bye, Beacon, I have to go tend my worms."

Linda Kuhn: "I've known some birds and dogs who can't wait till the Beacon comes out, and even a few people."

Marcie Kirschenbaum: "My page is not O-D'd!"

Jeff Eichen: "Parting is such sweet sorrow. Yeah! Freedom! I'm all shoock up."

We would like to extent our deepest appreciation to Bob and Beverly Walker of Cameo House for their processing and printing of fine photographs, Brad Bauman for his photographs of Old Newport, ADPL for their football photos, and John Dobrott for his help on Homecoming.

Continuing in the footsteps of our predecessors, this year's Galleon staff has once again produced a quality yearbook. Many long hours were put into this creation; ranging from writing copy to seeing what was developing in the darkroom and much, much more. So you see folks, you get the real fruits of our labor-the magnanimous Galleon 1976! Now just kick back and enjoy.

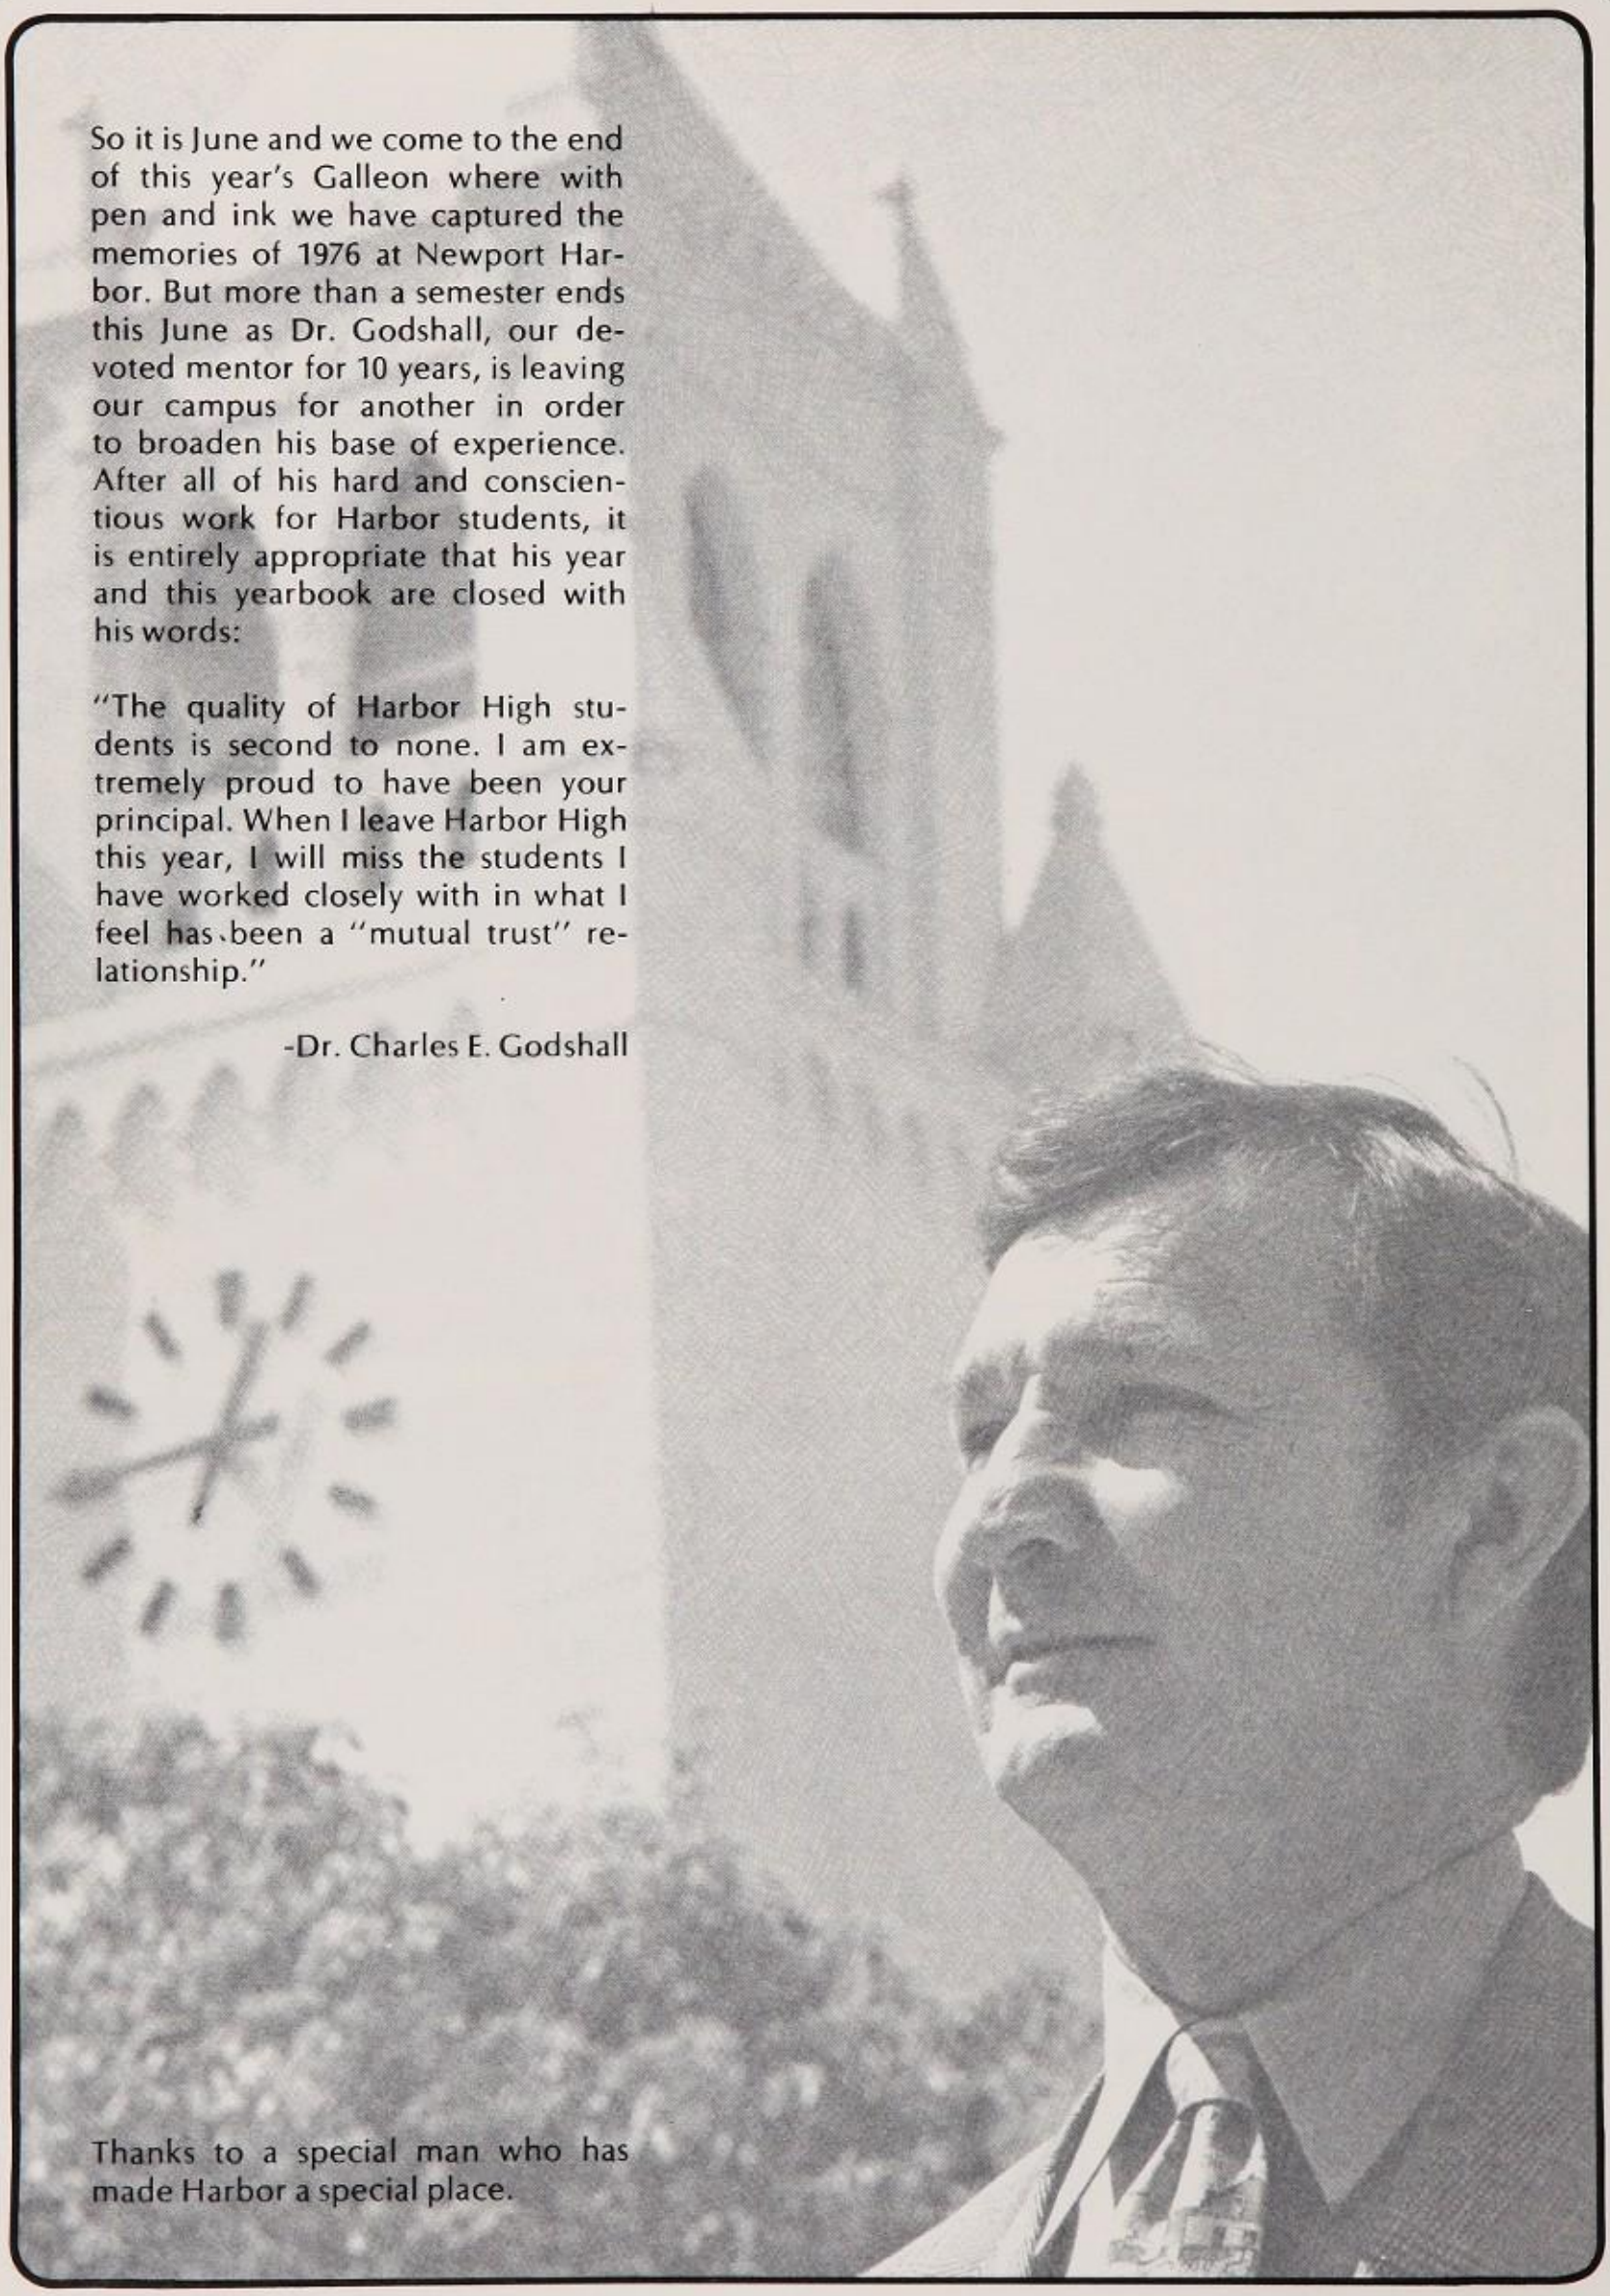
So it is June and we come to the end of this year's Galleon where with pen and ink we have captured the memories of 1976 at Newport Harbor. But more than a semester ends this June as Dr. Godshall, our devoted mentor for 10 years, is leaving our campus for another in order to broaden his base of experience. After all of his hard and conscientious work for Harbor students, it is entirely appropriate that his year and this yearbook are closed with his words:

"The quality of Harbor High students is second to none. I am extremely proud to have been your principal. When I leave Harbor High this year, I will miss the students I have worked closely with in what I feel has been a "mutual trust" relationship."

-Dr. Charles E. Godshall



Thanks to a special man who has made Harbor a special place.
